

Local Guard Unit Is Offering Good Recruiting Chanc

Company M, Salem's unit of the Third Oregon Infantry, is making preparations for the coming practice season, and as one of the best equipped National Guard companies in the United States, expects to do its best in representing Salem in Oregon Guard activities.

"What 'y doin' on your Monday evenings, Jack?" that is the question asked by members of the local company of possible guard material in Salem. For while company M has a roster of more than 80 names, the representation is small in comparison to what it should be for a city of this size.

Captain LeRoy Hewlett would like to hear from a dozen young men of good character, preferably ex-service men who would get into the company and participate in the spirit of co-operation manifested there. The guard, since its conjunction with the federal government has a great deal to offer to the young man who will get in and play the game square.

A member of the guard is required to be present only one night of each week. For this he receives semi-annual federal pay warrant at the rate of more than $1.50 for each night's attendance. He is equipped with a new uniform, overcoat and rifle. In addition to this he is entitled to participate in the periodic shooting meets and in the annual encampment, which may be held at Camp Lewis this year.

To all who are interested, the officers of the company extend an invitation to visit the armory next Monday night and talk the matter over.

Dallas Commercial Club Favors Bills

Dallas, Or., Mar. 19.—At the meeting of the Dallas Commercial club Wednesday night, in its new quarters in the Imperial hotel building, test body went on record as favoring the proposed tax to be voted by the people at the primary election for the support of the institutions of learning in the state which comprise the University of Oregon, the agricultural college and the state normal. Several citizens who are in close touch with the situation at the various institutions expressed their views on the matter and the club voted unanimously to lend their aid in backing the movement and to work for its support on the ballot.

Another measure up before the United States congress asking the support of the club is the passage of a bill levying a tax of 25 cents on every $100 worth of merchandise sold to a consumer created quite a little interest and on a vote of the club the bill was voted down.

About fifteen new members were admitted last Wednesday night which brings the total membership up near the 100 mark and includes practically every business man in the city. A number of farmers have also joined the club during the past month.

Pioneer Jeweler Of Dallas Retires

Dallas, Or., Mar. 19.—C. H. Morris, for the past 25 years one of the leading business men of this city, this week disposed of his jewelry store on Main street to William C. Retzer, who for more than the past two years has been connected with the Hartman Bros. company of Salem.

Mr. Morris came to Dallas when the town was still in its infancy and entered the jewelry business. Today no one is one of but a very few of the merchants that were in business at that time. His store which in those times was little more than a watch repairing shop has grown by leaps and bounds until today it is considered one of the most up-to-date stores in that line in the state outside of Portland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Morris have devoted their entire time to the store and have worked up a patronage that extends to many parts of the state.

Mr. Retzer, the new proprietor who took charge of the business today was formerly employed by the Martin Jewelry company and K. Falkenberg jeweler of Walla Walla, Washington. Coming to Oregon he entered the employ of the A. L. Schafer jewelry store of Pendleton.

Mirrors Used To Locate Defects

Philadelphia, Mar. 19.—Two hundred University of Pennsylvania oarsmen spend two hours each afternoon gazing at themselves in large mirrors in order that they may correct errors in their rowing form.

It is the opinion of Coach Wright that mirrors are invaluable to crew candidates.

"Every man out for my eight must watch the mirrors," he says. "The value of the mirrors is inestimable in showing the mistakes and weaknesses of the oarsmen. For instance, he stroke can see the mistakes each man is making as soon as the slip occurs. He can immediately correct them."

Freshman Glee Program Tonight Promises Treats

Willamette university's annual freshman glee will be held in the armory tonight beginning at 8 p. m. The freshmen have been busy today decorating the hall, and all is in readiness for the contest tonight. The judges' decisions on words and music are already in, ready to be opened after the glee. Judges on words are Miss Sterling, A. A. Schramm and Harold Eakin. Professor Roberts, Lowell Willis and Superintendent Todd are the judges on music.

On adaptability as a college song, S. Barton, R. R. Jones and Miss Daventport will make a decision; and on rendition D. F. Langenberg, Dr. Aldrich and Mrs. A. A. Schramm will be the judges.

The words of the senior song, "O Here's to W. U.," were written by Paul Doney, the music by Miss Lucille Ross. The junior selection, "The Victor's Song" is a result of the efforts of Miss Myrtle Mason and Miss Mildred Garrett. The sophomore song, "Fight 'Em Bears," was written by John Luckler and composed by Miss Eva Roberts, and the freshmen are pinning their hopes on "Go Willamette," by Vern Bain and Gretchen Brown.

The glee will be opened by an explanatory speech by Bernard Ramsay. After the second song Miss Lois Veddes will give a reading. The decision will be announced and the winner's pennant awarded by Professor Matthews.

English Cops To Try Flashlights

London, Mar. 19.—One of the most picturesque features of the varied outfit of the London policeman, the old-fashioned oil dark lantern, is to give place to the electric flashlight.

The London "bobby" has been accustomed when darkness fell to light his lamp and attach it to his belt at the back slightly on the right side. It generated too much heat, was cumbersome and when a policeman engaged in a scuffle with a criminal his clothing was generously sprinkled with kerosene.

Each year for overalls—$200,000,000

EVERY year you and the other men of the United States wear $200,000,000 worth of overalls. Tied end to end they would reach twice around the world.

Some of these overalls wear well—stay comfortable. Others wear out quickly—bind and rip.

Which kind of service do yours give? Have you found an overall that gives you full value in wear and comfort every time?

Millions of men are today wearing overalls which give satisfaction they have never known before. When these men want overalls, they make sure that they get Blue Buckles.

"I've tried a lot of overalls, but of all I've worn I'll choose Blue Buckles every time. They always give long wear."

Frank M. Coulter

President of the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers Association

The heaviest, toughest denim on the market goes into Blue Buckles. Blue Buckles are always big and roomy—Blue Buckles never rip. First-class workmanship makes the details right in every pair. Flocks reinforced to prevent tearing—heavy brass buttons—a solid back band—extra wide suspenders—and wide double-stitched seams everywhere—points like these give Blue Buckle wearers solid satisfaction. Ask for Blue Buckles and get your money's worth.
