

Benefit Events At Armory Will Be on Night March 17-18

It will be the wearin' of the green at the Senator's St. Paul hall at the armory, Wednesday night. The Revela-orchestra, known as one of the best dance orchestras in the valley, will play the kind of music that would make Paddy work stop his mightiest. This is the night when the revelers expect to make their last try for sufficient funds to complete their fund-raising. Every available dollar of the team will be used as hosts and "a corker of a time" is expected to all.

It is to show that the base-ment don't think they are not deserving enterprise, and members of the team also purchased tickets to Cassen's ball at the armory, Thursday night.

Top's Efforts To Motivate Club Cause To Vary "Roles"

At the time that he has thrown his ability and energy into the cause of a fast semi-pro baseball team, Biddle Bishop has as a canvasser, organizer and now, the hustling baseball player turned salesman is out "rout" with a good article.

Sims Nears End Of Testimony to Senate Probers

Washington, Mar. 17.—Nearing the end of his long statement to the senate investigating committee, Rear Admiral Sims today elaborated his charges that the inadequacy of his staff abroad prevented for several months maximum efficiency in the United States naval participation in the war. He testified that he was unable to bring the navy department to a realization of the importance of his post and necessity for providing a large staff at the outset to compile and digest allied naval information and direct the early details of American cooperation on the seas.

Admiral Sims said he arrived in London in April 1917 with but one aid and immediately realizing the magnitude of the task confronting him, cabled the department requesting that three additional assistants be sent him at once. Before he received any reply he was placed also in command of the destroyer force abroad, and thereupon asked for three more officers.

The last of April one officer arrived and was assigned to the destroyer base at Queenstown. Throughout June he remained in ignorance of the department's plans and received no further aid, the officer said. An American civilian who had resigned from the navy in 1914 to enter in business in London volunteered to as-

A little of the Real Tobacco Chew gives more genuine satisfaction than the big chew of the old kind.

Saves money, too—because this class of tobacco lasts much longer. The rich tobacco taste stays right with it.
