

WILLAMETTE GIRLS INVITED TO DEBATE CONFERENCE TEAMS

Willamette University has been invited to enter a triangular debate for women with Oregon Agricultural College and University of Oregon, according to an announcement by J. Fred McGrew, manager of forensics. An association will be formed and plans drawn up with a view to making this an annual affair.

This invitation comes as a recognition of the place Willamette holds in forensics. Willamette's women orators have been taking the honors against the best in the state in recent years, notably Miss Garrison, who took first place in both the state and Pacific Coast contests, and will represent this district in the national prohibition contest this winter.

Mr. McGrew made several other announcements which indicate that Willamette is to have her biggest year in oratory and debate this year. Arrangements have been made for debates with Pacific College and College of Puget Sound. There will be two triangular debates with McMinnville College and Pacific University. The question for these debates will be selected by agreement between the three schools, and will be announced in a few days. Willamette favors a question dealing with the League of Nations.

Mr. Elmo S. White, a prominent Salem attorney, has offered a handsome cup as a prize for the winning class in the series of inter-class debates to be held soon. These debates will be held before the tryout for the varsity debating teams, and the subject will be the same, so that they will produce material for the inter-collegiate teams.

In addition to the usual oratorical contest in which the choice of subject is optional, and which will serve as a try-out for the State Oratorical Contest to be held in the spring, Mr. McGrew announced that a contest will be held for orations on the subject of Peace, similar to many that have been held in the past, with a prize of $10 for first and $5 for second place.

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling, just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally."

not able to meet the publishers needs. The crisis can be met only by voluntary self-denial—unless it be allowed to develop until the weaker publishers go under. The Tribune is in a fortunate situation because it manufactures its own paper. But it believes it would be a national misfortune if newspaper or other publications of merit were victimized by this abnormal condition, perhaps even to the extent of being forced out of existence.

The Tribune believes, therefore, that the stronger publications should forego their advantage to a reasonable extent and enter into an agreement to curtail the consumption of newspaper paper. The agreement must be general and advertisements should give public spirited help by assenting to restrictions of space.

The Tribune would be glad to lead the movement for restriction, but has gone as far as it feels it is reasonable that it should go until a general agreement is put in force. It stands ready, however, to join in a general movement to bring consumption down to the level of supply and thus save a situation which must soon prove disastrous to many publications and a public misfortune.

NEWSPAPERS FACE SERIOUS CRISIS AS SHORTAGE RESULT

(From the Chicago Tribune)

The newspaper supply is rapidly approaching a stage which will be fatal to many newspapers. The present normal demand is perhaps 25 per cent greater than the supply, and prices are on a famine basis and going higher. At present rates of advertising it is impossible for most newspapers to make money.

If this situation were the result of manipulation or monopoly, it might be dealt with by the usual legal measures, though prosecution and legislation are disappointing in results.

In fact, the present situation is the result of shortsighted attempts in the past to restrict the price of paper, which has kept capital out of manufacture, so that the industry now is
