

WILLAMETTE SHARES BEQUEST WITH PUGET SOUND UNIVERSITY

As a result of a warranty deed executed last week Willamette University and the College of Puget Sound, become joint possessors of thirty-four thousand acres of wheatland in the Horse Haven country near Kennewick, Washington. The property was secured from W. R. Amon, wealthy banker and farmer of the Kennewick country. For the right of ownership both college pay an annuity of $1500 a year for a period of five years, provided both Mr. Amon and his wife live, and $750 a year thereafter until the time their death. Should either die before the five year limit expires, the annuity is automatically cut in two. Should both die before that time, the annuity ceases. Mr. Amon has further given his note that he will leave $5000 to both institutions in his will.

The deal was hit upon by Dean Geo. H. Alden, while he was canvassing the Kennewick district for students last August. He immediately called to the scene A. M. Smith, Portland, Willamette trustee, and President Todd and Trustee E. L. Blaine of the Puget Sound college. The four decided the deal to be favorable and referred the matter to the proper committees concerned. Last week the decision was reached.

The 3440 acres are under dry farming and is listed at $15 an acre. Amon maintains that the land has cost him $25 an acre. Should the irrigation project which has been pending in the Horse Havens country be consummated, as is now proposed, the value of the land will be greatly increased. Part of the land has already been sold and part of it rented. The colleges intend to either sell or rent all of it, and do not contemplate any agricultural efforts.

FORD MANAGER WILL SPEAK HERE TUESDAY

With movies illustrating the building of the Eagle boat and the Ford auto, Manager Stellwagen of the Oregon district of the Ford Motor Company, will speak at a banquet of auto men Tuesday at 7:15 at the Hotel Marion. Mr. Stellwagen will tell of the Ford Motor company's activities during the war, of its production of war materials, and of its rapid return to peace time conditions.

The banquet is being given by the Valley Motor company of this city. Following Mr. Stellwagen's talk there will be an open discussion, during which anyone will be at liberty to ask him any questions of the Ford product or its policy.

BEATING THE GAME

Albany, Or., Oct. 27.—Lincoln county is meeting the sugar shortage in its own way. The scarcity of the product, coupled with the high price, has resulted in the operation of a sorghum mill on the farm of Ernest Haakins, three miles southeast of Lebanon, and several families in the neighborhood have already secured a supply of the substitute for the winter.

Because of the small amount of cane raised in the county the mill is not producing sorghum for the market, but is handling the cane for the growers who bring it in.

TRANSPLANTING OF VITAL GLANDS GIVES NEW LIFE

San Quentin, Cal., Oct. 27.—(United Press.)—"I am a new man. Already I can feel the energy in me, and my ambition has returned."

That statement was made to the United Press today by J.—the old man who 11 days ago was given interstitial glands taken from the body of Tom Bellon, who had been hanged at San Quentin prison.

As J.—spoke, he stretched out his arm and flexed them like an athlete. His eyes sparkled, and there was resonance in his voice.

J.—is still confined to the hospital ward of the prison and he lay on his cot. He has been permitted, however, to take short walks. He repeated time and again that he felt "like a new man."

The prison physicians, Dr. L. L. Stanley and Dr. G. David Kelker, who planted the glands in J.— said there had been a marked change in their patient.

J.—himself said he seemed normal in vigor for the first time in 25 years. He is serving a 60-year term, and since he has once violated his parole there is slight chance that he will be paroled again. He looks on life with a new hope, however.

The controversy as to who first performed the gland implantation operation continues.

Dr. Stanley today received a cablegram from Dr. Serge Voronoff, the Paris doctor, who claims to have originated the operation. The cablegram reads:

"Hear with pleasure of your application of my method. I do grafting by dividing glands into many pieces and putting them in their natural place."

Credit, however, is given by Dr. Stanley to Dr. G. Frank Laidston of

The Master Salesman

(A Tribute to the Daily Newspaper)

The power of the Press exceeds that of mighty armies in full panoply of war.

The Daily Newspaper lights the way for men and nations along the path of progress.

The Newspaper is a greater Educational Institution than all the colleges of Christendom.

Its doors are wide open to every man, woman and child who can read.

The Newspaper is the Bulwark of Liberty, the Flaming Sword of Justice.

It brings wrongdoers, without fear or favor, before the Supreme Court of Public Opinion, from whose verdict there is no appeal.

To an audience more vast than pulpiteers command, the Newspaper proclaims its great evangel—The Brotherhood of Man.

Modern Civilization could not exist without the Daily Newspaper.

Second only in importance to its mission as a Disseminator of News is its work as a Builder of Business.

Its advertising columns are the Display Windows of Merchandise—eagerly scanned, from day to day, in the twenty million American homes.

Newspaper Advertising is the World's Master Salesman.

Great is the Daily Newspaper!

CARL P. JOHNSON.

Chicago for first performing the operation. His report on a successful transplantation of glands was made one month prior to Dr. Voronoff's report, according to medical records.

Voronoff's operation concerns the thyroid interstitial glands of the neck, whereas Laidston, Stanley and Kelker transplant the reproductive interstitial glands.

The prison doctors are receiving a great flood of letter from men and women in all parts of the United States inquiring concerning the operation. Many of the letters ask that the operation be performed on the writer and state money is no object.

The doctors in reply state the operation is still in its experimental stages. They hope, however, to develop it to the stage where glands may be transplanted from goats or apes to humans.

They have a large colony of guinea pigs segregated as to color and will experiment to ascertain whether transplanted glands carry with them any physical characteristics of the donor.

PAY OF PROFESSORS AT OREGON IS RAISED

University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 27.—Faculty salaries were raised at the University of Oregon Saturday by action of the board of regents, who met in special session to consider the question. The board adopted the recommendation of the special committee which suggested that salaries be increased approximately 10 per cent. This increase affects members of the university staff who did not receive increases at the meeting of the board last spring.

The increase was made in recognition of the sharp rise of the cost of living and in conformity with the general upward tendency of salaries in all educational institutions, which in many cases have exceeded 10 per cent. The board found it impossible to make a larger rise at this time without incurring a deficit. It was shown that in general the scale of salaries at the University of Oregon is lower than that of other institutions of similar standard.
