SALEM LYCEUM DATES OF SEASON ANNOUNCED

The Salem Lyceum management announces the dates for the Lyceum course this winter, which opens Tuesday, December 2, with the Chicago Recital company, a group of nationally known artists. The second number is considered one of the best, being an address by Mark Sullivan, formerly editor of Collier's magazine. The dates for the course follow:

Chicago Recital company, Dec. 2; Mark Sullivan, Dec. 12; Katherine Carol Smith company, Jan. 12; Cecil Fanning, baritone, date still indefinite; Frank S. Regan, Jan. 30; Ricketts Glee club, Feb. 23; Frank Bohn, March 11.

Those persons who have purchased season tickets are requested to copy these dates in the spaces reserved for them on their tickets. The box office will be open on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 2, for those wishing to purchase the limited number left. They may be reserved at the same time without charge. The price of a ticket for the entire season, covering the seven numbers, is two dollars.

BIG GET RICH QUICK GRAFT REVEALED BY BURNS OPERATIVES

New York, Nov. 21.—A new rich-quick graft, numbering scores of big bankers, exporters and steel company officials as victims was revealed heretoday in the indictment and arrest of A. Albert Lautman, masquerading under the name of the "United Press Service"—play upon the name of the United Press Association. This indictment contained two counts: obtaining $250 under false pretenses from the Liberty National bank of New York and attempting to obtain $500 by false pretenses of the Liberty Steel Products company.

The Burns Detective Agency, cooperating with Alfred J. Talley and Moses R. Rytenberg, assistant district attorneys, obtained evidence indicating that in the last six months Lautman got large sums from his victims by trading in the name of the "United Press Association," the telegraph news service general known as the "United Press" or the "U. P." During this time Lautman handled approximately $50,000 through his account in the Guaranty Trust company.

The new scheme is a development of the old "we boys" graft, in which crooks posed as newspapermen and obtained money from prominent citizens for various enterprises which the crooks alleged "we newspaper boys" were conducting.

Thieves operating in the neighborhood of Sheridan entered the farm hophouse of F. W. Heider and carried away 21 bales of the finest grade of hops with a motor truck.

A Teacher of Health and the 3 "R's" Too

Her students are not allowed to fall back in their studies. Under her instruction, while they are in the school, they are kept up with the work of the public grades, so that when they are cured they return to the classes which they left, ready to go on with them.

It is estimated that 12,000 children die every year in the nation from tuberculosis. More open air schools like Miss Beal's are needed, and the National Tuberculosis Association, with 1,000 local and state organizations affiliated with it, is planning to provide them through the sale of more than $6,500,000 worth of Red Cross Christmas Seals this coming Christmas.

MISS ETHEL A. BEAL

On the top of the Detroit, Michigan, Municipal Hospital Building, Miss Ethel A. Beal conducts the Keifer Open Air School, and she is proving every day that tuberculosis can be prevented among children and that the little victims of it can be cured. All of the best methods for fighting tuberculosis are used in the school.

The children study and recite in the open, except when the weather is too stormy. Then two indoor assembly rooms, well ventilated and with windows opened, are utilized. Every morning and afternoon there is a rest period, when Miss Beal serves a glass of milk to each of the pupils.
