

CLASH OF PENN AND OREGON WOULD PUT INTEREST IN GAME

Should the University of Oregon and Pennsylvania State college eleven be the selections of the Tournament of Roses committee of the New Year's day football classic between the east and the west at Pasadena, the contest will hold more than the usual interest for followers of the gridiron sport in this section of the country. It would mean a clash between teams playing the same style of football and a battle between old friends.

All this because Penn State boasts its coach no other than Hugo Bezdek, former Oregon coach and mentor of the famous lemon-yellow eleven of 1916 which, after capturing the Pacific coast championship, defeated the University of Pennsylvania at Pasadena. Bezdek has made an enviable record at Penn State this year and the defeat of Pittsburgh, rated among the strongest of eastern eleven, by his lads on Thanksgiving day puts them in the running as one of the teams most likely to represent the east. Harvard has also been mentioned as being in the minds of the committee members at Pasadena, but reports from the Atlantic seaboard cities indicate that the critics in that section consider the Cambridge eleven as among the second class aggregations.

Harvard's reluctance to risk its scalp outside of the "Big Three" circle, except in practice games, also points to the belief that they would not consider a western trip. The defeat of Syracuse by the University of Nebraska and the refusal of the Nebraska school to consider a trip to the coast, eliminates practically all of the eastern teams of note with the exception of Penn State.

Bezdek's old style of play still predominates at Oregon to a large extent because the present Oregon mentor, "Shy" Huntington, is a Bezdek student and the stars of the lemon-yellow eleven also appeared first on college gridirons under that same general.

Despite the claims of the University of Washington to the coast championship and the right to represent the west at the Tournament of Roses, Oregon's claim to the title appears to be the better founded and the selection of the Eugene warriors is confidently expected by the majority of football authorities on the western slope.

In reckoning the relative standings of Oregon and Washington only conference games can be taken into consideration. On that basis each team has won two games and lost one and their percentage is, therefore, the same. But Oregon won a clean-cut 21 to 13 victory over Washington—so clean-cut that the Seattle sport writers credited the Eugene lads with winning by superior football. That victory alone entitles Huntington's crew to honor as the best team on the coast and it is entirely likely that the Pasadena officials will so decide. The fact that Washington has never been one of the teams to represent the west in the New Year battle, while Oregon has, is about the only excuse that could be given for Washington's selection.

HARVARD INVITED TO BATTLE AT PASADENA

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 1.—An official invitation to represent the east in the east-west football game here New Year's day has been forwarded to Harvard University athletic authorities, it was announced by the committee in charge today.

This was done despite unofficial word from Cambridge that the Harvard team would be unable to make the trip.

Choice of the western representative now seems to lie between Washington and Oregon.

BOXING

London, Dec. 1.—Joe Beckett and Georges Carpentier, who are to fight twenty rounds here Thursday night for the heavyweight championship of Europe and the right to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's crown, have ceased strenuous training. Only light exercise to keep them in trim will be carried out in the coming days before the fight. Beckett continues to be the favorite. He will have between 15 and 17 pounds weight advantage over the Frenchman when they enter the ring at Coburg stadium.

Whispered rumors that Carpentier is over trained have not caused any increase in the odds on the Britisher.

With the exception of a few for $125, every seat in the stadium has been sold. The house will run close to $100,000.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Jack Burke, Chicago heavyweight, who won the championship of the army in the United States during the war and Bob Martin, A. E. F. champion, will settle the service championship at Akron, Ohio, in January.

Announcement was made here today by Larny Lichtenstein, Burke's manager, that the bout would be staged the first of the year.

CYCLISTS START ON SIX-DAY RACE TODAY

New York, Dec. 1.—Fifteen teams are whirling around the board track of Madison Square Garden in the six day bicycle race.

The "bikers" started their long grind at one minute after last midnight. Oscar Egg, Swiss rider and Charpen of the Boston team, set the pace at the start. The first sprints for points started at 2:30 a. m. The first brush went to Guillet of the American team with Chapman second and Drobach third. Madden won the second sprint with Eaton second and Hill third.

