

DENVER SOCIETY'S FAVORITE FOUND TO BE SWINDLER

Denver, Colo., Jan. 1.—A L. Moore, known in Denver society circles as "the favorite," was arrested on a charge of forgery. He was captured after a chase by employees of a bank where he attempted to cash a $150 check bearing the signature of a prominent Denver man. Officials are attempting to connect him with recent bank swindles here totalling $10,000.

Moore began his society career shortly after his arrival in Denver December 22, when he registered at a fashionable hotel. His entry was thru a Red Cross worker, whose acquaintance he made during the recent Red Cross drive.

In his trunk were found a discharge certificate from the Arkansas penitentiary. Sheaf of checks some of which bore the signature of prominent Denver citizens also were found in his trunk. He had more than $4000 on his person.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 1.—A L. Moore, arrested in Denver, Colo., charged with forgery, was released from the Arkansas state penitentiary in June, 1918, after having served a one year sentence for burglary and grand larceny. He embezzled several hundred dollars, it was charged, from the Twin City bank of North Little Rock where he was employed as an assistant cashier.

PASADENA ONE HUGE BOWER OF FLOWERS DURING TOURNAMENT

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 1.—January was transformed into May here today. Myriads of beautiful blooms were spread before the eyes of the thousands who jammed every foot of available street space while Pasadena's annual Tournament of Roses parade passed review.

It was estimated that more than 1,500,000 cut blossoms were used to adorn the many floats, which carried, besides their burden of flowers, hundreds of pretty girls attired in light draperies and themselves loaded down with fragrant blooms.

The city, normally a place of 50,000 to 75,000 population, had grown overnight to a metropolis of a quarter of a million or more. Starting early yesterday and continuing today, long after the pageant had been staged, every road leading to the city brought its thousands. An almost unbroken line of automobiles extended from Pasadena to Los Angeles and other southern California cities, most of the morning, while every two or three minutes long trains of interurban cars discharged their passengers and returned from whence they came for more.

The parade this morning was led by Frank O. Hogan, grand marshal, and five divisions, each divided into many classes, followed: Dr. F. E. Rowland, who with Dr. Charles Frederick Holder, founded the tournament in 1891, rode in the parade with W. L. Leshman, president of the tournament association. Civic officials of many southern California cities, most of which had floats entered, also appeared in the long procession.

The football game this afternoon was for 3,000 persons, that being the number of seats at Tournament Park. The parade this morning was for everybody who could find a vantage point on street, fire escapes, roofs, balconies, windows or elsewhere.

Newsboys Honor Guests at Feed and Show Party

Newsboys of Salem had a "mighty good time" New Year's day when they participated in a banquet and general celebration provided by F. W. Jobelman, night clerk of the High hotel. Mr. Jobelman, who is keenly interested in the kids, having once been a newsboy himself, was host to more than a score of the young news vendors at a sumptuous repast enjoyed at the Royal Cafeteria, Thursday at 1 p. m.

Labor Commissioner C. H. Gram made a special trip from Portland in order to attend the banquet and to give them a short address as a special feature of the program. Newspapermen and businessmen who gathered with the boys are: R. O. Hansen, Max Clark, W. A. Butler, Murray Wade, T. G. High and E. W. Jobelman.

Following the banquet, the party accepted T. G. High's invitation to see Crane Wilbur in "Devil's Care" at the High theater, and the party attracted a share of attention in the showhouse as the lads were thoroughly enjoying themselves and evidently wanted the world to know it.

100 MEN EMPLOYED BY PORTLAND IRON PLANT PLAN STRIKE

Portland, Or., Jan. 1.—A strike of approximately 100 men employed at the Smith & Watson Iron Works here, will be called tomorrow morning. It was announced today by Charles Kendrick, secretary of the Portland Metal Trades Council.

The strike action is the result, according to Kendrick, of an announcement by the iron works management that wages would be cut eight cents an hour, working hours increased from 44 to 48 a week, and that the shop would be run on the "American plan." The strike will be confined to the Smith & Watson plant, Kendrick said today. He asserted that more than 100 men would be affected, but Alfred F. Smith, president of the firm said only about 40 men would be affected.

"If there had been a reduction in the cost of living within the past few weeks, the union would be able to look upon a decrease in wages as reasonable," Mr. Kendrick said today. Mr. Smith declared that his firm could not compete with firms in other sections which were paying less wages. "If the plant is unable to obtain men on the terms announced, it will close," Mr. Smith said today. Smith is also president of the Columbia River Shipbuilding Corporation, and he declared today that the present wage scale was responsible for the closing of that plant.

Contracts were available if we had been able to compete with prices where less wages are paid," he said.

CHICAGO WELCOMES NEW YEAR WITH BOOZED

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Chicago's husky young new year, nursed last night on hip pocket bottles, showed no signs of being as dry as congress and the supreme court had forecast.

Cafes became cafeterias last night and serve yourself service apparently proved adequate to produce all the traditional joys of the new year welcome.

Illinois search and seizure law went by the boards. Hip pocket flasks were fashionable, but thirstier ones transported their select private stocks to downtown eating places in suitcases, baskets, golf bags and in one case even a trunk was used.

Police threats of enforcement of the drastic search law failed of execution. Chief Garrity made the rounds at midnight and in a famous downtown hotel delivered a short speech to the revelers.
