INQUEST EXPECTED TO CLEAR UP LABOR CASE

Paw Paw, Mich., Dec. 19. — The story of the death of Maud Tabor was expected to be revealed here today when the inquest into her death was resumed, with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Tabor, as the main witness.

The mother of the girl whose body was hidden for three years in a trunk in the basement of the Tabor home, told the story of the girl's death to Prosecutor Glenn M. Warner and Shriff Andrew Lang today. The details of her story were not made public, but it is understood they will be revealed by the mother when she testifies at the inquest.

Reports were that she exonerated Joseph Virgo, who married Maud Tabor shortly before her death and who faces a murder charge. Warner and Lang declined to confirm these rumors.

Following the consultation with the prosecutor, the aged woman was allowed to see her other daughter, Mrs. Florence Tabor Critchlow, held in the case as a witness. The mother and daughter embraced and wept. Mrs. Tabor said she was glad "she had told everything" and got it "off her mind"

Miss Alycia Agna, a senior at the Eugene high school, and Miss Ruth Scott, an employe of the First National bank, were seriously injured at Eugene Monday while coasting down a steep hill.

A fire starting from a kerosene stove destroyed the barn of Mathew Beyer, near Mount Angel, together with 500 bushels of potatoes, several hundred bushels of wheat and considerable hay and grain.

The crews surveying the new "Oregon Caves" road is through with its work and has returned to Grants Pass.

CHILDREN UNDER-NOURISHED

New York, Dec. 19.—Six million school children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition probably as the result of the high cost of food Mrs. Elmer B. Blair declared in an address here Thursday afternoon.
