

BEARCATS' BOW TO OREGON FIVE ONCE MORE, SCORE 38-22

Playing a class of basketball that demonstrates them to be among the best teams in the conference, the University of Oregon quintet took the second of their two-game series with the Willamette Bearcats on the Eugene floor, by the score of 38 to 22, Saturday night.

During the first half Coach Matthews' bids played the lemon yellow warriors to a standstill and the end of that period showed the score a tie, 12-12. Neither team, however, showed any "class" during the early part of the game and hot sides missed repeated shots from the floor.

Oregon's come back started with the opening whistle in the second period and they steadily increased their lead. With unbroken regularity they worked the ball down the floor and always had one or two men loose and ready to shoot, in the neighborhood of the basket. Their exhibition of team play during their period was nearly perfect.

The tendency of Referee Granits to let the game go was responsible for making it the roughest yet played in by the Bearcats and fouls were frequent as the battle became more heated. Oregon's experience showed here in a marked degree and the men kept their heads in spite of the roughness.

Jackson, held back under the basket by Matthews, and McKitterick were the Willamette stars of the evening, while Burno and Chapman were the satellites for the lemon yellow.

SULTAN MUST RETAIN AUTHORITY IS CLAIM

London, Feb. 2.—Temporal authority is essential to the Sultan of Turkey and he should be allowed to remain in Constantinople as caliph of the faithful, according to Emir Ali, Indian privy councillor, who for the last 45 years has held many offices in Bengal.

"The proposal to drive the Turks out of Constantinople is a concession to religious fanaticism and if the Turkish administration is removed from the city the bitterest resentment will manifest itself in India and all Mussulman countries," he says.

About seventy million Suni Muslims and twelve million Shia Muslims in India, he says, are in agreement as to the sultan's continued rule at Constantinople.

After saying that the principles of Islam are fundamentally opposed to bolshevism, the Emir goes on:

"Maintenance of temporal authority of the sultan is essential. His temporal and spiritual power can not be separated. Muslims were assured in the late war that the caliphate would not be interfered with and that Constantinople, Thraace and the homeland of the Turkish race would remain in their hands; and on this assurance Mohammedan troops bore their full share of the fighting in various regiments."

Shamrock After Alexander Will Fight to a "Finish"

Brad Shamrock, local fighter in the featherweight class, who recently took part in a short bout at the Elks club is anxious to acquire fame or disaster for himself and is challenging any man of his weight (129 pounds) for a ten round go. Shamrock has evidently decided to combine business with pleasure for he stipulates that he will "put up or shut up" in placing the encounter upon an attractive basis.

The local scrapper has been out of the game for two years, but says that he is getting back into shape fast. In connection with his challenge, Shamrock seems anxious for a return bout with Paul Alexander whom he fought with at the Elks club go. Shamrock and his sparring partner Max Hafer engaged in a four round bout at the Herrin shooting match, Sunday.

PLANS FOR DWELLINGS IN HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Plans for 60 dwellings of the community type, constitute part of the work of the night classes at Salem High school. Three types of cottages are included in the plans, the designing of which has been left to E. W. Heckert and students in the architectural drawing. Mr. Heckert, as head of this department has discovered several promising architects among the class personnel and the plans produced will vie in innovation and utility with blue-prints from older designers.

The cottages are planned by an Oregon lumber concern in connection with the construction of a workmen's village near one of the large mills. The buildings are of the cottage-bungalow type and when completed will be modern in detail.

In the night classes attending the Salem high school are several part-time students, who are taking advantage of the state's educational provisions, by taking an industrial course in addition to regular daily employment.

12-YEAR-OLD GIRL'S LETTER AMONG BEST

Among the best of the letters submitted in the recent "Made in Oregon" contest of Able & company was the following by 12-year-old Velleda Gurnatt, of the Liberty school.

"We should buy Oregon made products because we Oregonians consider these products far the best. Not for selfish reasons, but because many of our products are in demand in other sections of the United States and in foreign countries.

"We should use Oregon products in order that our people may be employed in the manufacture and preparation for market of the said products, thus increasing the wealth and population of Oregon, and also of our home city, Salem.

"By using the products of Oregon, one also saves paying the expensive freight rates which must be paid on goods shipped in from eastern markets.

