HIGH SCHOOL STAR TO PLAY IN BEARCAT MULTNOMAH GAME

In a game rounding out the intercollegiate basketball season in Salem for the year local fans are going to have the opportunity to see Cole, the sensational Lincoln high school guard who made such a brilliant record in the recent high school tournament here, in action once more when the Willamette Bearcats and Multnomah club, of Portland, clash on the armory floor Wednesday evening.

Considerable interest is being shown in the prospect of seeing the high school star in action in faster company, and the game Wednesday will give a good line on what he really can do. To stand out as a star with his team mates, Cole will have to be on his toes every minute, for the club quintet has gone through the season without a defeat.

In their first game Willamette went down to defeat before the club men by a margin of one point after battling them to a stand still through two halves and an extra five minute period, and the Bearcats are planning revenge if it is to be had.

Coach Mathews has made no definite announcement of the men that he will use in the game, but intimates it is likely that the lineup will be the same as in the games with Idaho here. The two weeks of enforced rest since the Idaho games should have a big effect in removing the staleness which the bearcats demonstrated then, in the opinion of the coach, and he is looking for them to give the visitors a hard scrap.

Coach Hargiss, of O. A. C., who officiated in the Lincoln-Salem high school championship contest here Saturday afternoon, will referee Wednesday's game.

CARPENTIER MARRIED.

Paris, Mar. 9.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight boxing champion of Europe, was married to Madamoiselle Georgette Laurentia Elsasse at the city hall today. The religious ceremony will be celebrated at a Paris church tomorrow. The civil marriage occurred nine hours before the time originally set, in order to avoid crowds.

BASEBALL

Regina, Sask., Mar. 9.—Bert Whaling, catcher for the Boston Braves in the national league in 1913, 1914 and 1915, has been signed by the Regina baseball club for the coming season.

Silverton Boy To Lead Oregon Five

Eugene, Mar. 9.—Eddie Durno of Silverton, midget forward on the varsity basketball quintet and one of the smallest players in the conferences, was elected captain of the Oregon basketball team for the 1921 season at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Durno was one of the mainstays on the varsity five this year and is rated as one of the fastest forwards in the conference by sport authorities. He was selected as a member of the all Pacific coast team last year.

Durno scored 196 points of the total number of 431 made by the lemon yellow five this season.

Baby Shunned Because of Eczema!

John M. Shanting, 601 Main St., Lancaster Ohio, writes:

"My baby boy contracted a severe case of Eczema which covered his face and head. Visitors to our home would shun my child because he looked so terrible. I procured a bottle of D. D. D. In an incredibly short time my boy was cured."

Thousands of letters from grateful users of D. D. D. prove its wonderful results in healing torturing skin disease. The very first application allays the itching and burning. Why not try a bottle at once and be convinced? Your money back if the first bottle does not bring relief. 35c, 60c and $1.20. Try D.D.D. Soap, too.

REPUBLICAN LEAEERS ASSENT TO CHANGE

purpose for which they fought.

"I think we can dismiss from our minds the idea that it is necessary to stipulate in connection with article 10 the constitutional methods we should use in fulfilling our obligations under it. We gain nothing by such stipulation and secure nothing not already secured. It was understood as a matter of course at the conference in Paris that whatever obligations any government assumed or whatever duties it undertook under the treaty would have to be fulfilled by its usual and established constitutional methods of action.

"Once or twice in meetings of the conference, when the treaty was under consideration 'reservations' were made to that effect by the representatives of individual powers and these 'reservations' were invariably received in the way in which men who have met for business and not for talk always receive acts of scrupulous supererogation—listened to with indifferent silence as such men listen to what is a matter of course and was not necessary to say.

Reservations Are Hit.

"There can be no objection to explaining again what our constitutional methods are and that congress alone can declare war or determine the cause or occasions for war and that it alone can authorize the use of the armed forces of the United States on land or on the sea. But to make such a declaration would certainly be a work of supererogation.

"I am sorry to say reservations that have come under my notice are almost without exception, not interpretations of the articles to which it is proposed to attach them but in effect virtual nullifications of articles.

