

Need For Salvation Army Home In Salem Shown By Pitiful Case of Elderly Man

Wandering lonely, dejected through the streets downtown shortly after midnight was an old man—65 or more. He peered into the semi-lighted shop windows, wandered through the alleys, then out again into the cold, bleak wind. He had no home, no place to sleep.

Patrolman White brought him to police station. He was given a bed for the night.

This morning the bars were opened, and he was permitted to go on his way. He stopped at the desk sergeant's chair. His cap was handed him with the contents of his pockets that had been removed when he was placed in jail.

The old man's hand shook as he placed the few articles—an old towel, several scraps of paper, medicine ads, and three small coins in his pockets. "An awful way to live," his note was tragic, and he laughed to conceal the emotion in his voice "twenty five cents."

Tears loomed in his only eye. An empty socket marked the place where once youth beamed in his gray eyes. The story he told was pathetic.

Many years, he said, he had tramped through the sunbaked and snow covered mountains around Colorado Springs. There were times when fortune smiled upon him. Prospecting

McNARY LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON AGAIN

Senator Charles L. McNary, after a visit here with friends and relatives, left this morning at 9:45 for the national capital. He is due to arrive there Monday morning at 10:30, and will immediately enter the senate chambers and renew his fight for the peace treaty.

Before departing this morning, Senator McNary expressed his appreciation of the growth of Salem during his absence, and said that he felt sure that a great future lies ahead for his home city. He did not comment on the treaty or other national affairs seemingly absorbed with the work that lies ahead for him.

CONGRESS IS BUSY UPON REQUESTS OF

Pointexter has a similar bill, aimed at disloyal organizations. Several "Americanization" bills are before the senate labor committee.

High Cost of Living. Bills to regulate cold storage, packers' interstate distribution of food and extending the Lever food control act are pending before agricultural committee of both houses. There is much opposition to all these measures. A special senate committee, headed by Townsend, Michigan, appointed last session to map out suitable legislation, has never reported.

Taxes and Tariff. Simplification of income and profits taxes as Wilson urged is necessary. Representative Mondell, majority leader of the house agreed today. He and members of the ways and means committee, as well as members of the finance committee, are opposed to any general taxation or tariff revision now.

A hard fight apparently is coming on the recommendation for special tariffs on dyes and chemicals.

Repeal of the luxury taxes, much talked of last session, appears unlikely. Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, has expressed the view that tax and tariff revision when they come should be thorough and not accomplished piecemeal.

Soldiers' Aid. Republican Leader, Mondell expressed gratification at Wilson's support of his measure to enable soldiers to get land. The bill has been favorably reported by the house public lands committee.

Restoration of Peace. Repeal of war legislation is discussed, but no immediate action upon the treaty or upon the Lodge resolution declaring peace seems likely. Representative Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, today declared the Lodge resolution in its present form cannot pass the house. Senate leaders wished the house to act on it first.

Seriousness Of Shortage Of Coal Intensified By Cold

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Below zero weather, which prevailed throughout a large part of the middle west, today brought home the seriousness of the coal shortage. Promised relief from eastern hard coal mines has failed to arrive. T. W. Proctor, chairman of the regional coal committee, stated. Only 8000 cars of coal were available for 40,000,000 persons in the Chicago region during the last two weeks.

Seventy-five per cent of the industries of the Chicago district will close down Saturday. Proctor said, throwing 200,000 people out of work.

SEATS FOR BECKETT-CARPENTIER GO SOLD

London, Dec. 3.—Nothing remains now but to watch the clock run around and then file in for the big mill.

Everything is set for the Beckett-Carpentier fight tomorrow night. The two heavies, champions of Britain and France, are ready. The house is sold out.

Carpentier has plenty of backing. Confidence of the Britishers that Beckett will win remains unabated, but it is singular that they will offer nothing better than 5 to 4.

A report that 300 standing room tickets were available at $25 each brought a crowd of Frenchmen pell mell across the channel yesterday, but they were disappointed in finding the "sold out" sign in front of Promoter Cochran's office.

A proposed constitutional amendment extending the highway indebtedness limitation from 2 to 4 per cent will be filed in the office of the secretary of state next week.
