And sometimes... The thing... One life misses... Helps more... Than the thing... Which it gets... Wealth... For instance... Or that long-planned... Trip... Or touring car... Maybe... If you made a sacrifice... For the new Hospital... You would gain... More... Than you would... By spending... The money otherwise... What?

Former Emperor William Is Poor Man, Dutch Say

The Hague, Mar. 24.—Dutch officials claiming to know the financial condition of former Emperor William of Germany are greatly amused at various reports emanating from Berlin to the effect that William gave monetary support to the reactionary revolt of March 13.

"In reality the former emperor is virtually a poor man," and official told the Associated Press today. "There is a question whether he has money enough to pay Count Bentinck, owner of the castle at Amerongen, where William has been staying since November 1918, what he owes him."

According to another official familiar with negotiations between William of Hohenzollern and the Dutch government, William has throughout displayed anything but a heroic attitude. So anxious has he been to obtain Holland's protection, he has been glad from the very start to give a pledge not to participate in political intrigues.

"We are confident he will keep his pledge," an official remarked today.

Importations Of Sheep Without Inspection Hit

Importations of any sheep into the state of Oregon without proper inspection and permission granted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States bureau of animal industry and the state livestock sanitary board is forbidden under a quarantine proclamation issued by Governor Olcott today and effective Thursday.

The quarantine, however, does not effect the importation of sheep for immediate slaughter.

The proclamation was based on the strength of representations made by Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, to the effect that "a contagious and infectious disease of sheep known as scabies exists to a considerable extent in practically all other states and that sheep coming therefrom are likely to convey scab and that the only positive means of prevention of future infections will be quarantine."

Under the terms of the quarantine all sheep offered for importation into Oregon must first be dipped under supervision of the proper officer and then held for a period of 90 days without the state pending developments.

The proclamation annuls a less stringent quarantine placed in effect April 4, 1919.