At the tenth hour the teams were tied at 250 miles and eight laps, with Marcel Buyse of the Belgian team leading. The tenth hour record is 235 miles, eight laps, made by Mitten and Gedell in 1914.

Berlin.—(By mail)—Dancing and what goes with it—that is, the wine and the light and the music—costs Germany to 900,000 marks a month according to estimates of the Neue Berliner Zeitung. Berlin alone has more than 500 dance halls, to say nothing of the so-called "dance bars."

SPORT WRITERS OF NORTHWEST SELECT MYTHICAL ELEVEN

Selection of a mythical eleven from the football teams of the conference colleges on the Pacific coast, embracing all of the stars, at this time of the year has become an annual pastime with the sport writers and the selections this year are especially interesting because of the established fact that the coast teams of the season just closed have found their backbone of strength in individual players and team-work has been a secondary matter in the various games.

In naming its selections for the all-star aggregation, The Capital Journal has picked men for each position who have been playing that position during the year with one exception; it places Hollis Huntington, Oregon's full back, at half. Under the Oregon system of play there is nothing to distinguish a halfback from the fullback—they are all halves—and Huntington has proven himself one of the most valuable backs in the conference on the offensive, while his defensive work has been equal to that of any.

The Journal's selections are:

Ends—Hubbard, O. A. C.; Faulk, Washington.

Tackles—Bartlett, Oregon; Herreid, W. S. C.

Guards—Majors, California; Ellwart, W. S. C.

Quarterback—Steers, Oregon.

Halves—Huntington, Oregon; Gillis, W. S. C.

Fullback—Powell, O. A. C.

The mythical teams chosen by other sport writers of the northwest are as follows:

George Bertz, sport editor of the Oregon Journal:

Center—Dunlap, W. S. C.

Right guard—Ellwart, W. S. C.

Right tackle—Bartlett, Oregon.

Right end—Faulk, Washington.

Quarterback—Steers, Oregon.

Left half—Gillis, W. S. C.

Fullback—Powell, O. A. C.

Harry M. Grayson, sporting editor of the Oregonian:

Ends—"Cack" Hubbard, O. A. C.; Roy Hanley, W. S. C.; Ted Faulk, Washington.

Tackles—Kenneth Bartlett, Oregon.

"Swede" Brooks, W. S. C.; Bill Grimm, Washington.

Man Murdered Near Tampico May Be Native Of Lebanon

Lebanon, Or., Dec. 1.—William Wallace, who is reported to have been murdered by Mexicans near Tampico, Mexico, Friday, is thought to be William E. Wallace, son of S. O. Wallace of this city. He was reared near Lebanon and when a young man, about 25 years ago, went to Arizona and later to Mexico, where he had heavy mining and smelter interests at Cananea. The bandits had been so thick in that part of Mexico the last few years that he was driven out and when he last wrote to his father he was at El Paso, Tex. This was last May and he said he expected to go south soon. He has not been heard from since and his parents here said they did not know where he has been for the last few months.

Mr. Wallace was 49 years of age and unmarried. His father is inclined to believe that the man murdered is not his son, for the reason that his son had been largely engaged in mining and the smelter business and, so far as he knows, had not been connected with any oil interests in the south.

A postoffice has been established at Bridge Creek in Marion county with Edward Truett as postmaster.

Ford Owners Attention

Beginning Monday, December 1st, we will open our garage at 260 North High street at 7 a. m. and CLOSE at 6 p. m.

This action is taken in line with the Ford Motor Co's plan of sales and service. The personal comfort of our employees is considered as important to both our patrons and ourselves. Men do not like to work on the night shift. It is particularly important in the present shortage of skilled labor.

If our patrons will anticipate their wants and still have their work done in daylight hours, it will make for better work and more efficient service.

We are counting on your hearty co-operation, bearing in mind the help you have rendered us in the past.
