

DREAM OF LIFETIME ACCOMPLISHED IN BOYS' HOME OPENING

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 27.—A resolution, formed in the days when he was toiling as a locomotive engineer, to make life easier and more pleasant, if he ever was given the opportunity, for parentless boys and girls than his own orphan boyhood had been, saw its fruition here recently with the completion by L. W. Hutton of this city, at a cost approximating half a million dollars, of the Hutton settlement for children.

The opportunity came some years afterward, when fortunate investments in mining properties had placed Mr. Hutton in the class of reputed millionaires, and in 1917 construction of an orphan's home was started. The entire institution, consisting of five fireproof buildings and a large dairy barn situated on 280 acres of woods, farm and pasture lands near this city, has been built from Mr. Hutton's personal funds and under his personal supervision.

"We have sought to avoid all semblance to the ordinary 'orphans' home' in planning and building the institution," Mr. Hutton said. "It is my desire that no suggestion of 'orphans' be attached to the establishment in any manner. I experienced what it means to lack a father and a mother, and I want the children who are to live in this institution never to be forced to contend with that handicap."

The institution resembles a large country home, multiplied by four or five, more than it does the traditional orphanage. Besides a large central building, housing the offices and living quarters of the staff, a completely equipped hospital, an assembly hall, bakery, refrigeration plant and laundry, the establishment includes four "cottages." Each of the latter, constructed of pressed brick, is in fact a large dwelling house, accommodating 25 children and their matron.

The joys of country life, with some light work in the gardens and fields, are promised the hundred boys and girls of the institution next summer. Meat, vegetables, milk, cream and butter, and the grain for the bread to go with them are to be raised on the farm, where last year some 700 sacks of potatoes and 700 bushels of wheat, among other crops, were grown.

The institution is managed by the Ladies Benevolent society, an undenominational religious organization of this city, but the expenses of the institution not otherwise provided for are met by Mr. Hutton, who has signified his intention of endowing the home upon his death.

Bribery Charges In Fraud Case Killed

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 26.—Charges of bribery against the six men being tried in federal court here on indictments alleging a conspiracy to defraud the government of millions of dollars worth of army ordnance material were dismissed by United States District Judge Tuttle today.

The trial began last December and presentation of evidence was completed yesterday. Summing up arguments were expected to be completed today. Captain Soterios Nicholson with Grant Hugh Browne, millionaire sportsman and four others, were accused of conspiring through pre-arranged bids to purchase at their own price ordnance material which the government planned to dispose of.

Oil Seekers Flock To Alaskan Fields

Seward, Alaska, Feb. 26.—Thousands of acres of western Alaska land believed to contain oil were being claimed today by locators who left Seward, Cordova, Kodiak, Anchorage and other points yesterday when word came that President Wilson had signed the oil and coal land leasing bill throwing government reserves open to development.

Alaska's oil country stretches from Cordova westward to Dutch Harbor, on one of the Alaskan islands. Last night twenty locations had been made within a radius of ten miles of Seward.

Guards Patrol Oil Fields To Prevent Claim Jumping

Casper, Wyo., Feb. 26.—Armed guards last night patrolled the oil field of the Salt Creek field, said to be the richest oil region in the Rocky Mountain states to prevent claim jumping on the first night after release of the lands under the national oil leasing bill signed by the president yesterday.

A raw wind sweeping across the frozen country did not deter claimants of the land. Automobile headlights were turned into searchlights and mounted men rode the country, following every suspicious movement of unidentified persons. A considerable part of the land has been partially developed and claimants of the land were anxious to prevent outside parties erecting a derrier during the night and thus initiating long litigation over the land.

MICHIGAN TO FORCE CANDIDATES OUT BY MARCH 1 THRU LAW

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 27.—How many potential presidential nominees will seek the endorsement of Michigan's delegation to the national convention remains a matter of speculation. The complete list will not be known until noon March 1, when the time for filing nominating petitions expires, although the preference primary does not take place until April 5.

Party managers are making every effort to get the greatest number of candidates on the primary ballot, holding that a true expression of Michigan's sentiment cannot be obtained unless a large field is placed before the voters for choice.

Foremost among the republicans who will be on the primary ballot are Major General Leonard Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, who already have appeared several times in the state. Senator Hiram Johnson of California, also has indicated his intention of filing nominating petitions. In the absence of a definite pronouncement from President Wilson on the third term subject the democrats have been marking time.

Although Herbert Hoover has announced he does not seek presidential honors, incomplete petitions in his behalf already have been filed at the secretary of state's office. It is generally expected Hoover's name will appear on both republican and democratic ballots, the state's legal department having ruled that the amendment to the primary law passed by the last legislature does not apply to the presidential preference primary.

As only 100 signatures are required to nominating petitions to a place on the primary ballot, it is expected a number of petitions will be held up until nearly the last minute.
