

COLONEL WHITE TO SUCCEED STAFRIN IN ADJUTANT'S JOB

Lieutenant Colonel George A. White of Portland is expected to succeed Conrad Stafrin of Dallas as adjutant general of Oregon within the next six months, according to a statement given out by Governor Olcott this morning. An additional six months leave of absence was granted White today by Governor Olcott to allow for the completion of organization work in which he is engaged in behalf of the American Legion. He is expected to return as soon as this work is completed to take over the duties of the adjutant general's office, which may be in six weeks, it was explained.

"Arrangements as to the future of the guard in Oregon are mutually satisfactory between the governor and myself," declared Colonel White this afternoon while in the capital for a conference with Governor Olcott. "It is one of my plans in going east, as I informed the governor, to visit Washington, D. C., make a careful inquiry as to the general status of the national guard and what may be its relationship to the new military policy of the United States now being formulated."

Colonel White was granted a leave of absence as adjutant general in order to serve with the American forces in France. Since returning from France after two years service he has been devoting much time to organization work for the American Legion and it is in order that he might complete this work that a further leave was granted by the governor today. He will leave this week for Indianapolis the new national headquarters of the Legion.

"It always has been understood that Colonel White would be returned to his old position upon his return from France and if he desired to take it," said Governor Olcott, following the conference today. "He also has understood that to be the case. The National Commander of the American Legion, I understand, is extremely anxious that Mr. White give that organization further service in the east and Mr. White wishes to do. I am anxious to see the legion successful in its endeavors and am perfectly willing to loan him to the legion for the time being. Mr. White has been granted a six months' leave of absence. He may return to his old post at any time he desires, when his work is finished in the east."

FIRST RILEY RECITAL TUESDAY IS SUCCESS

Professor Della Crowder-Miller's first Riley recital was well given and enthusiastically received by a large audience in Willamette university chapel last night. All who attended were well pleased with the performance, and an even larger crowd is expected next Thursday evening, when the second program will be given.

The recital is given in connected manner, as a play, last night's program representing the morning of a day among Riley characters. Professor Miller's story of Riley's life, told to her students at the beginning of the program, is very interesting from an educational point of view. Blanche Drake as mother takes the character very well. The children, most of whom are pupils of Orville Crowder-Miller, gave some of Riley's child rhymes with unusual naturalness and expression. Miss Ethelwynne Kelly's sweet rendition of "The Bear Story" was strenuously applauded.

Miss Genevieve Sevy sang Riley's "Lullaby," set to music by Professor Miller, in a pleasing manner. Orville Crowder-Miller as "Jim" gave an excellent portrayal of the "Train miser" and J. Fred McGrew as the lazy farmer boy tickled his audience immensely. Horace Babcock told the story of "Old Doc Sifers" very effectively. Josephine and Beatrice Evans as the two small children helped to perfect a pretty picture of farm life.

The entire club will be thrown open to the cream garbed band that night. A generous dinner will be served in the social department, with business following in the auditorium.

The committee in charge of the banquet is Hal Patton and William McGilchrist, Jr.

PROHIBITION TO BE ENFORCED TO LIMIT OF LAW SAYS KRAMER

Washington, Nov. 24.—Constitutional prohibition will be enforced to the limit of the law, John F. Kramer, new prohibition commissioner, said here at a meeting of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals.

The army of prohibition agents will be completely organized for effective enforcement of the constitutional amendment by the time it becomes effective, he said. Enforcement of war time prohibition is likely to reveal some "wet spots," Kramer admitted, because of an insufficient force of federal agents.

Explaining how prohibition will be enforced, Kramer said: "Responsibility for the enforcement of the law is on the prohibition commissioner, who is responsible to the commissioner of internal revenue. The country is divided into ten districts in each one of which there will be a federal agent. Under each agent will be a force of men. Then in each state there will be a federal director, and under him several inspectors.

"The very first steps will be with the inspectors of the various states. They will keep themselves informed as to conditions in the state. Any violations will be reported to the federal agent who will use his force of agents. One of the duties of the state federal director will be to enlist the services of state officials, and all civic, moral and religious bodies to assist in enforcing the law.

"The highest success will be attained only if the great mass of law abiding citizens make their influence felt. They should stand solidly back of those officials who do their duty under the law."

COMMITTEE NAMED TO WORK ON ROAD SIGNS

To bring the plans for uniform road signs throughout the county to a workable point, the representatives from various county districts, named by the Marion County Community Federation, who met yesterday afternoon in the Commercial club, named a committee of three to accomplish this work. The committee is: George Hubbs, Silverton; County Roadmaster William Culver and L. J. Chapin, of Salem. The committee was instructed to gather data on the signs from all parts of the county and present it for final action of the federation at a future meeting.

UNITED STATES NOT MIXING IN PURELY EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

By Cusi D. Grant
(United Press staff correspondent)
Berlin, Nov. 24.—Even if the American senate eventually ratifies the peace treaty the entente must figure that the United States has assumed a position against mixing in "purely European affairs," Theodore Wolff declared in an article in the Tageblatt today.

The recent refusal of the senate to ratify the Versailles pact "must have convinced the entente that American blood, shed in common with theirs, has not proved a durable cement for every occasion, or that the entente can absolutely count upon America's help in disentangling European chaos," the German editor asserted.

American aid in protecting the "fantastical structure" erected by the peace conference is by no means assured, the writer maintained, declaring that any guarantee of aid the United States may give the allies cannot be depended much on to apply in all cases, particularly where purely European affairs are involved.

