Mechanics' Lien Involves Detail In Wage Dispute

In an answer filed Thursday morning, Will E. Purdy replies to the complaint by Earl Patton and Harry Patton, Salem plumbers, against Purdy and others. The plumbing firm had filed a mechanics lien upon property in which Purdy and others are interested, claiming that about $700 was due them for plumbing work performed for Purdy.

The defendant also alleges that the plumbers while digging a ditch in installing the work, "intentionally wasted two to four hours each, per day" and that while digging this ditch, "neither of them worked longer than five minutes each at one time."

At the termination of his counter complaint, Purdy asks that the judgment be abated, so that the plumbing firm will only receive $167 as further remuneration for the work involved, and that they pay his costs in the suit.

Parents' Fight For Little Girl Aired In Court

After giving consideration to the various phases of the case, Judge Percy R. Kelly signed an order, Thursday defining the status of Marvel Hill, the 15 year old girl who recently was "kidnaped" by her father and placed in Sacred Heart academy.

for divorce. Mrs. Hill charged that her husband had seized the little girl and placed her in the school without first obtaining her (Mrs. Hill's) consent. Since that time, general evidence showed that Mrs. Hill's efforts to visit the girl at the school had created such a turmoil that the school authorities had returned the little girl to Mr. Hill, until such time as the parents could come to an agreement concerning their mutual visits to their daughter.

By Judge Kelly's order, the little girl is to be returned to the school and both parents are to be given equal opportunity and privileges in the matter of visiting Marvel. As pertaining to this portion of the action, Mr. Hill is also ordered to pay any costs occasioned by his wife in filing the motion.

In an answer and counter complaint to his wife's petition, Hill charged that she is not a proper person to have custody of the child. He asks that the divorce be granted and that he be given the custody of Marvel.
