

FATAL ACCIDENTS IN OREGON TOTAL ONLY 11 DURING NOVEMBER

A total of 1745 accidents, of which 11 were fatal, were reported to the state industrial accident commission during November, according to the monthly report of the commission just out. With a total of 1339 claims disposed of during the month, or 644 in excess of the claims received, there were only 766 claims left in the course of adjustment at the end of November as compared to a total of 2633 claims clamoring for attention at the end of September just before the installation of the present system for speeding up compensation, inaugurated by Commissioner Will T. Kirk.

In the two months during which the new system has been in operation the number of claims pending have been reduced by 1237 over the number of claims received in the same period. The new system assures the prompt dispatch of all claims for injuries presented to the commission and will prevent any accumulation of claims as was experienced in the past. Receipts for the month totalled $215,956.58 with disbursements aggregating $153,482.89.

CARPENTIER LAYS OUT BRITISH FIST IDOL FIRST ROUND

By Webb Miller
London, Dec. 5.—Her hope blasted, her national pride badly jolted, London still was rather dazed today. But they could hardly believe their idol was a broken idol. Joe Beckett, the fighter they had trusted with the mission of bringing the world's championship to England, had unceremoniously been shoved back into nowhere. Hundreds of Americans and hundreds of Frenchmen who had crossed the channel to see their polli defend his crown, were still recounting vividly as much as they remembered of that French panther's activity during the 74 seconds of that first round. Verbal pictures were held up to the Londoners of the mighty hulk of Beckett sprawled face downward trying to get his legs and arms out of the coma into which they had been knocked by the wild right of the French aviator. Beckett still does not know what hit him. "I hadn't started to fight when I got it. I didn't realize what happened," Beckett said today in explaining the attempt he made to get away from his seconds and go after the Frenchman when he had been revived. Manager Mortimer, who had planned a match with Jack Dempsey for the world's championship, said: "Carpentier made good one chance in a million; that's all he had." Beckett's followers blame him for walking into a trap like a child. Carpentier feinted low with his left and the big hulky Englishman let his defense drop. The Frenchman then shot a terrific right that seemed to start from his knee. It connected flush on his opponent's jaw with a crash and Beckett went down. Opinion agrees that it was a fast working brain with a perfect coordination of the fists that won for Carpentier.

Clanton And Shoemaker Not Eligible For Benefits

Should the state fish and game commission elect to come within the provisions of the workmen's compensation act, neither R. E. Clanton, master fish warden, nor Carl D. Shoemaker, game warden, would be eligible to any compensation under the act in the event of injury, according to an opinion prepared for the state industrial accident commission by J. A. Benjamin, assistant attorney general. Both Shoemaker and Clanton are recognized as state officials, according to the opinion, which holds, however, that Wm. L. Finley, state biologist, being an employe of the commission would be entitled to compensation.

Mineola, L. L., Dec. 5.—Lieutenant E. W. Maynard, the flying parson left here shortly after 10 a. m. today in a DeHavilland airplane for Savannah, Ga., where he will address the Southern Commercial Congress on Sunday afternoon. Maynard was accompanied by Sergeant William E. Klein, his mechanic. "Tixie," the dog that accompanied him on his recent trans-continental flight, evidenced a dislike for the cold weather and refused to leave the house for the trip. Maynard will attempt to make the 900 miles in three "hops." He hopes to reach Winston-Salem, N. C. before night and make his next stop at Columbia, S. C., arriving at Savannah tomorrow night.

Indictments In Newberry Case Include Democrat

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 5.—Indictments in the Newberry case are not confined exclusively to republicans. This was learned today following announcement that James W. Helms, of Adrian, former state drug and food commissioner, who was a democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination in Michigan last year, opposing Henry Ford, had been ordered into court. It is charged Helms and others conspired to weaken the position of Ford among the democrats and make the way easier for Newberry, republican candidate. Helms is charged with having accepted compensation for entering the campaign.

Berkman And Emma Goldman Await Deportation Today

New York, Dec. 5.—Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchist leaders, arriving at Ellis Island today to await deportation to Russia, gave out "farewell statements" in which they declared they would return soon to "soviet America." Miss Goldman explained that she and Berkman expected to exchange professors in teaching sovietism here. The first subscription received for the war savings quota of Lane county was from Professor F. L. Parker, formerly of the University of Oregon, but now with the Pien Yang university of Tien Tsin, China.

A total of 1262 convicts have been paroled since 1911 when the parole law was passed, the report shows.

"Mother and myself, taking the advice of some kind friends, are taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for bad stomach and liver trouble and bloating. The medicine is rightly and wisely named 'Wonderful,' for such it is. It has certainly done wonders for us both." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry and druggists everywhere. (Adv)

BOARD MUST CONSENT TO SALE OR TELL WHY

The state board of control must comply with the request of the state highway commission for the sale of another $1,000,000 of bonds under the Bean-Barrett act of 1917 or appear in circuit court December 22 at 1 o'clock

This is a list of an alternative writ of mandamus issued by Chief Justice McBride of the Oregon supreme court Thursday following the filing of a petition for a writ of mandamus by J. M. Devera, representing the state highway commission, in an effort to test out the extent to which the state board of control can go under the Bean-Barrett act in meeting federal appropriations for post roads and forest projects within the state.
