

BUSINESS MEN URGE SUPPORT OF WILLAMETTE

Urging that the business men of the city get behind Willamette University in its efforts to make good in its new status as a member of the Northwest Intercollegiate conference, prominent business and professional men of the city are backing the plan of the university student body to sell season tickets for admission to all athletic events and other attractions in which the university or its teams participate here.

The plan as suggested is that the student body issue tickets, similar to those issued by most of the conference colleges to their students, covering all of the games and contests played here during the year, and put them on sale to anyone, college student or otherwise for $10.

Expenses Increased.
The added responsibilities assumed by Willamette in entering the conference has created the demand for more money than has been needed before to carry out the athletic and other programs and the ticket sale idea appears as the most logical method of raising the needed funds.

In carrying out its conference athletic schedules the university will be put to a far greater expense than ever before. Trips of teams into California, Washington and Idaho will call for big outlays and considerable money must be spent in putting the athletic fields, floors and equipment into shape so that they will meet conference requirements.

Realizing the value of the work done by Coach Mathews in securing Willamette's admission into the conference, those who are backing the movement for greater support for the university on the part of the business men of Salem point out that Mathews and his team are deserving of all of the backing that can be given them.

"Chance" Has Arrived.
They feel, as one man expressed himself, "that Willamette now has her chance, and it is up to her to take it." The feeling is prevalent that in Mathews, Willamette has a coach and athletic instructor equal to any on the coast and that all he needs to enable him to turn out winning teams is support. With proper support they feel that he will be able to make a showing that will be attractive to high school and other athletes who contemplate entering college. Inducement of these men, most of whom are now attracted by the larger colleges, to come to Willamette is necessary, the boosters feel, before Mathews, or anyone else can put Willamette up among the in the conference.

Gives Wife Glycerine Mixture

And unless Willamette can make a showing there is always the danger that she will lose her place in the conference. The sentiment among the larger schools of the conference of late years not been overly friendly to the smaller colleges and there have been frequent attempts to eliminate them together, because of the poor showing which some of them have made year after year.

Many Behind Move.
That a place in the conference and the development of strong athletic teams is highly desirable is demonstrated by the rapid growth of those conference colleges which have turned out winning teams consistently. The rapid growth of the University of Oregon in the past five years, for example, is attributed largely to the success of the lemon-yellow teams on the gridiron and track.

Among those who are taking an active part to arouse greater public interest in Willamette and its activities among the people of Salem are Curtis Cross, Dr. H. H. Olinger, W. H. Eldredge, John Harbison, Hal Patton, H. E. McCroskey, F. G. Myers, Paul B. Wallace, John Farrar, Homer H. Smith, T. B. Kay, Dr. R. D. Byrd, Dr. F. L. Utter, William Reinhart, coach of the Salem high school football team, and a score of others.

The tickets, which it is proposed to sell would not only admit to all games and contests, but would also include a full subscription to the university paper, the Collegian.

Branson gave as his reason for resigning that he had accepted a better paying position elsewhere. Chief Varney, and other members of the department, spoke highly of the retiring officer.

Branson worked nights, beginning at 6 o'clock in the evening and continuing until that time in the morning.

Murder Mystery Cleared Up; Woman Admits Killing Spouse

Butte, Mont., Dec. 18.—The mystery surrounding the death of Gus Manos whose body, bearing sixty knife wounds, was found lying in a gully on the outskirts of the city last March, was cleared up yesterday when Mrs. Margaret Poulos made an alleged confession to the police.

The officers, who told them her husband, George Poulos and two other men killed Manos during a quarrel in the Poulos home.

The disclosure followed the arrest of Mrs. Poulos and Joe Soda on a charge of adultery, which was preferred by the woman's husband.

SUFFERED TWO YEARS

"For about two years I suffered with malaria fever and bad blood, trying everything that was recommended to me without benefit.

"Finally someone told me about 'Number 40 for the Blood' and I purchased a bottle from our merchant, Mr. Walter Page, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it, using in all 3 1/2 bottles. Today I am feeling fine and do not hesitate to recommend it for any trouble for which it is recommended.

"You are at liberty to use this letter any way you desire for I know what Number 40 is."

H. L. Burnett, Wakulla, Fla.

"Number 40 for the Blood" is compounded from ingredients set down in the U. S. dispensatory and other authoritative medical books as follows:

"Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, scrofula, eczema, skin diseases, constipation, stomach and liver troubles, chronic rheumatism and catarrh, mercurial and lead poisoning. Under its use nodes, tumors and serofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."

DOG, RELATIVES AND NEIGHBORS FIGURE IN SUIT OF DIVORCE

The divorce suit of Gertrude Tuleja versus Jacob Tuleja was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge George G. Bingham after hearing the mass of conflicting evidence presented by the attorneys for the parties to the suit.

By the complaint of Mrs. Tuleja and the counter complaint of Tuleja the marital troubles of the couple seem to have been aggravated by a multiplicity of dog, relatives and neighbors. In her complaint Mrs. Tuleja charges that her husband drove her aged father from their home and locked out the neighbors who attempted to visit her while she was ill. Tuleja denies these charges and claims that his wife whom he characterized on the witness stand as being "The biggest liar in the world," had persisted in calling in a Chinese doctor when she was ill and that she insisted on sleeping with and kissing a dog. Present at the hearing were Tuleja's children by former marriage, he having been married four times according to testimony submitted yesterday.

The Tulejas were married in Portland, August 30, 1919 and according to evidence submitted, the marriage was one of convenience. Mrs. Tuleja to take care of her husband's five small children while Tuleja was to provide the home for her and for her aged father.

In testifying yesterday, Mr. Tuleja denied that he had ever made the statement that he "would rather live under the Kaiser than in the United States," claiming that he was patriotic, though admitting the fact that he had never completed his citizenship in the United States, being a native of Poland.

TESTIMONY TO START IN NEW TRIAL FRIDAY

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 18.—Predictions when court opened today were that testimony in the murder trial of Harry Campbell would begin some time tomorrow.

As a result of yesterday's work 12 jurors, all still subject to peremptory challenge, were in the box when court opened and a new venire was on hand to continue today's work.

The last change of women predominating on the jury seemed to have vanished. Only one woman, Mrs. H. E. Frels, is among the dozen temporary jurors and there are but three women on the special venire called today.
