

July 6-20 is Date Of Company "M's" Sojourn at Lewis

Plans for summer encampment activities have taken definite form, according to information received from Oregon National Guard headquarters by Captain Leroy Hewlett, commander of company M.

Preliminary to the departure of the company to summer camp at Camp Lewis, July 6 to 20, an officers' school will be held for three days at Vancouver barracks, beginning June 14. To this school the Salem company has the privilege of sending the officers in charge of the company and also three non-commissioned officers, who have not yet been selected.

During the 14 days sojourn at Camp Lewis, members of the newly federalized guard will draw combined state and federal pay. In order to help guardmen chop into the high cost of living, every member will be entitled to the privilege of purchasing a pair of the russet, all-leather, army shoes for $2. Captain Hewlett is desirous of receiving applications from ex-service men and others who can give one night each week to the guard, as Salem should have a strong guard unit in comparison to other companies from smaller cities.

Members of the old Third Oregon Infantry are being notified of a special organization meeting to be held at the armory, Portland, Oregon, March 25, 1920, at 8 o'clock in the evening with the following aims in view:

First—To form a social organization of the veterans of the old Third Oregon Infantry known during the war as the 102nd Infantry.

Second—The selection of an appropriate name for this organization.

Third—The selection of temporary officers and the appointment of committees on constitution and bylaws.

March 25 is the third anniversary of the entry of the guard into the national forces of the United States during the recent war. For the program on the above date, a committee is working upon refreshment and entertainment features.

Boys are Feted To Banquet and Fellowship Talk

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" applies truly today and just as truly to Jack's daddy. This and other factors in true comradeship between father and son were emphasized at the banquet given Monday night at the First Christian church. Nearly 100 representative Salem fathers and sons were present and also there were a good many "adopted fathers" for the occasion, members of the church brotherhood organization entertaining the less fortunate youngsters.

The guests of honor for the occasion were a group of blind boys from the school in this city. And how these boys did enjoy the evening! And it may well be added right here that the table manners of these lads compared very favorably with those of some of their better visioned banquet fellows.

All of the talks were especially applicable to the spirit of the evening.

This was best shown by Rev. James Elvin in his invocation which impressed all present as being a sincere prayer for the boy life of the city of Salem.

W. L. Putnam, pastor of the Bungalow Christian church spoke briefly but pointedly upon "Christian Education for the Boy." The equal and well balanced development of physical, mental and spiritual powers was urged by the speaker as being the greatest factors in good citizenship.

"A man cannot possess a workable education, unless he is a Christian," said the speaker, "for education is only practicable when it is utilized in aiding humanity."

Rev. Eliza Stivers, "The Fighting Parson" of Eugene's gave the main talk of the evening, addressing the fathers of Salem boys.

"The future of the country depends on the coming generation," said Mr. Stivers, "and with the co-operation of the parents it is the object of the church to secure the proper environment for them."

The "fighting parson" pointed out that while church attendance at college towns similar to Eugene is good; that it is noticeable that this attendance is confined to students who are taking first year work. After the freshman year, school functions, class work and various other interests, were given as contributing to the lack of interest in church affairs.

That T. E. McCroskey knows boys and is able to work with them is well attested by the success of his "Boys Rifle Club" at the First Christian church of this city. Mr. McCroskey gave a talk that appealed to all present.

Leland Porter, pastor of the Salem Christian church, urged that more time and money and Christian effort be invested in boys. "The best enterprise a church can engage in, is an eternal fight for the protection of the young people of the community," stated Rev. Porter.

Judge Race, Ira Cave, E. W. Cooley, Rev. James Elvin and Rev. Tibbetts gave worth-while talks dealing with phases of boy life. The toastmaster of the evening was O. J. Hull, athletic director of the Y. M. C. A.

The excellent banquet dinner was served by the women of the First Christian church. The church has a first-class equipment for these banquets.

French Champion Anxious to Meet Dempsey he Says

New York, March 23.—"I am anxious to box Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship as soon as the match can be arranged." These statements, made through an interpreter were the answers given to a host of newspaper and moving picture operators who boarded the French liner LaSavoie to obtain their first view of the holder of the European heavyweight championship and the pugilistic sensation of a decade. The first impression of Carpenter was far different than might have been expected of a heavyweight boxer and veteran of four years of world war fighting.

