

Vinegar Making Prohibited By Federal Statute

It is unlawful to make vinegar, according to advice received today by District Attorney Max Gehlhar from the federal prohibition director at Portland, unless permission is first obtained from the government. Under the state law, Mr. Gehlhar said today it is permissible to make vinegar; but under the federal regulations, advice from the federal prohibition director state, bond must first be made assuring the government that the vinegar will not be made and sold for drinking purposes. Permission to make vinegar will be granted by the federal prohibition director whose headquarters are with the internal revenue collector at Portland.

Big Convention To Settle Claims Of G.O.P. Runners

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 27.—Only the decision of the republican national convention at Chicago in June will definitely settle the conflicting claims of Johnson, Wood and Lowden factions of the party as to the significance of the one hour presidential preference vote in Minnesota. Monday, March 15, tabulation of the vote by the state central committee ceased when the county conventions started March 17, because election of delegates to these conventions was the real object of the primary and control of them by one faction or the other largely determined the complexion of the resulting district and state gatherings. These in turn chose the men to represent the state in the big national assembly of the party.

Wood Gets Delegation

The ten district conventions met March 19. The Wood forces controlled half of them and thus ten delegates instructed for him were sent to the national convention. Four districts chose unopposed delegates to the Chicago gathering and in the other there was a split, part of the delegates selecting two Wood men and the others a pair of unopposed representatives.

Charges are Made

What portion of the preference vote remained uncounted when tabulation closed cannot be determined. Some precincts did not even open the polls, others registered no votes except perhaps those of the election officials on duty. In numerous instances there were charges that no ballots had been provided for one or the other candidates, these claims coming from Wood, Johnson and Lowden camps alike. County chairmen were generally given the duty of providing ballots for the precincts in their territories.

High School Play Is Voted Success

With the members of the cast playing up to the characters given them for portrayal, and the auditorium filled to the doors with interested spectators, the high school play "The Prince of Liars," with Amory Gill in the title role, which was given last evening, was a huge success.

Members of Lloyd C. Hill Post of the American Legion, at Morenoi, Ariz., have pledged themselves to wear their army, navy or marine uniforms until prices are lowered.

Night Riders Of Kentucky Burn Tobacco Shute

Mayfield, Ky. Mar. 27.—The first outbreak of night rider troubles in Western Kentucky in thirteen years occurred last night when between 200 and 300 tobacco growers from the northern section of Graves county visited the Mayfield tobacco chute and applied the torch.

Determination To Raise Hospital Money Is Strong

Determination to raise the complete $100,000 fund for the Salem General hospital is growing with the campaign managers as reports steadily pour into headquarters announcing gradual reductions in the deficit. Last night, it was said at headquarters today, $21,000 was yet to be raised. This amount was reduced today to $20,000—yet to be raised.

Many States Are Swayed By Aliens Bingham Asserts

In light of the fact that alien residents of Marion county have been appearing in increasing numbers for the purpose of completing naturalization, observations made by Judge George G. Bingham in the course of this work in his department are of general interest to American citizens.

Loganberry Extract Is Latest Product For Flavoring Use

To prove the attention that has been given the loganberry by manufacturers and distributing specialists, the Phez company has filed a letter from the nationally known Blanke-Baer Chemical company.

to be vote are: those who have been residents of the state for 6 months, township 90 days and ward or precinct 30 days, immediately preceding the election and shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States. Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and Texas have similar provisions in their constitutions or election laws. Massachusetts is satisfied with the person as a citizen of and a taxpayer of the state. These are probably other states equally lax in not requiring to be citizens of the United States.

In the above named states it is possible for a man to come to the United States, declare his intention to become a citizen, and without renouncing his allegiance to a foreign sovereign, or obligating himself to our government, in from sixty days to six months cast a ballot for the election of presidential electors and members of congress, as well, also, for state and county officials. During this time the alien will owe allegiance to a foreign ruler. Not only this but in some of the same states they are eligible to hold office.

The right to vote is not a privilege of citizenship in the United States, but is left at present, to be determined by the states, as witness the famous "Grandfather" clause in the constitution of North Carolina, which disfranchised the bulk of the negro vote in that state.

It is not fair to loyal Americans that some states permit aliens to have the same voice in the administration of our affairs, but domestic and foreign as they.

Loganberry Extract Is Latest Product For Flavoring Use

To prove the attention that has been given the loganberry by manufacturers and distributing specialists, the Phez company has filed a letter from the nationally known Blanke-Baer Chemical company.

This company is specializing in a new true fruit flavor marketed as "True fruit Loganberry Extract." Perhaps the letter which the Blanke-Baer company is sending to the trade, distributors, confectioners and bakers, gives a better conception of the place which the great Salem berry has won for itself than anything else can do.

The circular is addressed from the St. Louis office of the chemical company. The statement that "in advance of public opinion, Blanke-Baer has

It is not fair to loyal Americans that some states permit aliens to have the same voice in the administration of our affairs, but domestic and foreign as they.

It would appear that it was the duty of the Federal government to take action, if the offending states do not, speedily amend their constitutions and law so as to limit the right of suffrage to citizens of the United States.

It is within the range of possibilities that some of the members of congress who have espoused necessary war measures owe their position to votes of this objectionable class. Notice the states from which some of the obstructionists come and draw your own conclusions.

Common tea has a lot of tannin in it. And tannin, you know, is bad for stomach and nerves.

Schilling Tea contains very little tannin. "But Schilling Tea costs more!" Yes, that's so—it costs more per pound. But figure the cost per cup. You'll find that it's really cheaper than common tea—a pound makes so many more cups! And it is real tea—rich, refreshing, restful.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.
