SALEM TEACHERS ASKED TO ASSIST IN MILK SURVEY

F. G. Deckebach of the Marion Creamery company, is a director of the Oregon dairy council and believes that the educational survey now being made in Oregon schools will prove to be of great benefit to the state as a whole by increasing milk consumption in the state thereby aiding in establishing better health standards.

"Milk, pure and wholesome; nature's best food drink." This is one of the slogans of the Oregon dairy council, which has instituted a vigorous campaign of education to bring the truth of the food value of milk to Oregonians.

The Oregon federation of women's clubs is also interested in the milk survey being made by the council in the schools of the state with the permission of State Superintendent Churchill and the endorsement of Dr. David N. Roberts of the state board of health, and the backing of the Oregon parent teacher association and the hearty cooperation of the superintendents, principals and teachers. There has been one superintendent who has declined to make the survey but she is being approached by some of the leading educators of the state and they promise to explain the worth of the survey and the fact that it only takes a very few moments of the teachers time.

So far Oregon is showing up far better in per cent of milk users than California, according to the statements of H. S. McKay of the California dairy council. But in this state in some of the dairy districts over one third of the children use no milk. Teachers notice that the children who use milk are, as a rule, brighter and quicker in their studies and not so liable to be ill or nervous. In some districts where the educational work has been done, teaching the food value of milk, the use of milk has doubled.

North Bend schools are doing well for the children. The dairymen and schools provide milk for the little ones and the school nurse weighs and measures them regularly. As soon as this plan was inaugurated the children began to improve. Brookings in Curry county shows a large percentage of non-milk users, 53 out of 83 children being on the list of those who do not get milk in the diet.

In some districts of Portland since the first survey the children have greatly increased their use of milk.

WILSON AND FRAZIER FAIL TO FILE IN TIME

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 1.—Neither President Wilson nor Governor Lynn J. Frazier, endorsed for president by the democratic and non-partisan league conventions respectively had filed his formal acceptance with the secretary of state late last night. Announcement was made that only candidates who had complied with the Richards primary law before midnight would appear on the March primary ballot.

The outstanding development was the receipt of the formal acceptance of Major General Leonard Wood, who received the majority endorsement of the republican state convention. Wood's name will go on the ballot as the party choice. Republican candidates who filed as independents are Senators Johnson of California and Poindexter of Washington. Governor Lowder of Illinois received the minority convention endorsement. James W. Gerard filed for the democratic endorsement and his name will be placed in the independent column.

AMERICANS NAMED ON LIST OF HONOR

London, Jan. 1.—The New Year's day honor list, made public Wednesday contained many awards for war services.

Baridom was conferred on Viscount Middleton, former secretary of state for India, known for his stand against peace until the Germans had made reparations for vandalism in France.

CHARGE THAT MINE CURTAILED PRODUCTION WILL BE PROBED

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 1.—Federal authorities announced here today they would investigate complaints of union officials that the Keystone Coal company had violated the Lever act by curtailing production.

The company, according to union leaders, granted their men the fourteen percent wage increase, but they said, the concern has refused to re-employ union miners and curtailed production resulting.

High Prices May Close Paris Theatres; Complaints Many

Paris, Jan. 1.—The "ruin of the French theater and the decadence of French dramatic art are attributable to the impossibility of raising the price of seats. Prices have reached the maximum and there is nothing to do but close."

This and many similar lamentations came from theater managers on receipt of the news of new taxes on amusements.

Slenths Defer Arrest While Hunted Man Nurses Mother

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Charles L. McCarty, a commercial artist of this city, watched today at the bedside of his aged and invalid mother, while two detectives stood outside with a warrant charging him with defrauding banks by worthless checks. Officer sent to arrest him decided to defer service of the warrant when they found him nursing his enfeebled mother.