Of apparently slight physique and weighing, according to his own statement but 176 pounds, the conqueror of a long line of French and English heavy weights resembled a bank clerk on a vacation far more than he did a pugilist whom boxing enthusiasts in all parts of the world are eager to see him match skill and power against the American fighter.

Monday, Biddie happened into the office of the Cherry City Milling company, where he found a $10 subscription awaiting him. In addition to purchasing a $25 sign space, P. W. Geiser, as manager of the mills, will give $2 to each member of the team who knocks out a home run during any scheduled game of the season. In addition to this, purchases of spaces of the inner-fence have posted various offers ranging from chicken dinners to derby hats to the player who hangs a clean drive on individual advertisements.

Salem Youth With "Roving Marines"

Ward Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wolfe, Fire and Lincoln streets, this city, is in Portland with the famous marine entertainment party "The Roving Marines." The party will be in Portland March 22 to 25 and is known as one of the best entertainment units ever brought out from military contingents.

A band of 35 pieces, vaudeville, concert numbers and boxing bouts is provided by the marines. In addition to being a member of the "Fifteen Minutes in Harmony" quartet, Private Wolfe is one of the midget bandmen and also takes part in one of the vaudeville stunts.

Mr. Wolfe has nearly completed his service period with the "Soldiers of the Sea" and expects to return to his home in Salem before many months. Due to the fact that the U. S. marine recruiting station here was closely regulated, no arrangement for the appearance of the "Rovers" here have been made up to the present time.

Former Battery "A" Officers Find Old Pals With Senators

Just to give the old gang the once over, C. M. Cameron and F. R. Patterson, of Portland, formerly first lieutenants with battery A, 147th field artillery, visited Biddle Bishop of the Salem Senators, Monday. Several of the Salem ball players were formerly members of this battery and saw service overseas.

The two visitors, who have both retired to civilian life along with the former members of the unit, have seen most of the new baseball club players in action while in the service.

Just to show the visitors that Salem is in dead earnest on the baseball question, Biddle took them out to the new ball park at 12th and Oxford streets. Here the grandstand and bleachers are completed and the grounds are undergoing thorough grading and leveling.

With the exception of the fence, which will soon be underway, the construction portion of the undertaking is practically completed.

Federal Records Reveal Further Deals by Byron

Further details regarding the operations of Carlos L. Byron, now serving sentence in the federal prison at McNeil Island for using the mails with intent to defraud, are announced from the office of the United States district attorney in Portland and printed in the Oregon Journal, as follows:

"Carlos L. Byron, Oregon land fraudster now serving 18 months in federal prison at McNeil Island, has a laugh. All at the expense of 115 prominent Salem citizens who are holding the bag and wondering how in time they were induced to part with more than $50,000 for nothing more than promises of each obtaining a $25,000 timber claim.

"Long has the story been bottled up in the land office and the United States attorney's offices here. And not in a thousand years would the Salem citizens 'peach.'

Robbers Secure Costly Jewels In Daylight Job

Seattle, Wash., March 23.—Diamond rings, watches and bar pins worth approximately $10,000 were stolen from a downtown jewelry store at 9 a. m. here today by former proprietor, S. M. Feldman, and a clerk, Miss Nettie Goldman, according to reports Feldman made to the police.

Feldman said he had just opened the safe and was taking out the jewelry when he turned and saw four men in the store. One of them covered him with a revolver and another pointed a gun at Miss Goldman.

"What is it, a joke?" Feldman said he asked. A blow across the face with the handle of a revolver answered him. One man then tied the hands and feet of Feldman and another gagged Miss Goldman, while the other two ransacked the safe and the show cases.

After warning the two not to attempt to call the police, the four escaped.

Forty diamond rings, a score of watches and eight bar pins were taken by the robbers.

Bad Teeth Make Backward Children

MANY diseases from which both old and young suffer are directly or indirectly caused by decayed teeth and diseased gums. Without good teeth, food cannot be properly chewed, and is therefore not properly digested. Indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and other troubles are often caused by bad teeth. To effect a cure, the mouth must be put in good order.

The best time to begin is childhood. No boy or girl can make progress in school unless the teeth are in a healthful condition. Bad teeth keep anybody from going ahead.

Parents are invited to bring their children for free examinations and advice to Registered Dentists using the E. R. Parker System. A little work done early often saves a lot of work being done later, and keeps the child in better health. Neglect never pays.
