W. W. Wism versus common sense" is the subject upon which William H. Valvani of the Pacific Light and Power Co. of Portland, will speak next Wednesday evening at the public library, Mr. Galvani, who is a native of Russia, spoke on last year's lecture course on the subject of bolshevism. The pleasure which he gave his audience on that subject promises much for this which is distantly related. To his study of the classes of whom he speaks, Mr. Galvani brings a sane mind and a sympathetic interest. The lecture will be presented in the auditorium of the library at 8 p. m. on Wednesday.

After being closed since January 4, when a portion of the building was destroyed by fire, the public library reopened Friday and is rapidly returning to normal, according to Miss Flora Case, librarian. Although the library has been open temporarily from time to time since the fire, no very great volume of business has been done, owing to the short hours it was at the use of the public, while the workmen were not actually at work in the interior. Friday 393 books were issued to readers, the largest number since January 8, the day before the conflagration. On that day 493 books were given out.

Old stocks of tires held by a few dealers in Salem will be sold at the old price, and will not be affected by the 15 to 18 percent raise announced several days ago by distribution houses in Portland. J. W. Jones, of the Salem Valve company, said today that he did not intend to raise the price on his present stock of auto tires.

L. Smith have been named as appraisers of the Geneva A. Allen estate by County Judge Bushey. As administrator R. G. Allen is appointed. Marion county property valued at $4900 is included in the estate's holding.

According to appraisers' report recently filed, the J. N. Starr estate is valued at $1700, representing property in Marion county. The appraisal was made by Nellie E. Varley, J. W. LaBare and E. N. Starr.

The Rev. Thomas R. Anderson announces that the usual church services Sunday at the First Presbyterian church both morning and evening. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Liberty has something it is proud of. That is its new band, with all its noise and pomp. At the Parent-Teachers meeting in Liberty hall there Friday night the band made its first public appearance. The enthusiasm with which it was greeted plainly indicated the pride of the community in the organization, for it was compelled to play again and again.

START INVESTIGATION BOND BUYING BY STATE TREASURER

R. Howard, said by neighbors to have been speeding with his machine on 13th street, between Chemeketa and Marion, was arrested Friday by Chief of Police Welsh, and fined $5 in municipal court. Howard pleaded guilty to the charge.

With the Epworth League acting as host, the members and friends of Jason Lee Memorial met at the church Tuesday evening for supper, a social hour and the regular monthly business meetings of the different organizations of the church. This is the second of these enjoyable and profitable occasions.

H. N. Ely of Salem has been awarded the contract to complete the two dormitories at the state school for the feeble minded. The last legislature appropriated $11,000 for this work which will be done by day labor under Ely's direction.

Willard Marbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marbury, 211 Miller street, after 30 months as a United States marine stationed in Haiti, is in Salem visiting with his parents. Young Marbury is staying in Portland, and will return there after a few days here.

In Marion county a candidate for a county office on the republican ticket must have the signatures of at least 147 bona fide voters on his petition before his name can be placed upon the ballot for the May primary. A candidate on the democratic ticket for similar office must secure the names of 20 voters upon his petition. Not less than 15 petitions must be circulated by the prospective candidate. The above data is furnished by County Clerk U. G. Boyer, whose office has recently been deluged by aspiring office seekers anxious to know "how it is done."

Final account has been filed by J. N. Nangen, administrator in the estate of Elena Brumberg, deceased. Upon final hearing of the account, County Judge W. M. Bushey declared the estate closed and the administrator relieved from further obligations in the matter.

Dr. John chooses as his topic "Industrial Problems of European industrial problems, he was well fitted to discuss the topic, and the lecture proved to be highly interesting and instructive.

Discrimination For Four L's Alleged

"Rank discrimination in favor of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen is being practiced by some officials of the Spaulding Logging company," alleged Philip M. Holden, Saturday morning, after a conference with heads of the Timberworkers' local of this city. "In our original agreement with the company, C. K. Spaulding, its president, assured us that the Timberworkers would have a square deal, but apparently, Mr. Spaulding, has forgotten that promise, or else subordinate officials are going over his head."

"Recently, men of the mill have been brought into the office and urged to join the Four 'L' organization. One of their organizers held a meeting in the company's yard previous to this, and the men were urged to attend in the company's time," states Holden. "Since the timberworkers went into Effective Monday the Oregon Electric train schedules that prevailed before the war will be restored, it was announced yesterday by assistant general passenger agent, R. H. Crozier. Four new trains will be established.

At a meeting held in the Commercial club rooms Friday night plans were made for the organization of a local association of the alumni of the University of Oregon. The constitution and by-laws are now in the hands of a committee, and it is probable that the association would be organized in the near future. Another meeting will be held Tuesday, March 16, at 7 p. m. W. C. Winslow is one of the principle organizers.

The Freshmen Glee of Willamette University has been postponed until Friday, March 19, because of other matters that will occupy the time of the students until that day.

Wood bids will be received at the local postoffice for 55 cords of big fir wood. Postmaster August Hucklestein said Saturday morning this is government wood, and anyone is eligible to put in a bid.

The W. C. T. U. will observe Francis Willard Memorial and Neal Dow day on Tuesday, March 16, in their hall on South Commercial street. After lunch Reverend Thomas Anderson of the Presbyterian church will address the gathering. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present at the observances.

Cards have been received in Salem announcing the engagement of Miss Marion Bond Abbey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Abbey, of Newark, New Jersey, to Harold Byrd Hager, of this city. Miss Abbey, who is extremely popular in Newark society circles, is a graduate of Wellesley College with the class of 1918. After graduation she became actively identified with war work for a year. Miss Abbey will be remembered here having visited in Salem last November. Harold Byrd Hager is the son of Mrs. Cordelia B. Hager of Salem. He spent 19 months in the service, and since his return to Salem has been connected with the Ladd and Bush bank. Mr. Hager is a graduate of Harvard, with the class of 1917, and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.
