of T. L. Davidson, Sr., who died January 2, 1920, leaving an estate comprised mostly of personal property in Marion county, valued at $10,700. There are also holdings in Yamhill county valued at $1,300. T. L. Davidson, Jr., the nearest kin and only heir of the deceased, has been appointed administrator of the estate's affairs.

Lena Yanko has been appointed executrix of the will of George Neibert.

D. A. White, of the firm of D. A. White and Sons, returned Wednesday evening from an extended visit in California. Mr. White spent the greater part of the time at Long Beach, and says that the tourist traffic is unusually heavy this winter. In his opinion the Oregon country is the better of the two and the southern state excels only in its climate.

The general monthly meeting of the Salem Art League will be held in the auditorium of the Commercial club Tuesday evening, Feb. 10, at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Babcock, an interior decorator of Portland, will be present and address the meeting on the subject of interior decorating. He will have with him specimens of tapestries, wall hangings, etc., with which to illustrate his lecture. A large attendance is expected, and any person in Salem, not yet a member of the league, but who is interested in interior decorating, is cordially invited to attend.

Boys who are members of the Salem musical aggregation which will give a concert at the high school auditorium next Tuesday, are planning upon presenting their portion of the program in a manner which will demonstrate that man is still master of whatever art he may profess. Among the numbers given by the masculine members of the class are: Cornet solos, Ira Cave; cello obligato, Avery Hicks; xiphone duet, LaMonte Bullock and Wayne Allen; readings by Turfield Schindler.

J. L. Brown, Marion farmer, was a Salem visitor Wednesday.

E. A. Cone, who farms near Butteville, transacted business in Salem Wednesday.

C. A. George, of Marion was another Salem visitor Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Coos Bay are in Salem with the intention of locating here if desirable property can be secured.

Transacting business, S. L. Minard, fruit farmer of Polk county, was in Salem Wednesday.

Mrs. Kathryn Arnold and Mrs. Thomas Noot of Roseburg were Salem visitors Wednesday afternoon.

The Willamette Glee club, on tour in eastern Oregon and Washington, have had several dates cancelled on account of flu. No concerts were given at Hermiston nor at Pendleton, on account of quarantine regulations at those towns. During this enforced vacation the glee club was able to witness the basketball game between the Beaurcats and the Whitman Missionaries at Walla Walla Wednesday night.

The Websterian literary society of Willamette university will use the G. A. R. hall at the armory for their meetings on Thursday evenings, in place of the halls which were destroyed in the Waller hall fire. The members of the society are grateful to the members of the G. A. R. and other organizations through whom the halls were secured.

The Kingman colony drainage district, located near Nyssa in Malheur county, has made application of the state irrigation securities commission for the certification of $50,000 in bonds.

Out of a total of 1352 accidents reported to the state industrial accident for the month of January, ten were fatal, according to the monthly report just compiled. Final settlements were effected by the commission on 881 cases during the month.

Alderman W. A. West will leave this evening for Klamath Falls on a business trip. He expects to return early next week.

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, went to Jackson county Wednesday evening on school affairs.

G. W. Stokes, deputy in the state fire marshal's office, is in Pendleton this week co-operating with the fire department of that city in the purchase of some new fire fighting equipment.

T. E. McCroskey, manager of the Salem Commercial Club, and Luther J. Chapin, director of the agricultural department of the club, were in Portland Thursday conferring with officials of the state Chamber of Commerce on official matters connected with the club. They planned to return to Salem at four o'clock in the evening.

The regular monthly open forum meeting of the Commercial club will be held next Wednesday evening at the club chambers at eight o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Otto Williams, 65, father of Mrs. Josephine Lachee, of this city, died in Portland Wednesday. The body is due to arrive here at the Rigdon & Son parlors some time Thursday. It was not known Thursday morning where the funeral would be held, and where he would be buried.

The collision of machines, driven by W. B. Gerth, West Salem, and F. A. Turner, 335 North Capitol street, at the intersection of Court and High street at 8:30 Wednesday night was reported to police. Only slight damage to the machine resulted.

A two-story frame dwelling will be built by Daniel J. Fry at 715 South High street in the near future. A permit to erect the house which will cost $4000, was issued to the builder, G. M. Douglas, Wednesday by the city recorder.

T. G. Chesnut, administrator of the estate of W. H. Claypool, has filed final account in which estate's distribution is covered and a cash residue of $5129.35. After having taken care of him for the major portion of the time since his mother's death, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Schmidt of Silverton, were Wednesday granted an order for the adoption of Morris Worrick Van Eykren, two and a half years of age. The adoption proceedings has the consent of the father of the baby boy, John Van Eykren. The boy will be renamed Morris Worrick Schindler.

Joe Stewart, Levi Marks and A. B. Bewley have been appointed appraisers of the estate of T. L. Davidson, Jr. these properties being located in Yamhill county.

It wasn't so many years ago, says the Portland Oregonian, that Salem boasted of a twilight baseball league, and one of the strong teams was that which represented the Salem woolen mills of which Thomas B. Kay, ex-state treasurer, is principal owner. Tom, as the baseball fans all know him, wasn't content with sitting on the sidelines, but was one of the best players on the team. Tom usually held down the shortstop position, while his son, Errel, a former University of Oregon athlete, was stationed at third base. Father and son grabbed all the wicked grounders or liners which came in their direction. In his younger days, Mr. Kay was an amateur boxer of no mean ability, and he is still able to hold his own if verbal argument is of no avail. Mr. Kay is registered at the Multnomah. Mrs. Kay is with him.

Jenkins Credentials Canceled By Mexico

Mexico City, Feb. 5.—Julio Mitchell, state prosecutor of Puebla, has been notified that the exequatur of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, was cancelled on February 1. It was learned today. The federal government is awaiting action by the Puebla courts on Mr. Jenkins case before taking steps regarding its alleged intention of requesting him to leave Mexico. Decision in the case is expected during the coming week.

CANCER

To any person who may be interested I will state that I was afflicted with CANCER involving almost the entire lower lip for two years or more. I consulted with Dr. S. C. Stone, Salem, Oregon, who applied a medicine for five days and the CANCER came out entire to my great satisfaction. The place healed up nicely and I can truly recommend Dr. Stone and his treatment.
