

CLASH OF HARVARD AND OREGON TO BE DOUBLE TEST GAME

Eastern and western football are to clash in a double test in the Tournament of Roses contest at Pasadena on New Year's day. For not only will the game decide the relative strength of the football teams in the two sections of the country, but it will also go a long way toward sustaining or refuting the practice of such critics as Walter Camp, and other authorities of the gridiron game, in selecting their all-star teams from the eleven east of the Mississippi.

The big interest in the game is, of course, excited by the fact that it is one which will give the winner a claim to the championship of the country, but many followers are going to watch closely the performance of two individual players, "Bill" Steers, the beefy field general of the Oregon aggregation, and Eddie Casey, star halfback and chief kicker for the crimson. Both were named by Camp in selecting his mythical all-American eleven; Casey for the first team and Steers for the third.

In the judgment of critics who view these two men in action New Year's, the mighty Camp's reputation is apt to suffer. The opinion is prevalent that Steers is equal to any in the country in the matter of kicking ability.

On the outcome of the game dependers are remaining discretely quiet, beyond venturing that the contest is to be hard fought. Harvard, with weight and experience massed in its line, is generally conceded to have the advantage there, but the speed and weight of the Oregon backfield is expected to offset this handicap. From all reports it is to be judged that the style of play of the two teams will be largely the same. Harvard is playing a strictly open game this year and on a dry field it is to be expected that the fast Oregon backfield will resort to the same tactics, using the short forward pass frequently.

Neither of the two squads will be able to do a great deal of preliminary training or scrimmage work previous to their arrival in the southern city, due to the snow and Oregon, which leaves for the south the latter part of this week will have a slight advantage of a longer training spell. Harvard does not leave the east until the middle of next week and will be several days en route without opportunity for workouts.

Cudahy Urges Market Basket To Beat H.C.L.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—The "old-fashioned market basket and the occasional use of corned beef and cabbage" were advocated as solutions for the high cost of living by Edward A. Cudahy, president of the Cudahy Packing company, in his annual report to stockholders.

"The facts and experience of retailers indicate that so far as the purchasing public is concerned there has been an abnormal demand this year for articles of the highest price and quality," the report stated. "Everybody has wanted the best and has seemed to have the money to pay any price for it. Cheap meats appear to be a drug on the market and almost unsalable."

Cudahy attacked the government policy of "arbitrary price fixing" public agitation and criticism of the packers and public extravagance. Net profits for the year were shown as but slightly more than half as much as the preceding year although the gross sales for the year were larger.

HARVARD SUBS LEARN OREGON'S PLAY STYLE

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 16.—Harvard's subs are now mastering Oregon's plays to be used against the varsity squad in scrimmages that will be started the latter part of the week.

The regulars are confining their workouts to road work under the direction of Coach Donovan. Running so far has been the hardest part of the work as the coaches have decided to be slow in the re-conditioning process.

All the regulars, with the exception of "Tabby" Clark, star guard, are almost sure of making the trip to Pasadena for the game New Year's. Charles Thornlike, sub-guard, joined the squad today and will be ready to make the trip if Clark is declared unfit.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 16.—Harvard will play Oregon New Year's day in Pasadena without the services of Arthur "Tabby" Clark, the star 220-pound guard. An injury he sustained before the football season will prevent him from getting back into condition. The regulars had a stiff session yesterday consisting of road work, light signal practice, kicking and tackling the dummy. No scrimmage will be attempted for a few days when the substitutes will go against the regulars with Oregon plays.

BEARCAT LOOP TEAM TO UTILIZE ARMROY

Coach Mathews has arranged to have his basketball squad practice in the armory, and the games this season will be played there, it was announced Saturday.

This is further evidence of the fact that Willamette is going to have a great year in basketball and that the city of Salem is behind the university in its attempt to create a greater athletic interest here. The armory is more convenient for the fans, and will accommodate a larger number of spectators than the Willamette gym.

The first practice was held in the armory Saturday and will continue this week in spite of the fact that the university has closed for the holidays. A number of the men on the first squad live in Salem and others are staying in order to get in shape in time for the first game, January 13.

The team has been practicing for two weeks, and in spite of unfavorable conditions the men are already showing real class. Wapato, Estel and McKittrick are showing up strongest at forward. Jackson is doing well at center, and Rarey, Socolofsky and Dimick look good at guard. Beside these men Gillette, Warren and Davies are making a strong bid for a place in the lineup. The team looks stronger than that of last year in spite of the loss of Nichols and Harold Dimick.

At a special meeting of the Gresham city council, Karl Miller, cashier of the Bank of Gresham, tendered his resignation as city recorder and municipal judge.

Use Electricity and you can have a Hoover Sweeper

You Also Can

Wash Electrically

Sew Electrically

You Also Can

Cast Electrically

Iron Electrically

To be rid of the drudgery of sweeping and chasing dust around the house and caring rugs outdoors to be beaten is alone worth the price of having electricity to the woman who prides herself on a clean house.

Having a Hoover Beating-Sweeping Suction Cleaner enables electricity to exert its fullest dirt-removing power.

Work in the electric home is further lessened by washing and ironing with electricity, by sewing electrically, by preparing meals with electric utensils.

But cleaning is the most disagreeable of all tasks. If you use electricity The Hoover fully reverses this condition. For when you—
