

MASSACHUSETTS GOVERNOR-ELECT EXPLAINS SUCCESS

By Calvin Coolidge (Governor of Massachusetts) (Written for the United Press) Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—For nearly three centuries there has been an unshaken determination on the part of the people of Massachusetts to preserve their liberties by living under the law.

Wherever you touch the fundamental sentiments of her people, whether it be in the cabin or in the Mayflower, drawing up the famous compact, or in their resistance to the unlawful acts of Governor Andros or in the sterner mood, exhibited from the Boston tea party and at Concord bridge, against those who attempted to usurp the authority of the government, but most of all in the constitution of the commonwealth with its noble declaration of rights, adopted while the forces of the revolution were burning most furiously, there you find anew the acknowledgement of the authority of the law and a determination to live by it.

To a people with such traditions, who has been first to respond to the call of President Lincoln for volunteers to maintain the American government, the maintenance of their own government and the authority of their own matters come as a matter of course. The people of the commonwealth without distinction, realized that this was their cause. They knew that the only refuge of the weak and defenseless was in the authority of the law; that the only protection of life and property was in the stability of the government.

There is no prejudice against organized labor, no disposition to oppose it. The humane laws of our state have been enacted with a view to protecting those who toil and represent an expression of public opinion which has not changed and will not change in its desire to promote the welfare and happiness of the wage earners of the commonwealth. When this controversy first started, I stated that Massachusetts was determined to maintain the authority over her public officers where it had been placed by her constitution and her laws. That determination has been exhibited in the election. It means exactly that.

Clinging Gowns Are Scored By Seattle Church Leader

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 6.—Clinging gowns and low-cut bodices came in for severe criticism before the training school of the inter-church movement of North America here today. "The indecent dress of some women in our churches makes it tremendously hard for a young man to keep his thoughts clean and pure," the Rev. R. J. Crowder of Seattle declared. "In public one can hardly tell the difference between a street woman and a church woman."

BANK ROBBED Cushing, Okla., Nov. 6.—The Oklahoma state bank here was robbed of $10,000 early today by two masked men. The cashier, alone in the bank, was locked in the vault.

INCORPORATIONS.

The Medford Pear company, capitalized at $20,000 and with headquarters in Portland, filed articles of incorporation with the corporation department here, Wednesday. The incorporators are Max Lueddemann, S. C. Spencer and H. B. Beckett. Articles were also filed by the Jennings Trimming & Top Shop, Inc., Portland, capitalized at $5000. C. H. Jennings, W. E. Gruenert and Henry S. Westbrook are the incorporators. The Kenwell Telephone company of North Bend, Coos county, filed resolutions of dissolution.

FIRE DAMAGE NEAR $200,000 IN OCTOBER

Twenty-five fires in Oregon outside of Portland, during October, resulted in losses aggregating $189,515, according to a report just issued by A. C. Barber, state insurance commissioner. The destruction of a lumber mill at Mayer involving a loss estimated at $50,000 was the largest fire of the month, the report shows. Eleven of the fires were of unknown origin, two were the result of spontaneous combustion, three resulted from careless use of matches, two were due to the following causes: electric iron, explosion of oil stove, explosion of gasoline, defective flue, oil stove, cigarettes and defective wiring.

State House Briefs.

Notification of his election as a member of the committee on statistics and accounts of the national association of railway and utility commissioners was received this morning by Ed Wright, secretary of the Oregon public service commission. Governor Olcott today named Robert M. Betts of Cornucopia, Baker county, as a delegate to represent the Oregon bureau of mines and geology at the national gold conference in St. Louis, Mo., November 17-21. The conference will be held under the auspices of the American mining congress.

Application has been filed with the state engineer's office by the Jordan Valley Land & Water company for permission to open lands in the Astoria unit to entry. Necessary storage of water has been provided it is stated. It is expected that the application will be approved.

State guarantee of the interest on $300,000 in irrigation bonds was requested of the irrigation securities commission today in an application filed by the Silver Lake irrigation district. The district, which is located in Lake county, embraces 8000 acres. Certification of this bond issue was recently requested and is still pending. Proceeds of this issue will be used in the construction of a reservoir and irrigation system.

Next Tuesday, Armistice day, having been proclaimed a legal holiday in Oregon by Governor Olcott, the schools of the state will all close for the day. Many inquiries are being made as to the effect of the holiday on the schools, according to E. F. Carlton, assistant superintendent of instruction and this information is made public in order to set at rest the minds of both teachers and pupils regarding the observance of the day.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 6.—(United Press)—Mobile occupies the unique position today of having two sets of city officials, each clamoring for office. Mayor Alex Hancock and ten commissioners, who were elected Monday under the enlarged commission bill, were sworn in today. The immediately made formal demands for offices. Mayor Harry Pillians and two commissioners under the old law, refused to vacate, claiming that the bill under which the new officers were elected is unconstitutional. Police officers are on guard at the entrance to the city hall building. Mayor Hancock said he would institute ouster proceedings immediately.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Doesn't hurt at all and costs only a few cents

Magie! Just drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift the corn off with the fingers. Truly! No humbug! Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the discovery or anoted Gaeinnati genius.

DRUG CLERKS STRIKE BUT PROTECT PUBLIC

New York, Nov. 6.—Union drug clerks who struck here today, issued a statement announcing that registered pharmacists will be kept available for filling prescriptions. "Our men will go back to their old jobs or volunteer where needed should an epidemic occur," the statement said. Union leaders claimed more than 3000 men were out but all drug stores remained open. The strikers demand recognition of their union, a minimum wage of $50 weekly for registered men and an eight hour day.

