

STATE'S CHIEF WITNESS TELLS MURDER DETAILS

man was named as a defendant, but his name was not included in the amended information. Davis Carried Rifle. Morgan's testimony also tended to establish the state's contention that the disputed 38-56 rifle from which it is alleged Grimm met his death, was in the hall before the shooting and was taken to the Avalon hotel by a man named Davis, who is named as a defendant, but who is still at large. Morgan testified that a man named Davis was in the hall before the parade started, that he started out, walking stiff-legged, but returned and took a rifle from the leg of his trousers and wrapped it in a black overcoat and then went out in the direction of the Avalon. Barnett went to the Avalon ahead of Davis, Morgan testified.

Morgan was in the I. W. W. hall at the time of the shooting, he testified, but did not shoot himself. Britt Smith, he said, offered him a gun, but he shook his head negatively. Elmer Smith, Central attorney, one of the defendants, went to the I. W. W. hall shortly before the shooting. Morgan testified. He said Elmer Smith and Britt Smith held a conversation, but that he did not hear any of it. He noticed, however, he said, that Britt Smith pointed towards the Avalon and Arnold hotels. He heard Elmer Smith say, he said, that he was going back to protect his own office in case it was attacked.

"Keep your mouths shut," was the instruction of Britt Smith to those in the hall, according to Morgan. This, he said, was an instruction to all in case any of them were caught.

MERCER OF ALL WAR DEBTS ADVOCATED

Mr. Arnold, who is a representative of the American Bankers association, urged that an international clearing house be established as an adjunct to his plan.

He declared an international bankers conference should be called immediately, and that commercial men of all nations be invited to send representatives. He said such a conference should provide measures for standardization of currency and for the transaction of exchange fluctuations.

HELP THE GIRLS IS PLEA OF Y.W.C.A. IN CLOSING BIG DRIVE

With only slightly more than half of the $5000 fund which they are seeking to raise in Salem during their drive this week raised, and but one more day remaining in which to reach their goal, the committee in charge of the Y. W. C. A. drive has issued an appeal for support to the people of Salem, pleading that the girls of the city be provided for in the same way in which the public, through popular subscription, is caring for the recreation and amusement of the young men and women.

The request for support in putting the drive over by Saturday night is as follows: Citizens of Salem, we appeal to you to assist in our rescue. The girlhood of our fair city are asking for a small share in the good things of life. They are well taken care of. You have supported the Y. W. C. A. in fine style and the Boy Scouts are being taken care of and altogether some $15,000 worth of aid and help of this kind will be spent on the boyhood of this city in 1920. That is fine.

There is no entertainment for the girls outside the picture shows and the church in Salem. This is in different ages. Girls are or should be on an equal par with the boys. They are our future citizens too and we should help them to grow up good citizens for the citizenship of this city will never rise higher than the character of our women. The girls desire to swim and engage in athletics just the same as the boys. They are only asking for $5000 and the workers in the campaign for whom they have reached the half way mark. Please help put us over the top tomorrow the last day. If you haven't subscribed call up the Commercial and list your name. If you can give more than you have subscribed please call and add to your subscription. The women of the Y. W. C. A. have done a great work in the past two years and the girls want and need the larger facilities. Come on then we need your help tomorrow.

Eberle, deputy state forester, will attend the aviation school at March field, Riverside, Cal., beginning February 20 at which forest service men will be trained in the work of an airplane observer in order to cooperate with the army aviators in their work of patrolling the forests during the coming summer. It is expected that five men from the forest service will attend the school. While nothing definite has been done by the war department as far toward maintaining the forest this year Colonel H. H. Arnold in charge of the western department of the air service is proceeding on the presumption that sufficient planes will be forthcoming at least for the best of the three coast states and is making plans accordingly.

This new Oakland Sensible Six represents the most effective combination of high power, light weight, full comfort and definite economy, yet accomplished in a motor car. In it are embodied the ripe experience and the expert manufacturing ability of the eighth largest automobile producer in the world. It is an all-family, all-purpose car—simple in design, strong in construction, exceedingly powerful in action—capable of enduring severe and constant daily service with a minimum of wear and upkeep cost. Oakland owners' records show for it such economies as from 18 to 25 miles to the gallon of gasoline under ordinary driving conditions, and from 8,000 to 12,000 miles from the oversize tires with which it is regularly equipped. In all its fundamentals this new Oakland Sensible Six is a continuation of the car upon which Oakland has specialized for two years. Today, not one part or detail of it remains untried or unproven. We still have a few cars from the last shipment for immediate delivery. The price on the next shipment will be advanced $100.00. Call for demonstration, you are under no obligations. $1250 f. o. b.
