

AUTO THIEVES COME TO SALEM; GASOLINE STOLEN FROM WELLS

Police here today were aiding in the search for a stolen auto, reported taken in Portland late Sunday night. With the report that the gasoline well of the Marion garage, South Commercial street, had been broken into early this morning and 40 gallons of gasoline taken, it is believed that the thieves passed through this city.

At 12:05 this morning, two young men, driving a big car which corresponds to the one stolen in Portland, stopped at the Willamette Valley Transfer company's garage, and inquired the way to San Francisco. After securing several matches from the man in charge, they drove west on Ferry street and turned past the Marion garage on South Commercial.

The police at Eugene were warned this morning by Chief of Police Varney to be on the lookout for them. Word from Portland police said that the auto had been seen at Chehalis, Wash., at nine o'clock this morning. It is believed that the thieves, learning of the condition of roads south of Salem, turned back past Portland and entered Washington.

2095 APPLY FOR NEW LICENSE TAGS TO DATE

A total of 2095 applications for 1920 automobile license tags had been received at the secretary of state's office up to quitting time this evening. Based on these figures and the experience of former years it is anticipated that upwards of five thousand applications will have been received by the time the drawing for assignment of the first numbers is made November 12, the date this year having been set back a day because of the fact that November 11 is a legal holiday. After the date of the drawing license tags will be issued in the order of the receipt of the application, it was explained by Deputy Secretary of State Koser today.

Of the total applications received up to date 219 have been returned for correction. In this connection Deputy Koser urges upon applicants for licenses greater care in filling out the necessary blanks in order to expedite the work of the registration department. Automobile owners are also urged to present their applications as early as possible so as to avoid congestion in the license department during the closing days of the year.

"Not less than fifty thousand motor vehicle owners will desire to operate their cars continually and will want their licenses by January 1," declares a statement issued by Koser today. "As there are less than fifty working days between now and January 1 an average of over a thousand applications for licenses should be received in the department daily."

MAY TO AID HARGISS IN COACHING AGGIES

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Nov. 10.—Services of Everett May will be accepted for the time before the Oregon game as a result of action taken by the board of control at its meeting Tuesday evening.

May, an O. A. C. star of former years, has written offering his time from now until the game November 15 to assist Coach W. H. Hargiss in whipping into shape a team that O. A. C. fellows will be able to smother Oregon as it did in 1917.

The board also authorized "Jim" Richardson to employ a trainer for the team to serve until the day of the big game.

The budget for the present year was discussed but was not finally acted upon because all estimates were not then in the hands of the board. Final action on the budget will be taken next Tuesday.

TWO MARION COUNTY BOYS ON COMMITTEE

University of Oregon, Eugene, Nov. 10.—Men of the University of Oregon who died in service are to be honored with some sort of a memorial. Just what form that memorial shall take has been left to a committee of students, faculty and regents. The faculty committee, just appointed by President Campbell, consists of W. F. G. Thatcher, professor of rhetoric, chairman; Colvin V. Dymont, executive secretary of the Portland center of the extension division of the university, and professor of Journalism; Professor George R. Turnbull, professor of Journalism; R. W. Prescott, professor of public speaking; Dr. John E. Board, professor of zoology; Ellis F. Lawrence, dean of the school of architecture.

The student committee is made up of Lyle McCroskey, of Salem, chairman; Edwin R. Durno of Silverton, and Miss Ella Bowlings of Corvallis. These two committees will cooperate with a similar committee of the board of regents made up of J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction; Vernon H. Vawter of Medford and Mrs. G. T. Gerlinger of Dallas and members of the alumni association.

These Are The Times That Dry Men's Souls!

THE above picture, from dusty museum archives, is an interesting record of the early joolip-drinkers of 1919. William S. Hart, one of the primitives of this era, is shown engaged in the mystic Rite of the Mint—a form of sacrifice made daily with a short prayer for good luck, as "Bottomsup" or "Happydays," following which the neophyte entered into a state of exaltation and uttered prophecies. The picture was posed by William S. Hart way back on June 30th, just before the great drought. At that time this famous member of a vanished race was engaged in work upon his new Paramount-Artcraft-Thomas H. Ince production, "John Petticoats," in which "Big Bill" has a role of tremendous power.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW AT O.A.C. BIG SUCCESS

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 10.—The horticultural show at the college which brought several thousand visitors from Corvallis and many sections of the state was adjudged an unqualified success. Displays of fruits and vegetables were so attractive that many of those attending predicted a big future for Oregon products from a commercial standpoint. Although the display covered practically the entire floor space in the college gymnasium, it is expected the annual show will become more important and comprehensive each year.

Scores of horticultural students and the faculty of the department of horticulture have been working over time for days in preparing for the exhibit. The display of flowers under the direction of Prof. A. L. Peck was particularly attractive. Vegetable exhibits were planned by Prof. A. G. Bouquet. Prof. W. S. Brown, acting chief of horticulture, is given much credit for the success of the show. Richard Weber, a student in horticulture, was general manager. Working under him were numerous committees.

BASEBALL

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 10.—Babe Ruth pounded three balls over the fence here yesterday, but was credited with only two more home runs.

The big Bostonian belted one over the right field wall of the Oakland grounds in the morning and another off his bat cleared the right field fence of Recreation park in San Francisco in the afternoon. A third hopped over the right field fence of the park and was called a foul, but fans, thinking it was fair, howled at Umpire Hildebrand. The morning battle was a draw, but Ruth's slugging won the afternoon session for Weaver's pets against Harrington's All Stars.

Ruth departs tonight with the victors for Sacramento where they are to play an exhibition game on Tuesday.

FIRE DESTROYS CURIOS

PROMINENT SALEM BOYS HONORED AT O.A.C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 10.—The most important college social function, the Junior Week end, will this year be managed by two prominent Salem men. As a result of an election held by the junior class yesterday Roy "Speck" Keene was elected to manage the week end, and Leo Spitzbart as manager of the Junior prom. ### Quit Meat If Your Kidneys Act Badly

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.