POLITICIANS HAMPER H. C. L. FIGHT, CHARGE

Portland, Or., Nov. 6.—The California politicians prefer to yell 'profiteer' and pass the buck to the legislature and the various law-enforcing bodies to solve living costs," asserts C. C. Hindman, former deputy city attorney, who made a report today to Mayor Baker on the recent western conference of mayors that he attended in Sacramento, October 30, as representative of Mayor Baker. The conference was called by Mayor Brown of Sacramento in an effort to arrive at some conclusion in solving the high cost of living.

DIES ON TRAIN

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Bernie Grandahl, 438 East 56th street, Portland, Or., died on board a Southern Pacific train near here last night while on route from San Bernardino to Portland.

PARSON SCORES HIS FLOCK FOR STINGY ALMS GIVEN CHURCH

New York, Nov. 6.—"The church is starving to death on the crumbs dropped from the tables of its children," the Rev. Duncan M. Genna, rector of St. Thomas church, Brooklyn, said today in an arraignment of the present "money-mad age" and an appeal to banish profiteers from the church. One clergyman of his acquaintance is "covering his nakedness with the discarded clothing of a wealthy parishioner," Genna said. "Pleading for the people of forsake 'luxurious living' brought on by general prosperity, Genna also urged more liberal support of the church by wealthy members. "There are many churches in his diocese," Genna declared, which have millionaires, "who believe their duties end when they give $10—when asked." "The present so-called prosperity is sucking the blood of every one it touches," Genna said. "People are living upon luxuries not necessities."

Yakima, Wash., Nov. 10.—The entire force of 28 firemen who were yesterday discharged by the city commissioners because they had formed a union and affiliated with the American Association of Fire Fighters, found upon leaving their posts that the commissioners had made no preparation to fill their places and rather than leave the city without fire protection the men all returned to work after being absent from their posts for two hours yesterday. They answered two calls last night. They have agreed to remain on duty 24 hours, giving the commissioners an opportunity to try to get non-union firemen. The firemen will go off the job again today noon.

HORTICULTURISTS TURN EYES TOWARD ANNUAL O. A. C. SHOW

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Nov. 6.—With an estimated crowd of 5000 to 7000 persons from all sections of the state to view the displays, the fourth annual horticultural show at the Oregon Agricultural college, November 6 and 7, promises to be the biggest and best event of this kind in the history of the institution. It will open Thursday night and will continue throughout Friday. It will be held in the men's gymnasium and no admission will be charged. Four different sections will be featured in the show—pomology, floriculture, olericulture and horticulture products. Fruits from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Indiana, New Jersey, Washington, California, Oregon, and British Columbia will be on display. Many varieties of apples and pears, as well as oranges, lemons, nuts, and other fruits will be seen, arranged on plates, trays and in boxes. C. I. Lewis, former chief of horticulture here, will judge the pomological exhibit. The flower display will be under the supervision of Professor Peck and his students in landscape gardening. Douglas fir, sword ferns, chinkinpin and chrysanthemums will be used extensively in decorating the gymnasium.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Firemen with difficulty rescued eight little children today when fire destroyed the private orphanage of Stanley Czek. The children ranged in ages from 7 months to 4 years. The building was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived, and the fire fighters risked their lives when they entered.

Be Rid of That "Bad Back"

"Bad Back"

WHY be miserable with a bad back? Get rid of it! You can't be happy when every day brings morning lameness; sharp, shooting pains, and a dull, nagging, ever-present ache. There's surely a reason why you feel so badly. Likely it's weak kidneys. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too--- a weak, tired, depressed feeling, and perhaps some kidney irregularities. Don't wait for gravel, dropsy or serious Bright's disease to set in. Get back your health and keep it. You can't afford to lose time experimenting with an unknown remedy. Try a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They have done wonders in scores of cases right here in Salem for people you either know or can look up. Ask your neighbor!

Salem People Tell How

Mill Street W. C. Johnston, gardener, 1021 Mill street, says: "Taking cold and over-exercising myself brought on kidney trouble. I suffered with pain in the small of my back, right across my kidneys. My back ached at night and in the morning I felt tired and lame. I was languid and nervous, also. Headaches and dizzy spells bothered me, and my sight blurred. The kidney secretions didn't pass often enough, and they contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills greatly relieved me. Over nine years later, Mr. Johnston added: "I couldn't recommend anything equal to Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney disorder and lame back. It has been sometime since I have had any occasion to take a kidney medicine, thanks to Doan's."

Thirteenth Street Mrs. Emily Edwards, 1107 S. Thirteenth St. says: "I couldn't speak too highly in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have never found anything equal to this old, reliable kidney medicine for regulating the kidneys and stopping backache. I am only too glad to tell others who are subject to backache, as I used to be, that Doan's Kidney Pills are very reliable and effective for that trouble."

High Street Joseph Wint, retired blacksmith, 668 High St. says: "My back and kidneys bothered me. My kidneys were disordered and my back seemed to lose strength. A short use of Doan's Kidney Pills soon put me right." Over three years later Mr. Wint said: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills is just the same today as it was when I gave my first endorsement. I haven't had any kidney trouble now for several years, and I give Doan's credit for bringing such lasting results."

Lee Street J. H. Penton, 1405 Lee Street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done me a lot of good in the past and I willingly endorse and recommend them. On several occasions, cold settled in my back in the region of the kidneys, causing a cringing pain through the lower portion of the back and down into the loins. I know from disorders that the kidneys were to blame. Knowing how highly some of our Salem citizens endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills, I started using them, and found them just the thing to rid me of the pains and disorders. A few goes always relieve me of rheumatic pains, so I cannot help but speak highly of Doan's."

NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple-leaf trade-mark and the signature—"JAMES DOAN."