"Many of our Oregon products such as wool, fruits, fruit juices, dairy products and wheat, are the best to be found in the world, so why not use them?"

Skin troubles need immediate and proper attention

Don't wait thinking they will disappear in time. Perhaps they will, but in the meantime you are suffering from the burning and itching, and allowing your nerves to become badly affected, when a little Resinol Ointment would doubtless relieve it all.

Unless the skin affection is caused by some internal disorder, Resinol Ointment usually clears it away, because it contains harmless, and soothing antiseptics for such conditions. It can be used easily for it is so nearly flesh-colored it does not attract attention. At all druggists.

Should Salem win their second contest with Eugene high, they will have another opponent to deal with and that is Albany, Salem's only defeat during the present season was administered by this school, which also recently defeated Eugene.

The regular lineup: A. Gill, Shaeffer, Bolsae, E. Gill and Ashby will make the trips. They will be accompanied by Coach Schott.

To the Editor:—The Associated-Press through your column gives us news of steps taken by National Chairman Hays of the republican party. Eight years out of power makes the Hays organization the vehicle to bring about a change in administration. Among your many republican readers there is an undoubted large number of independent voters. The republican managers in Oregon showed a low order of political wisdom in handling the legislature, or they would not have revived straight party ticket voting, and more than doubled state taxes. They would not have tried to revive pork-barrel methods in special highway bills to make this or that county road part of the state highway system.

These republican hound dogs have made no progress since the days when Governor Penney became famous for vetoing road bills drawn in the same rank manner and put through by a combination of hungry nikes all after a slice of the pork.

The Portland gang could not have played into the hands of Governor O'cott more effectively to strengthen him with the people than they did, and hence the wisdom of their leadership in state affairs is not taken without reservations by thousands of good republicans.

The fight of the radical partisans against the treaty of peace, like the radical egotists of the Brah-Johnson-Polandster stripe, is not representative of the better class of conscientious republicans, and will be resented if they are placed in complete control of the party machinery.

The prominent people selected to make the party platform would have looked better if there had been a few farmers among them in a great farming state like Oregon. The persons selected are capable of making campaign subscriptions and Hays needs them in managing a great national drive to overcome eight years of stifled democracy.

The republican managers can make no greater mistake than to feed the rank and file on too much reactionarism. To divide the party on the ratification of the Versailles treaty to humor Senator Lodge and other extreme partisans means defeat. The republicans won a majority in the senate and house because they had just as patriotically backed a war administration as the Democrats in the days of Abraham Lincoln had backed the war for the preservation of the Union.

They should have been unanimous in placing our country first in the ratification of the treaty and not allow all the affairs of the world and the future of its commerce to be settled in conferences where Uncle Sam has no representations. As against such partisanship the independent voters in either party will revolt, and not least among these are the women voters of Oregon.

A REPUBLICAN.

Why We Chose Sandow Trucks

THERE are some mighty good trucks that don't bear the Sandow Trade Mark. No denying that. Our problem was more difficult because of this. For our idea was to get a truck that was not only equal in every aspect to the recognized leaders—but if possible more.

Investigation of the whole truck field took us to Chicago. There we found that the Sandow was immensely popular. The greatest industrial firms, such as the Standard Oil Company and Armour & Company, were using whole fleets of Sandows.

We investigated the Sandow. We found it point for point, the equal of any truck in America, but having in addition five vital, exclusive features that no other truck has, nor can have. A big advantage for the Sandow, we thought.

We found that each of these five features was conceived with one definite object—economy of upkeep and maintenance. The Sandow Motor Rocker-Block to illustrate: It prevents broken motor legs or crank cases. And we found that the Sandow was the only truck in the world thus safeguarded. No Sandow ever made had suffered a broken motor leg or crank case from torsional strains that break these parts in ordinary trucks. A saving of hundreds of dollars made alone by this one Sandow invention and exclusive feature. Yet there were four other equally important and which effectively reduced truck costs.

The most economical truck to own and operate and maintain. That's what we sought. That's why we chose the Sandow. That's why we recommend it to you. That's why the Sandow will soon be the most popular truck in this section. Come in and see the truck and those five vital, exclusive features.

Five sizes—1, 1½, 2, 3½ and 5 tons.
