Dr. W. Carlton Smith, president of Capital post No. 9, American Legion, announced Monday that the medals for ex-service men, which the state has donated as a token of appreciation for their services during the world war, have been received. They will be presented at the American Legion dance in the armory Friday evening, January 16. The dance is for all ex-service men, their relatives and friends. As a great many ex-service men do not belong to the American Legion, it was thought that this would be a good time at which to present the medals. Money for securing the medals was appropriated by the last legislature.

J. P. Read, assistant cashier the Capital National bank, has accepted a position with the federal reserve bank of San Francisco and with Mrs. Read will leave Friday for the California city where they will make their home. Mr. Read has been connected with the Capital National for 11 years. Mr. and Mrs. Read are well known in Salem and leave a host of friends. Mr. Read will be connected with the auditing department of the federal reserve system at the bay city.

Police received the reports of three automobile accidents Saturday. Mrs. A. A. Gueffroy, 1275 North Capitol street, collided with the Silverton stage at the intersection of Capitol and Gaines avenue. According to Mrs. Gueffroy, who reported the accident, her signal was not noticed by the stage driver, J. A. Remington, 391 North Winter street, struck a Mrs. Yoger, at Liberty and State streets, when the woman started to cross the street and came back unexpectedly. She was not hurt. Paul Winslow, of route 2, and an automobile bearing license number 11,297 collided on South Church street between Trade and Ferry. Mr. Winslow reported the accident but owing to the fact that the 1920 license numbers have not yet been given to the police, they have not been able to identify the other party.

A permit to repair their warehouse on Front street between State and Ferry, was issued Saturday to the C. K. Spaulding Logging company by the city recorder. Work of altering the building will cost $2500, according to the estimate.

Friends of Russell Patterson, 444 North Church street, who has been confined to his home since November 24, will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from his severe illness, and hopes to resume his duties in the near future.

The Iowa society will meet Tuesday evening, January 13, at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Myra Shanks, at her office in the city hall. All Hawk-eyes are invited to attend, whether or not they belong to the club.

The bonds are to be in the hands of this firm not later than January 20.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a victory celebration at their hall, Commercial and Ferry streets, Friday, January 16, to celebrate the inauguration of national prohibition. There will be a praise service at 11 o'clock, a lunch at noon and a program at 2 o'clock. All friends of the cause are invited to attend.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucille S. Corbett, who was killed in an auto accident near Everett, Wash., several days ago, was held at the chapel of the Rigdon & Son Undertaking company at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. Putnam of the Bungalow Christian church, officiated. Burial followed in City View cemetery.

Funeral services for Eli Emanuel Johnson, who died at his home near Salem last Friday will be held at the chapel of the Rigdon & Son Undertaking company Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. F. T. Porter, Christian church, will officiate. Burial will be in City View cemetery. Mrs. Rose Lindsey, from Vancouver, B. C. Mr. Johnson's niece, has arrived in Salem, and will attend the funeral.

The funeral for Mrs. Beulah Hunt, 29, wife of Guy G. Hunt, was passed away at her home, 747 South 12th street, early Saturday morning, was held at the chapel of the Rigdon & Son Undertaking company Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. Avison, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. Burial was in City View cemetery. Many friends attended the services, which were simple and impressive.

A banquet for the members and their wives, will be held at the Commercial Club Tuesday evening at six o'clock by the Salem Rotarians. An illustrated lecture on Alaska scenery will be given by J. L. Burnside, district agent for the White Pass & Yukon route. This banquet and meeting will be held in lieu of the regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Marion.

F. L. Ekwand, state senator for California, arrived in Salem Sunday, and will remain here during the special session of legislature, and work in behalf of traffic legislation. Mr. Ekwand is working for the National Traffic Officers Association, and recently spoke before the business men's luncheon on better traffic laws for Oregon. He is staying at the Hotel Marion.

It is predicted that in 19 years every other house will have its own radio plant and the occupants will be enabled to call up friends or business concerns at will.

Redell Stewart, 17 year old son of Mrs. Florence Stewart, who ran away from home two years ago to join the navy and from whom no word had since been received, returned to Hal-vey Monday.

PIECE OF OLD CANON RECALLS ROUSING DAYS OF ELECTIONS

Silverton, Jan. 12.—In excavating for a garage at the corner of First and Lewis streets a few days ago Vernon Wolcott unearthed a piece of iron which recalls an incident in early history of considerable interest. It is the butt of a cannon that Silverton owned many years ago and which was frequently used in celebrating the section of presidents.

In the celebration of Cleveland's first election some of the enthusiastic democrats overloaded the "hawtiter" and it was blown to fragments, pieces flying in all directions. One piece of the cannon was hurled five hundred feet to R. C. Ramsby's barnyard and killed one of his cows. The episode created a lot of talk and some hard feelings, and to make peace with his neighbor, and show fidelity to his party, Jake McClaine, founder of the Coolidge & McClaine bank of Silverton paid Mr. Ramsby for the cow.

Both Mr. Ramsby and Mr. McClaine have passed on to the other world and there are but few men here today who attended the patriotic rally in Cleveland's time.

The piece of cannon is now on exhibition in the front window of the Coolidge & McClaine bank.

NEW DEFENSE BEGUN

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—When the trial of Harry S. New, charged with murder, was resumed today, arguments for the defense began. Jud. Rush, one of the attorneys for New, began his summary of the evidence. Mr. Rush will be followed by two other attorneys for the defense, and District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine will then close the argument speaking for the state. It was believed that the case would be ready for the jurors consideration some time Wednesday.

Mrs. Zook Freed Of Charge Of Purloining Goods

Mrs. F. E. Zook, charged with purloining some linoleum and window shades, was found not guilty by a jury Friday evening in Judge Cnroh's court. The jury returned its verdict after one minute's deliberation.

The prosecuting witness in the case was Mrs. C. C. Blanchard, who charged that Mrs. Zook had taken the articles when vacating a house which she had rented through Mrs. Blanchard.

MOONSHINERS ARE NABBED

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 12.—By shooting into both rear tires of an automobile containing three alleged "moon shiners" deputy sheriffs today captured three Italians and lodged them in the county jail charged with violating the prohibition law. One of the largest stills yet found in this county and said to belong to the men, Pto Catalano, Giuliano Sociello, and Marico Tallarto, was located.

MAYOR SUES PRINTER

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 12.—Mayor C. H. Fitzgerald was named as complaining witness in an information filed here today charging criminal libel against Joe Smith, politician and secretary of a Seattle printing company. Mr. Fitzgerald claimed Smith libeled him by circulating a card giving the impression that the mayor was making the city pay for a campaign circular issued on his behalf.

BOY SLAYER'S TRIAL BEGINS

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 12.—When the trial of John Kuep, age 17, charged with the murder of Nazarena Ben-court November 3, began in superior court today the attorney for the youth entered a supplementary plea that the boy was insane when he committed the alleged crime.
