

OREGON'S BUDGET OF CHRISTMAS SEALS PLACED AT $44,260

President Wilson has endorsed the 1919 sale of Christmas seals having written Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis association the following letter: "Allow me to express again my deep interest in the work of the National Tuberculosis association. I am very much interested to learn of the effort of the association to raise the sum of six and one-half million dollars that the state budgets may be financed for the coming year, and write to wish this very best success to the effort."

Governor Olcott has given his endorsement of the seal sale in Oregon, having written A. L. Mills, president of the Oregon Tuberculosis association that he was willing to serve on a special Governors committee.

In every section of the state the seal sale is opening with an enthusiasm and a generosity that promises success. The entire state is well organized and from the tiniest community and most obscure rural school to the largest city and leading colleges, the gay little Christmas stickers will be offered for sale from now until December 20. For larger subscribers, who do not care to use all the seals, Health Bonds in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 have been issued, each one bearing 12 coupons representing the work of the Tuberculosis association for the 12 months of the year.

Oregon's budget is $44,260. The thing that has struck a responsive chord in the hearts of loyal Oregonians is the fact that this money is to be spent in building up the health of the state of Oregon. During the past year the expenditure of the Oregon Tuberculosis association included the salary and traveling expenses of a field nurse, the salary and traveling expenses of one nurse who gives her entire time to follow-up care of 641 discharged tuberculosis soldiers and rejected civilians; salaries and expenses of four public school nurses making demonstrations of county public health nursing; salary of nurse and matron at Open Air school; cost of food at Open Air school; cost of summer course in public health nursing at University of Oregon; pledged $500 to public health program in national division of the University of Oregon; cost of supplies of Modern Health Crusade literature, poster exhibits, bulletins, slides, relief of patients; cost of special county surveys; and legislative campaigns.

THRIFT STAMP SALE TO CONTINUE 1920

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 1.—Definite announcement that the government will continue the sale of Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings certificates during 1920 received here today from the Treasury department by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan organization of the Twelfth Federal reserve district.

"I know that this will be pleasing, not only to hundreds of able Americans, who, recognizing the value of the government's thrift work, have given of their time and ability in furthering it," said Farnsworth, "but it will be equally as well received by those who have taken advantage of the exceptional opportunity of saving offered by the government through the Thrift and War Savings stamp and Treasury Savings certificate. To the educators of the west, too, who have adopted the government's thrift program in the schools as a valuable factor in habit forming education, I am sure that this guarantee of the permanency of the War Savings movement will be gratifying."

In making the announcement, William Malher Lewis, director of the savings division of the treasury department, said, "The Savings movement is to be continued throughout 1920. The 1920 issue of Thrift and War Savings stamps and Treasury certificates will be on sale January 1st. Monthly sales for 1919 have been showing a steady and wholesome increase, while the progress of the thrift movement in the schools and industrial organizations and generally has been gratifying. We are off to a flying start for 1920 which promises to be a banner year for the savings movement."

Italian Socialists Demand End Of D'Annunzio's Acts

Rome, Nov. 28.—Socialist deputies meeting at Milan passed a resolution demanding the government act energetically to suppress Gabriele D'Annunzio's activities at Fiume and along the Dalmatian coast, according to a dispatch today.

The socialists also demanded the government enforce a stringent blockade to curb the port.

Mrs. E. B. McFarland, a resident of The Dalles since 1865, died in that city a few days ago. Mrs. McFarland's father was the late Captain Labin Coffin, one of the oldest sea captains on the Pacific coast.

STATE TEACHERS CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN PORTLAND

The Oregon State Teachers' association will meet in Portland December 29, 30, 31. This will undoubtedly be the largest and most important teachers' convention ever held in this state.

Already the number of teachers who have enrolled and paid their fees far exceeds that of any previous year. Delegates from every county and from every local teachers' organization in the state will attend the business meetings of the representative council. This meeting as well as all the other sessions is open to all teachers in the state.

President A. C. Hampton, city superintendent of La Grande is preparing a most interesting program and expects to secure for the general sessions two speakers from outside of the state. One of these will be Mr. H. B. Wilson, city superintendent of Berkeley, California. Mr. Wilson has held important positions in Kansas and Indiana and is the author of a number of well known educational works.

In addition to the meeting of the representative council and the general sessions each of the following departments will have a well prepared program: City superintendents, Higher education, Secondary schools, History, Modern language, Foreign language, Council of English teachers, Elementary schools, Rural schools, Vocational education, Music, Industrial club work, Librarians and physical training.

SLAYER GETS LIFE SENTENCE: Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 29.—M. P. McDonald, who admitted slaying his young wife when he met her alone on a downtown street October 9, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin by Superior Judge Willis McDonald had said he was perfectly willing to hang.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make a heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should com-