Germany should receive the senate's refusal to ratify the treaty "with mixed feelings," Wolff said. It is partly an advantage and partly a disadvantage to her, the writer said, adding the refusal cannot be taken as a "ground for pure joy alone."

RUSSIAN BONDS OF CZAR'S REIGN STILL GOOD SAYS MARTENS

New York, Nov. 26.—Russian bonds sold by the government of the czar in the United States have not been repudiated by the bolshevik regime, Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "soviet ambassador to the United States" told the Lusk legislative investigating committee.

Martens asserted when questioned by Attorney General Charles D. Newton that the soviet government had offered to redeem the $100,000,000 in bonds he said was now outstanding in the United States against the Russian government. The soviet government received permission from the soldiers and workmen's council to repudiate the debts of the former authorities, but had never exercised that privilege.

Coughing at Night Can Be Checked

Bonds amounting to $53,000,000 were floated by the czar's government and $50,000,000 were issued by the Kerensky regime, Martens said. "I approached the National City bank officials to explain that the Russian bonds were still good," said Martens, "but I was never able to get a hearing with any of them."

Martens said he had talked with many persons, however, who "have connection" with the bank and they had asked what the chance was of redeeming the bonds.

NATIONAL DRIVE TO EDUCATE PEOPLE IN CARE OF FEET WAGED

Feeling that the war has taught the advantage of proper foot care, and discovering that improperly developed feet causes a reduction of 50 per cent in efficiency, the Scholl Manufacturing company, Chicago, makers of orthopedic appliances, and authorities on foot care, through 60 agents, are carrying on a nation wide campaign for the betterment of foot conditions. Dr. E. J. Hartung, representative of the company, is in Salem and is making his headquarters at the Price Shoe Store.

Dr. Hartung said today that there is a general inclination on the part of the more comfortable shoes. The army last of 'shoes, he said, is being more generally used among men than any other shoe. Women, too, Dr. Hartung asserted, are paying least attention to styles and are wearing shoes that permit of proper foot development.

The Scholl method, he said, tends to better foot conditions without sacrificing style, and is meeting with success in all parts of the United States.

During the war the method was largely used in army camps.

In the Price Shoe Store there are four graduates of the American School of Podiatry, Ray A. Fasching, Earl E. McDonough, B. H. Wagner and W. F. Bariges, who are co-operating with Dr. Hartung in uring better foot care in Salem.

Dr. Hartung declared that half of the rheumatism in the country is caused by foot trouble, and that 75 per cent of foot trouble is caused by ill-fitting shoes. The Scholl method, he said, is in the field to battle this condition. With this aim in view lectures on better foot care are being made in all parts of the country, and Dr. Hartung probably will talk before the schools here next week.

HOME SERVICE LAYS PLANS TO GET WORK FOR MEN OUT OF JOBS

With the reports that jobs are too few in the city for applicants a plan of establishing some kind of work to accommodate unemployed is being considered by the Home Service bureau of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the American Legion, the Commercial club and the municipal labor bureau. At a meeting last night attended by City Recorder Race, Mrs. Alice H. Doid, Esq. George E. Hunter, Dr. B. F. Found, T. E. McCrookley, representing the above named affiliations, several plans were discussed and decision reached to take final action on some one plan at a meeting called for next Tuesday evening at the Commercial club office.

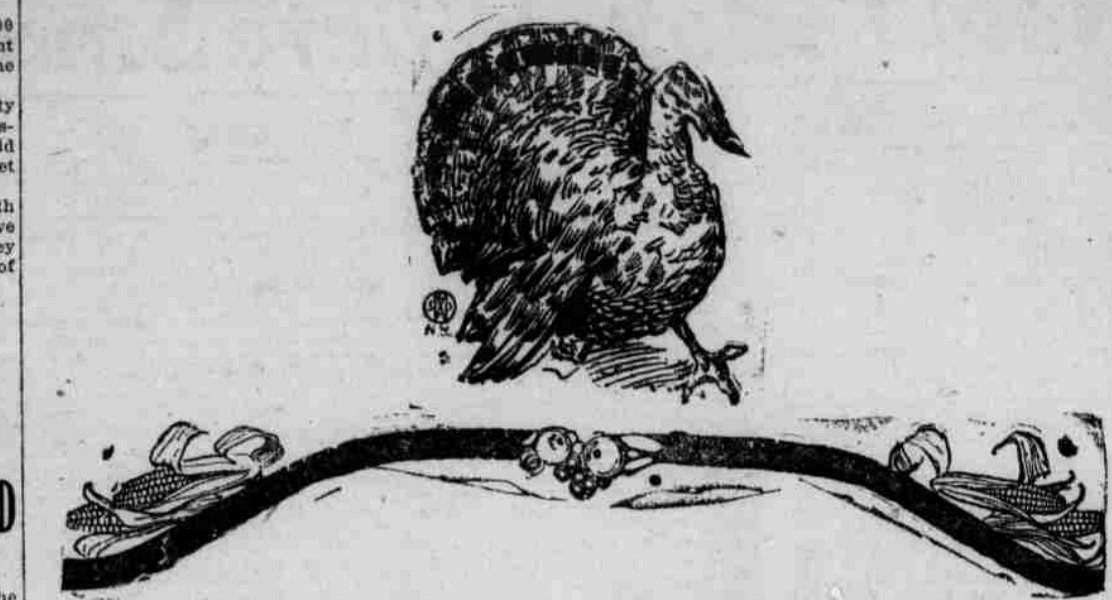

It was tentatively proposed last night to create a community wood yard where transients or unemployed would be given a chance to work for meals and lodging. Ensign Hunter said that he would furnish beds for those working at such a place.
