Several hours were required to get three cars back on the Oregon Electric tracks Saturday evening, after they had been derailed near the Trade street trestle. As a consequence of the accident, the south bound passenger train was obliged to switch to the front street tracks, until the blockade could be lifted.

At noon today the total receipts of the third Red Cross roll call for Willamette chapter amounted to only $3,776. A few of the outer districts and small town auxiliaries had not yet sent in their reports, but the outlook is, nevertheless, a trifle disheartening to the chapter leaders. Canvassing in Salem has ceased altogether, and the end of the week will probably see the close of the entire roll call.

Future traffic requirements, and what Salem needs in the way of a more thorough traffic law, will be brought forcibly to the attention of business men here when the Business Men's League meets at eight o'clock Wednesday evening at the Commercial club. F. L. Ekward, author of the California state traffic law, and authority on traffic rules, will address the meeting, and explain the needs of Salem in this connection. Plans for the issuance early in December of forms for filing income and excess profits tax returns are being made by the bureau of internal revenue. Taxpayers will thus be given the opportunity of making out their returns immediately upon the closing of their books for the year 1919, when accurate knowledge of their accounts is fresh in their minds.

As a convenience to themselves and as a means of expediting the work of the government, taxpayers are urged by the bureau, in a statement issued today, to avail themselves of this opportunity. The period for filing is from January 1 to March 15, 1920.

If the tax is paid in quarterly installments, one-fourth of the amount must accompany the filing of the return.

Form 1040-A will be used for filing individual income returns of $5000 and less, and form 1040 for filing returns of income in excess of that amount.

The normal rate of tax for 1919, provided for in the revenue act of 1918, is 4 per cent on the first $4000 above the exemptions, and 6 per cent on the remaining next income. The tax for 1918 was 4 and 12 per cent respectively. The surtax rates, which range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5000 and $6000 to 65 per cent on the amount by which the net income exceeds $1,000,000, are the same as for the year 1918. The exemptions of $1,000,000 for single persons and $2,000,000 for married persons and heads of families remain unchanged.

These rates apply to every citizen and resident of the United States. Alien non-residents receiving income from sources within the United States are subject to the full tax of 8 per cent on such income in excess of the exemptions.

Announcement will be made of the date on which the forms will be available at the offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch offices.

Attendance at the Eugene public schools during the past month of October was 322 more than for October of a year ago.
