SERIES 20

Studebaker

BIG-SIX

THE unusual roadability of the Series 20 BIG-SIX is due in great part to the carefully balanced chassis of 126-inch wheelbase, and the spring-suspension—also in part to the irreversible steering system, and the excellent cord tire equipment. You'll notice the result the first time you drive the car.

Add to this the responsive 60-horsepower motor, its economy and flexibility, the sterling high quality throughout and the beautiful clean-cut design of the whole car—both mechanically and in outward appearance—and you will see why this is called, "America's Greatest Road Car."
