

STATE TREASURY IS SHORT EQUIPMENT DECLARES EXPERT

Securities approximating a valuation of $7,000,000 are being kept by the state in a vault which "would have been discarded by a country bank years ago" according to R. E. Pinney, expert accountant who has just completed an audit and investigation of the boxes and general conditions of the state treasurer's office in behalf of insurance companies interested in the condition of the department.

"The mental portion of your operating plant is all that could be asked but the equipment provided for the proper protection of the securities of the state is very deficient," writes Pinney in a letter received by State Treasurer Hoff.
