Committees To Get Salesmen To Join Club Named

More interest among young men working in shops and stores in the city will have to be aroused before a Salesmen's club can be formed, and in view of this fact those associate members who met in the Commercial club Friday night to form the organization, outlined a campaign for more prospective members. Committees, with the following men as chairmen were named to visit every store and shop in the city to recruit members for the organization: Robert LaRue, Oscar Olson, J. W. Chambers Jr., F. W. Jobleson and E. E. McDonald.

Passenger Auto
Business Asset
Declares Delano

"The rapidly increasing use of passenger automobiles in business is proof that they are a profitable investment," says F. G. Delano of the Salem Automobile company, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars. "Business houses would not buy more and more of these cars except for economic reasons—and these reasons are obvious. The passenger car not only cuts cost. It increases the value of money. Travelling expenses when invested in a motor car, show more satisfactory results. It makes the money paid to salesmen yield more business and more profits. The salesman's time is valuable and an automobile enables him to see more people and to cover more territory in a day. It makes him independent of other expensive conveyances. It does not limit him to railway schedules. He does not have to waste time in unprofitable places. He can get to the right place at the right time. His motor car makes every minute count and saves all his energy for his work. And the passenger automobile is proving its advantages, not only in selling but in every line of business where transportation is a factor. This is especially true of the up-to-date, medium weight cars. Their well balanced construction makes them absolutely reliable. Their convenience, increased by complete equipment, adapts them especially to commercial needs. In addition to these advantages they are as inexpensive to maintain as to buy. Their total maintenance cost divided by actual mileage proves how much they save. Increased business proves how much they earn. It is this economic merit combined with their dependability and convenience that makes medium weight cars such important factors in business transportation."

WEALTHY OF CITY
FAIL TO CONTRIBUTE
IN HOSPITAL FUND

The Salem General Hospital campaign for $100,000 will fall unless the citizens of Salem who are financially able to assist donate, was the pessimistic word issued at campaign headquarters in the Commercial club today. The figures released Friday showing that $25,000 was yet needed to put the campaign "over the top" were unchanged today. No further committee reports had been received up to noon, and Campaign Manager William McGilchrist, was unable to make any estimate of the amount the committees probably would report when they came in. Some drastic action to gain donations from Salem's wealthy will be taken, as a result of a decision reached at a conference Friday night of leaders in the campaign. What steps would be taken were not announced. It is believed that the committees will "show up" the latent subscribers by publication of their names after futile attempts are made to gain their support through circulation.

CITIZENS OF SALEM
IT IS UP TO YOU
The edict has gone forth that the MIDGET MARKET "must go." Since it was first established it has always been a "thorn in the side" of the meat combine in Salem. Now that they are thoroughly organized as never before, they are going to make another attempt to put us out of business.
You, who have resided in Salem for some time, do not find it hard to recall how the big fellows soaked you before the Midget came. Do you want those conditions back again under the guise of "the high cost of living?"
They now have a stronger combination than ever and they are out to "get" the Midget with their "camouflaged markets."
You, who have been our strong supporters since we were first established, who have been loyal throughout our fight, can now aid us again. Tell your friends, be a booster for the MIDGET. Do not be misled by the BEEF TRUST'S underhand methods. Let's beat their game.
When the Midget was first opened, a prominent member of the trust remarked that they would "have the boys back on the farm plowing for the old man in a couple of weeks." "The boys" haven't started to plowing yet. We have got to teach that BEEF TRUST a few more lessons, among them that they don't own Salem.
YOURS FOR VICTORY,
Midget Market
