Increased Navy Pay Requested By Daniels

Washington, Nov. 12.—Increases in the pay of men and officers in the navy ranging from $88.80 to $1000 a year were recommended by Secretary Daniels before the house naval affairs committee today. The higher pay is necessary to prevent a disintegration of the naval establishment through the attraction to more lucrative employment of the best men in the navy, he said.

Daniels opposed a flat percentage increase for either officers or men and asked that the higher pay continue until July 21, 1921.

The increase suggested range from 10 to about 25 per cent over the war pay and would mean an additional expenditure of about $50,000,000.

Schwab Not Worried Over Labor Troubles

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 12.—Declaring he is not worried over the present labor unrest and that he is confident that the radical elements in both capital and labor "will give way," Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate in Pasadena today preparing to take a year's vacation. Schwab says he has not rested for thirty years and feels that 12 months off is coming to him.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 12.—Operatives of the United States department of justice, in the raid on the hall of radicals here last night, discovered a letter, they announced today, which indicates the I. W. W. were pair during the war to distribute German propaganda.

The letter was addressed to H. Helms, a leader of the I. W. W. here, and was signed by "A. I. Berton, secretary German propaganda branch of I. W. W."

The missive refers to a money order enclosed to cover the cost of distributing copies of Der Klassenka, a German paper.

The letter bore the address of the "propaganda branch" as 1901 Madison street, Chicago.

Local government agents say this evidence is the most important ever collected in the United States against the I. W. W. organization.

MAN LYNCHED BY MOB AT CENTRALIA NOT LEADER

was done, were smuggled into the buildings whence came the bullets.

Desultory firing on the members of the Legion followed a terrific crash of glass—apparently a pre-arranged signal. The firing a second later developed into a regular volley.

The windows of the buildings in which the gunmen were stationed had been previously opened. The riflemen were some distance inside, for they couldn't be seen.

The front rank of paraders, was subjected to a galling enfilading fire from three sides.

Simultaneously, a marksman opened fire from Seminary Hill, at least half a mile away. This man, apparently rested his rifle over a stump, and deliberately fired, four 30-30 cartridges later being found at the spot.

The break of dawn showed the dead body of Brick Smith, secretary of the Centralia local of the I. W. W., hanging from a railroad bridge just outside the city limits.

Smith was the victim of an enraged mob of citizens who stormed the city jail, released the prisoner and hanged him last night.

Smith is said to have been the leader of alleged I. W. W. who fired on the American Legion who participated in an Armistice day parade here yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of four former overseas soldiers and the wounding of three others.

The shots which tragically halted the marchers came from the headquarters of the I. W. W. and a building across the street.

Veterans Slain.

Arthur McElfresh, veteran of the world war, dropped dead with a shot through the head.

Warren Grimm, Centralia attorney, commander of the local Legion post and former University of Washington star athlete, fell mortally wounded. He died two hours later. Grimm had been leading a company of men.

Ben Casaroff, a Greek bootblack and veteran of the 31st division, doubled up with the remark "They got me that time," and collapsed, soon dying.

The fourth victim was Dale Hubbard, another former soldier, who died at 11 o'clock last night. Hubbard started after an alleged "red" immediately following the shooting. He was joined by many others and the man was soon surrounded. He did not give himself up, however, until he had fired four shots into Hubbard.

The mob did not entirely disperse until nearly daybreak this morning. Former soldiers assisted the city and county officers in guarding the prisoners.

A mob early in the evening, smashed the front of the I. W. W. headquarters took all of the furniture and literature which was inside and made a bonfire with it.

Nineteen alleged I. W. W. are now in the city jail. Until company F of the Tacoma state militia arrived at midnight it was feared by the officials they would be unable to hold their prisoners, as the mob, which numbered nearly 2000, swarmed about the jail with constant cries of "lynch them!"

Poland Termed "Bulwark" Against World Bolshevism

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—"Poland, the bulwark of civilization and culture, against bolshevism."

This was the message brought by Prince Henry Lubomirski, ambassador of the Polish republic to the United States, attending the all-Polish convention today.

"Poland is grateful to America for the kindly interest and help being given in her behalf," said the prince.
