MRS. HUGH MCCAMMON (Eleanor Carson), who, with her husband, is a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Carson, 929 South High street.

UNDOUBTEDLY the principal social event of the past week was the formal dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White in honor of their daughter, Miss Margaret White, Christmas Night at Cotillon hall. The decorations were magnificent. A Christmas tree, gaily decorated with tinsel and strung with tiny colored electric lights, occupied the center of the hall, while bordering the walls a wealth of fir boughs, tied with wide red satin ribbons, vied with art basins of Oregon grape in claiming the attention of the guests. The lights were subdued with red shades, and strings of silver stars, hung on invisible wires, added to the gala effect. The orchestra was almost hidden behind a bower of boughs. In one corner of the room a red covered table, lighted with green candles, bore the punch bowl.

Miss White was beautiful in a gown of pale blue chamoise, embroidered with gold roses. A panel of georgette, in the front, terminated with a band of gold lace, while maline streamers reached to the hem from a bow up on the left shoulder.

She wore a beautiful corsage bouquet of orange plume and variegated flowers. She led the grand march with Wyndham Buren.

Nancy Thielson, Jeanette Sykes and Cynthia Delano distributed the dainty hand palated programs from baskets laden with huge red roses. Henry Thielson, Junior Bealey and Lloyd Chazotte presided at the punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano assisted the host and hostess in receiving the guests. Music was rendered by Mrs. Horace Sykes, Miss Mary Talmadge, Art Lafar and Dave Talmadge. 126 guests attended.

One of the prettiest Yuletide parties of the past week was the one for which Miss Hourie Shelton was hostess for the members of her juvenile music class in the Derby building last Tuesday. The Christmas spirit prevailed in every detail, from the dainty invitations, in the form of a red and gold bell, to the huge Christmas tree and official visit from St. Nicholas.

The class, 45 in number, had adopted a family of six children, and each brought a present of clothes, toys, or goodies for the more unfortunate youngsters. Miss Olga Kirkwood kindly offered the use of her automobile for the purpose of conveying the gifts to the residence of the "Christmas family". Mrs. O. D. Durdall opened a short program with "Holy Night." Mrs. A. J. Rahn delighted the children with several characteristic readings rendered in her inimitable style. Miss Grace Sherwood and Miss Gertrude Aldrich, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Bedford, rendered a vocal duet. The program was closed by a cheery Christmas reading by Miss Bernice Mulway. Genevieve Logan acted as the envoy of Santa Claus, and gave a short talk on the beauty of the spirit of giving. The children present were: Truth and Rose Huston, Doras Hicks, Rollin and Delbert Graber, Eleanor Schmidt, Edith May Jenks and brother, Maxine Meyers, Dorothy Bell, Gladys Larnar and brother, Lorraine and Elsworth Fletcher Helen Pollock, Pauline Johnson, Mary and Billie Cuper, Doyelle Anderson, Lois and Leona Gear, Ruth Sage, Loreta Varley, Lena and Gladys Modder Margaret Blum, Elaine Chapin, Gladys Buckner, Edie Raymond, Bert Hoffhine, Cecil Deacon, Velleda Ohmart, Darrel Meyers, Nina Logan, Geneva Sundin and sister, Kenneth Ailes, Bernice and Catherine Mulvey, Gail McClaine, Ruth Haggerty, Bertha Babcock.

The piano pupils of Mrs. Julia M. Weigel enjoyed a recital at her home on South Church street Tuesday afternoon. Christmas bells and gay festoons formed the pleasing decorations and refreshments were served after the program which was as follows:

Preceding the dance of the Tillamook club Tuesday evening, Mrs. O. A. Olson entertained a group of club members at a dinner party. A miniature Christmas tree centered the beautifully appointed table, from which gay ribbon streamers reached to the pieces of the guests, bearing dainty place cards. At the other end of the streamers prettily wrapped gifts served as factors. Guests at the delightful affair were Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Glendon, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daus, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Knowland, Lester Davis, Mrs. Ada Petrus and Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Olson. The dinner was a surprise in honor of the anniversary of the doctor's birthday.

A few friends gathered at the home of Miss Opal Lucas, 145 Miller street, Saturday December 26, to celebrate the 20th anniversary of her birthday. The afternoon was enjoyably spent in playing various games. Christmas decorations were used. The table was centered with a tiny Christmas tree from which extended red and green ribbon streamers, at the end of each was a place card bearing the name of each guest. A delightful lunch was served, the birthday cake being beautifully adorned with twelve lighted candles. The guests were Myrtle Shipp, Mildred Ackerman, Roberta Hansen, Alberta Bohrnstedt, Bonnie Lee Davenport, Mary Allen, Mary Kitzinger, Winnifred Lucas and Opal Lucas.

Miss Pauline Knowland was guest of honor at a prettily arranged party last Saturday afternoon, celebrating the 13th anniversary of her birthday. Christmas decorations were appropriately used, a miniature Christmas tree being the principal feature of them. Games were played during the afternoon, pleasantly interrupted by a visit from Santa Claus. A birthday cake with thirteen lighted candles centered the pretty table at which a dainty repast was served. The guest list included Ariel Gilbert, Ira Page, Clara Howard, Mary McKinnon, Virginia Dores, Genevieve Barber, Genevieve Campbell, Doris Nye, Madeline Brown, Mary Drager, Pauline Knowland.

