CONCERNING MUSIC

By C. A. DAVIDSON
(Director of Music for Salem Schools)

A New Venture.

Through the munificence of a wealthy resident of Rochester, N. Y., that city is to have an elaborate edifice to be used for music and moving pictures. The building will cost over $1,000,000 and some $2,000,000 is provided to equip it, and to start the work moving.

An intense interest in music and moving pictures is in the air nowadays all over the country, but this is the first time a large amount of money has been provided for the purpose of bringing the best there is in these fine arts home to the public at a merely nominal cost. Consequently the venture will be observed with interest by musicians and philanthropists of many cities.

Six nights of the week will be given to motion pictures of the highest order accompanied by a high class orchestra. The other evening will be given to the Rochester symphony orchestra and to visiting artists and orchestras.

This building will also be the home of the National Academy of Motion Pictures, an organization which aims to lift the silent drama out of the far-fetched, blood-and-thunder plot into the wonders of mechanical science, industry, nature, art, business, and the world in general.

Besides these activities $15,000 is to be used to buy band and orchestra instruments for use in the public schools, and teachers and practice rooms are provided to accommodate 25,000 students.

Briefs.

The largest pipe organ in the world is the Wanamaker organ in Philadelphia. It has 232 stops.

The income taxes of some of the musical heavyweights are surprising, even to the cold blooded business man inclined to thinking of huge sums. Caruso had the personal aid of the revenue collector, and remarked that "he had come to the customs house gloomy and went away happy," the cause was his squaring himself with Uncle Sam by handing over $100,000. Galli-Curci bade farewell to $75,000 and John McCormick not to be outdone, presented a check for $140,000.

Godowsky enroute concertizing gave his wife a birthday surprise by calling her up on the long-distance phone. He was in New York and she in Los Angeles.

An old professor of mine used to say "If you run into somebody it shows you were in motion," and so it happens that the Boston Symphony orchestra is having a row of its own. Frederic Fradkin, the former concert master, who got stubborn when somebody was doing things bumped into him, has attracted to himself 32 former members, and has secured $100,000 from a society women to start a new symphony orchestra.

All are delighted to read the glowing accounts of Winnifred Byrd's triumphs in New York, Baltimore and other large eastern cities.

Lovers of vocal music will be interested in the last concert of the season by the Portland Apollo club, April 1. Florence Macbeth of the Chicago and Boston grand opera companies is the soloist and comes with the most glowing press notices. She will sing "The Shadow Song" by Dinorah, besides a group of five songs by American composers and five songs with the club.

When will the end come? That is the question in everybody's mouth concerning the soaring prices we have to pay for everything on the earth beneath and the heavens above, and in the waters under the earth. The cost of the actual necessities of life has gone up over 85 per cent since 1913. The cost of music and education which are beginning to be recognized as necessities has not kept pace but is bound to rise. The Metropolitan opera house New York, has announced that single admission will be raised a flat 50 per cent and subscription admissions 25 per cent. It now costs $7 for a parquet seat.

When Galli-Curci sang recently in Burlington, Vermont, she was recalled actually 40 times. As a last number she sang the Shadow Song, and the audience really couldn't be censured for applauding riotously for ten minutes.

The Other Day A Farmer

Said to me: "Why don't you build one of your far-famed G.M.C. Trucks especially for farmers?"

"Why, man, we do!" I said. "Surely you have seen our 3-4 1 ton truck or our 1 1-2 ton. Both are designed especially for farmer's needs, have been tested and tried and proved to be the all-round truck for the farmer."

Alcazar Players To Stage Another Comedy Riot Here

Tuesday night is getting to be the bright night in Salem for the Alcazar Stock company, as to present another comedy. "The Man from Kokomo" which is one of the funniest this organization has presented at the Bligh. "The Man from K-komo" will be presented at the Bligh theater, Tuesday, matinee and night, March 29th, and this remarkable comedy still bears the hall mark of a London success. It would be difficult to say which of the comedies that have been presented by the Alcazar Stock company, really is the best, for each week they seem to get better and it isn't any wonder that this company is getting so popular with the amusement seekers of Salem. While "The Man from Kokomo" is a howling farce comedy, it does not require risque situations of the French farces to get its laughs, but on the other hand, there is not a single situation nor a line that would offend the most sensitive or prudish. "The Man from Kokomo" is a pretty play, simple with a wholly conventional plot and has a pretty love story which runs through out the play and adds much interest to the comedy.

Apartment House In Prospect Here

Although there is some uncertainty yet, as to whether or not the deal will go through, negotiations are now under way between Fred D. Thielsen and a Portland firm, whose name Mr. Thielsen would not divulge, for the purchase of the property owned by Mrs. H. B. Thielsen at Capitol and Court streets, and now occupied by the Irwin Griffith residence.

If the transaction takes place the Portland parties will erect a modern apartment house on the site, which is considered one of the most beautiful and convenient in the city.

American Legion posts are already named for Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt.
