Staging a comeback that had some of the enthusiastic fans nearly falling out of the bleachers, the Hauser Bros. quintet won in the last minute of play from the Capital National bank warriors 23 to 22 at the Y. M. C. A. last night. It was by all odds the hottest fought and closest game of the Commercial League series that has yet been played.

In the first six minutes of play the bank team piled up a score of 16 while Hauser Bros. were making four points and owing to the fact that the bank five were successful in defeating the league leaders, Anderson-Brown last week, everyone began to feel that it was going to be a walkaway. However at this juncture, the Hauser Bros. stiffened up, and neither side scored again during the first half. From the time the starting whistle blew for the second half, it was a battle royal. Springer, captain of Hauser Bros. team rushed down the floor time and again for a basket, the final score crediting him with 14 individual points. When the score was about tied time out was called and a shift was made enabling Hubey to guard Springer. But even the veteran high school star couldn't entirely stop the Hauser Bros. captain, who got away for four baskets after the change, the last of which turned defeat into victory.

In the second game of the evening Anderson-Brown easily won from the U. S. National bank five 37 to 15. The league leaders played in excellent form but did not have to extend themselves at any time.

Next Tuesday evening Hauser Bros. will meet Anderson-Brown and the two bank teams will mix. Coach Schatt refereed both games last evening.

HIGH QUINTET DEFEATS VARSITY FRESHMEN

The Salem high basketball team defeated the Willamette freshmen in the Willamette gym Tuesday afternoon by a score of 22 to 14. Superior teamwork won for the high school, as they were able to work the ball down the floor at will. The freshmen excelled at shooting when they did get an opportunity to shoot, and with a little more practice together as a team they will be a winning aggregation. Amory Gill and Boise shot the greatest number of baskets for the high school team, and Socolofsky and Thomas played the best game for the freshmen, who were handicapped by the absence of Ganzans, who has a sprained ankle.

WHEN I got out of the Army, I raised my right hand over my derby and said, "Never again, I hope!"

And I am here to state that I was just one of about 3,000,000 who felt like that—only stronger.

It was my privilege to kick and believe me, I did. I couldn't get out too quick—I wanted a feather bed, restaurant food and trousers that flapped around my ankles.

But now that I'm out, civil life is not all that we cracked it up to be! And the Army looks like a pretty good place, after all.

I've been and seen and done things that I wouldn't give up my memories of, for anything.

I had a fine crowd of buddies—two-fisted men with a regular man's outlook on life.

I learned how to take care of myself and all comers—to hold my own with the best and with the worst.

And I learned the sort of discipline that makes a man able to handle men.

I got pretty fair clothes—not as good as the Army gives in peace time but warm and plenty of them—and they didn't set me back sixty a suit, either.

Meals—well, did you ever see a hungry looking soldier?

We all kicked then. Some of the rear-rank generals will always kick. You can't please some birds ever.

The Army never was a bed of roses—it was not meant to be. It is a powerful fighting machine. And even right now, with the peacetime lack of hardship, it's still no place for the lad who won't "play ball."

But, the man who does his duty, who snaps into the spirit of the game, who stands on his own feet, who plays hard and plays clean—there is the chap who gets along and eats up the Army life.

He learns how to handle men, he rises in rank as fast as he proves himself.

He is intrusted with important and interesting work.

He gets more money clear than he could save in civil life.

He comes out with a better education—he has a real time with a good crowd of regular he-men.

He's seen something and done something for the little old U. S. A.
