The Linoleum Who took the lineleum? That is the question which six good men and true will decide tonight in Justice Unruh's court. A set of window curtains are also involved in the case of the state against Mrs. F. S. Zook, who is accused by Mrs. Mame Blanchard of having taken these articles when moving from a house of which Mrs. Blanchard is ownzess for both sides, Judge Unrub or dered that the case which was board 3759 Thursday be continued until Priday at 59 p. m. Evidence subn .tted during the trial, tended to show that Mrs. Franchard had advised Mrs. Zoot: that she would take the lineleum if she wenter it. Mrs. Zook's attorney st. ougly opposed the postponement of the hearing, claiming that "Mrs. Zook has proven that she had nothing to do with the disappearance of the articles. This new witness can offer nothing of material value to the case and as she is suggested by Mrs. Blanchard, we are at a disadvantage. All of our witnesses have testified and this new witnesses might now say anything desired by Mrs. Blanchard thus saving her case," said the attorney.
