

STRONGEST LINE MAY BE DETERMINING FACTOR IN OREGON--PULLMAN MIX

Which line is the stronger? Upon the answer to this problem depends the outcome of the University of Oregon-Washington State college game in Portland, Saturday afternoon.

Who will be the winner depends wholly upon the matter of which team presents the better defense and which is the more apt at taking advantage of the breaks of the game. It is probable that two more evenly matched teams never met in the history of football on the Pacific coast and choosing a winner is like stealing melons in the dark--both appear A-1 when sounded, but you can't tell which is the ripest.

The backfields of the two aggressions are nearly on a par. Oregon's veterans having the edge. This, however, is offset by the stone-wall defense and charging power of the Pullman line, which is well demonstrated by the fact that Coach Welch's men have not been scored upon this season, although their only game of importance was the one with the University of California.

Oregon's line, on the other hand, has been its apparent weak spot. Washington, last Saturday, made more yardage between the ends than did the Eugene lads, but the shifty backs of the lemon and yellow were the more consistent ground gainers. The Pullman backs, however, are harder charged and faster at picking holes than the Washington plungers and with a hole-smashing line in front of them will be a serious menace to the Oregon goal line.

The Webfoot line is weak only between the tackles, and the probable absence of "Spike" Leslie from Saturday's game will not improve it. Individually, the men are to be rated high, but Coach Huntington has not developed that strength of unity in his advance guard that he has in the backfield. Aside from Williams and Bartlett, tackles, the Eugene boys will be the lesser experienced from one end of the line to the other and, unless this week's work has done wonders, the Pullmanites will gain more than their share of the yardage without resorting to open football, which must be Oregon's style of play against the northerner's stone-wall line.

A wet field will give Pullman a big shade on the dope.

HANLEY TO BE IN WASHINGTON STATE LINEUP, WELCH STATES

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 6.—Coach Gustav Welch and his state college Cougar, 21 strong, will entrain from Pullman tonight for Portland, where they meet the undefeated Oregon eleven Saturday.

"We are ready and if Oregon can beat us she has the best team," said Welch after final practice Wednesday.

Captain Dick Hanley has recovered from his injuries sufficiently to start the game. The entire squad is in the pink of condition.

The following men will make the trip: Captain D. Hanley, Moran, Gillis, Skadan, Brooks, Hamilton, C. King, Dunlay, Ellwert, Herreid, R. Hanley, McIvor, Durrbacher, Kotuhia, Langdahl, R. Schnebley, B. Schnebley, Trommenhauser, H. Hanley and Hansen.

BOXING

Portland, Or., Nov. 6.—Harry Paul of Denver proved to be a novice at the boxing game and a poor exhibition ended when Billy Massey knocked him out in the eighth canto of their scheduled ten round head liner of the Portland boxing commission's smoker here last night.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 6.—Jimmy Dundee outpointed Battling Vierra last night in the main event of the bouts at the Auditorium.

New York, Nov. 6.—While Joe Beckett, the English champion, was busy sending denials across the pond that he was to meet Jack Dempsey in New Orleans on St. Patrick's day, the champion was hearing the jingle of big coin for another bout.

Johnny Abrams, New Orleans promoter, is quoted as offering Dempsey $75,000 for a bout with Knockout Bill Brennan to be fought before the proposed mill with the Britisher. Another proviso hung the bout on a Brennan victory in his coming fight with Tom McMahon.

New York, Nov. 6.—Jimmy Wilde, world's flyweight champion, is due to arrive here Monday from England. He is to be given a reception and dinner by prominent boxing fans. With his family, the champion plans to tour the United States, returning east in February to open the new home of the International Sporting club with any fighter Matchmaker Tex Rickard selects.

New York, Nov. 6.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, has denied emphatically that he demanded a 140 pound privilege for his decision fight in Tulsa, Okla., with Jimmy Duffy. Billy Gibson, his manager, claims that both boys have agreed to weigh not more than 135 pounds on the afternoon of the fight. The champion has been severely criticized for alleged efforts to boost the weight of the class to his own liking.

Letter Awards Twice During Year Provided

That the athletes of the Wesleyan Institution will not have to wait all summer and one semester in order to wear the earned "W" was decided at the student body meeting Wednesday before the upper classes changed the tablets from Sinal. The amendment, proposed by the "W" club and read to the student body by Loren Fisher, president of the club, asked for a second award day to be held near the beginning of the first semester, so that juniors who won baseball, tennis and track letters might have the privilege of wearing them during their last year in school. Instead of having to wait till the regular mid-year award day which comes in March.

The student body also voted to stage a Thanksgiving jubilee for the students who remain in the city over the holiday. The motion called for a committee of three who will arrange for the mix.

GUNS BOOMING IN TWO OFFENSIVES OF MAJOR LEAGUE WAR

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Nov. 6.—Guns are booming now in two offensives of the major league war.

The American league board of directors centered their fire again on Ban Johnson yesterday by overruling the protest of Frank Navin and declaring the Yankees official winners of three place in the American league race. Resolutions signed by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Charles Comiskey and Harry Frazee demanded that the national commission turn over the New York team's share of the world's series money.

In another sector the guns were turned on Garry Herrmann. The joint committee appointed to name a successor to Herrmann as chairman of the national committee, met and agreed on a new chairman, whom they declined to name publicly.

Following the meeting a request from William F. Baker, William Veckel and Colonel Ruppert, constituting the committee, was directed to John Heydler, National league president for an early meeting to ratify the choice.

Heydler telephoned Johnson in Chicago and was told by the American league president that he would not attend a meeting with any committee of which Ruppert was a member.

By this stand, Johnson blocks the efforts to oust his ally, Herrmann and he brings up an issue which may force the National league powers to take up arms against him with the trio of enemies in his own league.

If Johnson persists in his refusal to meet with a committee not of his own selection, the National league powers may decide to deal with the American league board of directors and act over Ban's head.

Another airing of the American league squabble in court seems probable if the National commission does not turn over the Yankees' third place winnings. Colonel Ruppert, president of the New York club, has announced that he will institute mandamus proceedings to force the payment if the commission does not comply with the request of the directors.
