

BILLS DWINDLE AT RAPID RATE BEFORE EVENING SESSIONS

The only chance for an argument in a two hour session Thursday night was in consideration of senate bill 22 by Senator Pierce increasing the salary of the attorney general from $3500 to $4500 a year. The bill came into the senate on a divided report with Senators Pierce, Orton and Eberhard signing a favorable report and Senator Pflieger a minority adverse report.

Opposition to the bill was based largely on a previous action of the senate in resolving to bar all salary bills at the special session. Adoption of the Pierce bill, it was contended, would open the gates to a flood of salary bills which only awaited an excuse for making an appearance.

Protracted debate was only shut off by sending the bill to the ways and means committee.

Seven senate bills and three house bills were ground through the mill in rapid order at the night session as follows:

- H. R. 1, by committee on labor and industries—Restoring to the workmen's compensation fund $400,000 set aside by the last session for the construction of a reconstruction hospital.
- H. R. 2, by committee on labor and industries—Providing an increase of approximately 30 per cent to the rate of compensation paid to injured workmen under the Oregon workmen's compensation act.
- H. R. 3, by committee on labor and industries—Providing for the physical and vocational rehabilitation of injured workmen.
- S. R. 1, by Senator Patterson—Amending the code relating to paroles, abolishing the minimum penalty on the crimes of homicide, rape attended by violence, assault with intent to kill and robbery when armed with a dangerous weapon.
- S. R. 11, by Senator Nickelson—Providing for compensation of county surveyors and their deputies.
- S. R. 14, by Senator Hurley—Regulating the grazing of non-resident owned livestock upon enclosed lands.
- S. R. 23, by Union county delegation—Providing for an increase in salaries for certain Union county officials.
- S. R. 26, by committee on roads and highways—Providing for maintenance of state highways.
- S. R. 29, by committee on medicine, pharmacy and dentistry—Relating to the practice of medicine and surgery.
- S. R. 35, by Senator Orton—Providing for the licensing of automobile drivers.
- S. R. 36, by Senator Pierce—Relating to market roads.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS BECOMES REALITY

By which practical effect may be given to the principles of international friendship and good understanding. The success of the labors of the peace conference is a good augury for the future of the league of nations. For the first time an attempt was made to bring together under the auspices of the league representatives of governments, employers and labor, and an advance exceeding the results of other work of the previous quarter of a century has been made in the field of international action on industrial questions.

All the members of the council called for by the covenant of the league, with the exception of the representatives of the United States, were present when M. Bourgeois called the meeting to order. Besides M. Bourgeois the members were Sari Curzon, the British foreign secretary for Great Britain; Premier Venizelos, for Greece; Carlo Emanuele, Italian minister of industry, commerce, labor and food, for Italy; Paul Hymans, the Belgian foreign minister, for Belgium; Maron Matsui, ambassador to France, for Japan; Dr. Gastao Da Cunha, ambassador to France, for Brazil; Count Quinones De Leon, ambassador to France, for Spain; Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain and Viscount Grey dropped into the meeting at an early stage. Mr. Lloyd-George soon retired, however, Viscount Grey remaining. He was invited to a front seat.

Premier Venizelos, without rising, opened the proceedings by nominating Curzon as chairman. Lord Curzon seconded the nomination and M. Bourgeois was unanimously elected. After speeches by M. Bourgeois and Lord Curzon, Cigno Ferrara, on behalf of Italy, said his nation was glad to respond to the invitation "of the president and the great American people." He mentioned the skepticism amidst which the league was born and said this was a fact to be neither exaggerated nor ignored. He added that among the duties of the league would be to give attention to the high cost of transportation, the high cost of living and the state of international finance.

Ambassador Da Cunha for Brazil said his country would devote herself with fervor to the work of peace and fraternity among the nations. He referred to the fact that he was the only representative from America present and said he was proud to have the honor of bringing assurances of the cooperation of Pan-America in the operation of the league.

After the delivery of the speeches, M. Bourgeois announced that the only item on the order of the day was the appointment of three members of the commission to fix the boundaries of the Sarre valley, together with one member appointed by the French government and one by Germany. The council named as its members Colonel Wace, an English officer; Major Lambert, a Belgian, and Major Kobush, a Japanese.

After the appointment of the commissioners M. Bourgeois proposed London as the place for the next meeting of the council and this was approved. Lord Curzon suggested leaving the date and the order of business open, to be decided by the chairman and the secretary, he said. "It will be necessary to consult the United States on a great many questions likely to arise."