Christmas cheer prevailed at the prettily appointed luncheon given by the members of the Sweet Brian club over which Miss Nellie Taylor presided at her home on Wallace Road Tuesday afternoon. Mistletoe was used in artistic abundance in the decorative scheme and a Christmas tree, well laden with gifts, was the principal attraction. The entire afternoon program was carried out with a finesse that bespoke the conscientious and able work of the officers of the club, Mrs. Glen Adams, president, and Mrs. A. L. Steiner, secretary.

Among the numerous dinner parties in honor of Christmas Day, none were prettier in its lovely appointments, than that over which Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Lee Steiner presided at their beautiful home on Center street. An all basket of variegated fauleide figs, ornaments centered the table at which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. Earl Flegel, Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kepron, of Portland and the gracious host and hostess.

Mrs. F. W. Selee entertained with a Christmas dinner at her home on Hanson avenue, Thursday. Decorations appropriate to the occasion were used to advantage in the appointments of the rooms. Guests beside the family were H. C. Moody of Portland, Miss Phillips and Mrs. N. T. Hellyer of Salem. After dinner presents were distributed to the guests by Ellen June Moody, a grandniece of the hostess, and "Uncle" Henry Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mahan of Eugene are spending the holidays with Mrs. Mahan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Richmond, on South High street. Mr. Mahan is field manager of the Fruit Growers association at Eugene.

Mrs. George J. Pearce was hostess for a handsomely appointed dinner Thursday at her beautiful home on North Winter street. An appropriate color scheme of red was carried out in the table and room decorations, holly being used in artistic abundance. Circled the table were Charles Riley of Portland; Mrs. Alice B. Dodd, Mrs. Thomas Hopkins of Albany, Mrs. E. C. Small of Albany, Miss Helen Pearce, Miss Dorothy Pearce and Mrs. George J. Pearce.

Bells and Mistletoe were used about the rooms of the P. E. Fullerton residence on State street Christmas Day. When Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton entertained with a delightful dinner party. A graceful fern centered the table at which covers were laid for Mrs. Charles Burnett, Mrs. Ada Petrus, Donald Petrus, Merle Petrus and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton.

Miss Juanita Christinger and Harry Savage were quietly married Christmas Day at the First Christian church Reverend Leland W. Porter, officiating. The bride was gowned in a lovely white georgette dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern. She was unattended. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for Portland on a short honeymoon. They will make their home with Mr. Savage's mother on South 15th street.

Members of the Tillamook club enjoyed an informal dance at the Masonic hall last Tuesday evening. Nearly the entire personnel of the club numbering 40 people, were in attendance. The next dance, on January 13, will be a masquerade, and extensive plans are being made to make it one of the biggest affairs of the season.

Flaming poinsettias were used effectively as a centerpiece for the handsomely appointed dinner for which Mrs. C. P. Bishop was gracious hostess. Christmas Day. The brilliant color scheme of red was enhanced by scarlet candles and shades, and covers were laid for Clarence Bishop, of Pendleton, Chauncey Bishop and his two sons, Robert and Charles Kay, Mrs. I. W. Starr of Brownsville and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop.

Cards and flowers are finding their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Wroten, 905 North 22nd street, in honor of a son born Christmas Day. The little lad has been named Darrel Alvin. Mrs. Wroten, who formerly Miss Flossie Day, Mr. Wroten is one of the leading violinists of the city.

Chauncey Bishop of Pendleton, who is a guest at the C. P. Bishop, home during the holidays is enjoying a business visit in Portland. He is expected to return this evening.

The many friends of Mrs. Lestel Davis will be grieved to hear that she has been seriously ill. She is improving slowly under the care of a physician.

W. C. T. U. HEAD OFF TO CUBA
Chicago, Dec. 27.—Miss Anna Adams Gordon, head of the W. C. T. U., today possessed a passport for Cuba and Europe. Forty others applied for passports to Cuba, but with evidence of a different purpose in mind. Miss Gordon had no comment on whether the Cuban trip is to plan a temperance campaign in that oasis.

Big Sugar Receipts Fail To Dent Retail Market
New York, Dec. 27.—Although eight million pounds of sugar were received by eastern refiners last week from Cuba, there seems to be no relief in shortage on the retail market. Last week's shipments are four times greater than the preceding week and three times greater than a year ago. It takes a few days to put the refined article on the market, but grocers say they are still unable to buy.

Schooner Lost Off Hawaii Crew of 10 Men Saved
San Francisco, Dec. 27.—The schooner Okanogan, owned by the Balfour-Guthrie company, has been wrecked on a reef at Ahukani, Hawaii, according to word received by the marine department of the local chamber of commerce today. The crew, consisting of ten men, was saved, the report said. The vessel with a cargo of nitre from Chile is a total loss. The Okanogan is a three masted schooner of 800 tons under command of Captain Sexton.

CANCER

To any person who may be interested I will state that I was afflicted with CANCER involving almost the entire lower lip for two years or more. I consulted with Dr. S. C. Stone, Salem, Oregon, who applied a medicine for five days and the CANCER came out entire to my great satisfaction. The place healed up nicely and I can truly recommend Dr. Stone and his treatment.
