TIRESOME TALE

There's One Thing That Hasn't Gone Up

Said Mrs. McGuff to Mrs. Van Bright,
As they chatted one day on the Drive,
"I should not be surprised to be some-day advised
Of a tax for just being alive!"
"The Landlord lifted my rent—which was high
As it was for the service they give—
The butcher, baker, the tailor, dressmaker,
Have doubled their rates—as I live,
"I can't understand how you manage, my dear,
To still run an automobile?
Why, the cost of a tire must be frightfully higher—
And they're poorer by quite a good deal!"
Said Mrs. Van Bright, "Oh, I fully agree
That the sharks have us all by the ears,
And it's sad that we must cowerly stand for the lust
And the greed of these bold profiteers."
"But you're wrong, I must say, in one instance, at least:
As to tires, I cannot agree;
Mine cost less than before, while their mileage is more—
They're Kellies, of course—as you see."

New York, Nov. 14. — Edward V. Brophy, warden of Sing Sing prison, has resigned. He was the thirty sixth warden the institution has had in 72 years. Nerve strain and unwillingness to bring up his daughters "in the shadow of the prison" were given by Brophy as reasons for his resignation. He had been warden seven months.

Normal Notes
(Capital Journal Special Service.)

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Monmouth, Or., Nov. 15.—The women of the faculty were entertained at dinner Tuesday evening by Miss Mills and her advanced class in Domestic Science.

The orchestra appeared in chapel Friday morning for the first time this year.

The students of the Normal observed Good English week November 3-8. Early in the week Miss Edna Mingus of the English department, gave a short talk in chapel outlining the origin and purpose of Good English week. Posters and placards were used about the halls to warn the students to beware of "Bad English," lists of common errors were kept by the various instructors, and contests in spelling and pronunciation were held in the English classes.

Mrs. Mary Fletcher, who has been filling Miss McIntosh's place in the training school during the latter's visit in the east, finished her work and returned to her home in Independence on Friday.

Appropos of Good English week the girls from one table at the Dormitory gave an amusing little skit Friday evening just after the dinner hour. In the little playlet "Kid" was killed and his sweetheart "Gum Chewing Liz" pledged allegiance to Good English, renouncing slang forever.

Miss Ida Mae Smith spoke at a local teachers' institute at Forest Grove last Saturday.

Miss McIntosh returned to Monmouth last Friday evening having spent the last four weeks visiting normal schools of the Middle West.

Mr. Gentle has accepted an invitation to speak before the Marion County Teachers' institute on November 24. Mr. Gilmore will appear before the Hood River Institute on November 1 and 2.

The program for Armistice Day, the work of a joint committee from the normal and the Commercial Club of Monmouth, was designed to show in a measure the appreciation felt in the community for the local soldiers in the late war. Perhaps the one feature of the program most enjoyed was the number by the pupils of the training school in which they showed how children helped to win the war. The little boys with their drums and the little girls with knitting bags were mired up the whole matter in a clear most attractive. Horace Butler summed up.

Make Sure Water Supply Is Safe
Water for domestic use should be clear, lustrous, odorless, colorless, wholesome, soft, neither strongly acid nor alkaline, and its temperature for general farm purposes should be about 50 degrees F. These characteristics, however must never be deemed proof of purity, for a glass of water may possess them all and yet contain millions of disease-producing germs. Any suspicious water should be rejected until both the water and the surroundings where it is obtained are passed upon by competent sanitation authority, generally the State Board of Health.

Twenty-two miles a day in an automobile to attend the high school at Prineville has been the record maintained all mail by three members of the Green family.