"Any reservations which seek to deprive the league of nations of one force of article ten cuts at the very heart and life of the covenant itself. Any league of nations which does not guarantee as a matter of incontestable right the political independence and integrity of each of its members might be hardly more than a futile scrap of paper, as ineffective in operation as the agreement between Belgium and Germany which the Germans violated in 1914. Article ten represents the renunciation by Great Britain and Japan which before the war had begun to find so many interests in common in the Pacific; by France; by Italy—by all the great fighting powers of the world of the old pretensions of political conquest and territorial aggrandizement. It is a new doctrine in the world's affairs and must be recognized or there is no secure basis for the peace which the world so longingly desires and so desperately needs. If article 10 is not adopted and acted up, the governments which reject it will, I think, be guilty of bad faith to their people whom they induced to make the infinite sacrifices of the war by the pledge that they would be fighting to redeem the world from the old order of force and aggression. They will be acting also in bad faith to the adoption of the world at large to which they appealed for support in a concerted stand against the aggressions and pretensions of Germany. If we were to reject article ten or so to weaken it as to take its full force out of it, it would mark us as desiring to return to the old world of jealous rivalry and misunderstandings from which our gallant soldiers have rescued us, and would leave use without any vision or new conceptio of justice and peace. We would have learned no lesson from the war but gained only the regret that it had involved us in its maelstrom of suffering. If America has awakened, as the rest of the world has, to the vision of a new day in which the mistakes of the past are to be corrected, it will welcome the opportunity to share the responsibilities of article 10.

Article Is Protective.

"It must not be forgotten, senator, that this article, constitutes a renunciation of wrong ambition on the part of powerful nations with whom we were associated during the war. It is by no means certain that without this article any such renunciation will take place. Militaristic ambitions and imperialistic policies are by no means dead even in the counsels of the nations whom we most trust and with whom we most desire to be associated in the tasks of peace. Throughout the sessions of the conference in Paris it was evident that a militaristic party, under the most influential leadership, was seeking to gain ascendancy in the councils of France. They were defeated then, but are in control now. The chief arguments advanced in Paris in support of the Italian claims on the Adriatic were stragetic arguments, that is to say, military arguments, which had at their back the thought of naval supremacy in that sea. For my own part, I am as intolerant of imperialistic designs on the part of other nations as I was of such designs on the part of Germany.

"The choice is between two ideals: On the one hand, the ideal of democracy which represents the rights of free peoples everywhere to govern themselves, and on the other hand, the ideal of imperialism which seeks to dominate by force and unjust power, an ideal which is by no means dead and which is earnestly held in many quarters still. Every imperialistic influence in Europe was hostile to the embodiment of article 10 in the covenant and its defeat now would make complete consummation of their efforts to nullify the treaty. I hold the doctrine of article 10 to be the essence of Americanism. We cannot repudiate it or weaken it without repudiating our own principles.

Sees Imperialistic Hand.

"The imperialist wants no league of nations, but if, in response to the unveral cry of the masses everywhere, there is to be one, he is interested to secure one suited to his own purposes, one that will permit him to continue the historic game of pawns and peoples, * * * the juggling of provinces, the old balances of power, and the inevitable wars attendant upon these things. The reservation proposed would perpetuate the old order. Does anyone really want to see the old game played again? Can any one really venture to take part in reviving the old order? The enemies of a league of nations have by every true instinct centered their efforts against article 10, for it is undoubtedly the foundation of the whole structure. It is the bulwark, and the only bulwark of the rising democracy of the world against the forces of imperialism and reaction.

"Either we should enter the league fearlessly, accepting the responsibility and not fearing the role of leadership which we now enjoy, contributing our efforts toward establishing a just and permanent peace, or we should retire as gracefully as possible from the great concert of powers by which world was saved. For my part, I am willing to trust to the counsel of diplomats the working out of any salvation of the world from things which it has suffered.

Cannot Be Graduated.

"I believe that when the full significance of this great question has been generally comprehended obstacles will seem insignificant before the opportunity, a great and glorious opportunity to contribute our overwhelming moral and material force to the establishment of an international regime in which our own ideals of justice and right may be made to prevail and the nations of the world be allowed a peaceful development under conditions of order and safety hitherto impossible

"I need not say that I have given a great deal of thought to the whole matter of reservations proposed in connection with the ratification of the treaty which contains the covenant of the league of nations and I have been struck by the fact that practically every so-called reservation was in effect a rather sweeping nullification of the terms of the treaty. I hear of reservationists and mild reservations, but I cannot understand the difference between a nullifier and a mild nullifier. Our responsibility as a nation in this turning point of history is an overwhelming one ,and if I had the opportunity I would beg everyone concerned to consider the matter in the light of what it is possible to accomplish for humanity rather than in the light of special national interests.

"If I have been truly informed concerning the desire of some of your colleagues to know my views, I would be very glad if you would show this letter to them.

"Cordially and sincerely yours.

"WOODROW WILSON."
