

Roosevelt Real Diplomat Says Scribner Writer

New York, April 7.—Colonel Roosevelt in the role of a diplomat written to European friends, sending even former Emperor William of Germany to his will, fully disclosed correspondence by Joseph Bucklin Bishop, the president's biographer, which will appear in the April issue of Scribner's magazine.

The correspondence includes letters from King Edward, Nicholas of Russia, the Emperor of Japan, Albert, King of the Belgians, and Queen Elizabeth of the Netherlands, in addition to the lengthy letter that passed between the president and the head of the Hohenzollerns on August 14, 1906, by White, who was then American ambassador at Rome, Colonel Roosevelt said.

It said: "I have known Roosevelt during the last five years in a uniform. I admire him, I like him and like him. I think him a man, and on the whole a man; but I think his international and indeed his personal attitude of intense egotism. I have been most polite with him, one my best to avoid our taking any attitude which could possibly be construed as offense, and endeavored to show him that I was friendly to him and to his country. Moreover, where I have been anxious to build a bridge for him, and to give him the reputation in the face of the world, I have done so."

Other words where I have had part of the kernel from him, I have been anxious that he should be the shell possible, and have all painted any way he wished, same time I have had to speak with emphasis to him on one occasion; and on one occasion (that of Venezuela) have made a display of force and to him definitely that I would force if necessary."

Bishop declares that in spite of the Venezuela incident of December which must have been "a huge check," the former emperor had no resentment and subsequently wrote Roosevelt the most complimentary letter. He also sent a number of photographs of himself and Roosevelt astride cent horses at a manoeuvre of the German army. On the auto-pictures he had written: "Colonel of the Rough Riders, Chief of the German Army."

"Total agreement about the maxims of life and policy between America and Germany," "On the other hand, a grave discussion; 'look out!' and 'The Chief of the German Army thanking the Chief of the Rough Riders for the inspection of his troops.' Mr. Roosevelt, by the way, once had a rumor that Germany was building a strong fleet to attack the States."

After the Colonel wrote to Edward VII of England on April 25, it contains a reference to the Conference of that year, an international parley which at the time had to have averted a general war. The biographer says that "the secret history of this conference, which stands revealed in the correspondence as in the past, shows conclusively that it was arranged by Roosevelt at the request of the Kaiser, that it drew up the terms of settlement which were adopted, and that it compelled the Kaiser to give his assent to them."

Roosevelt's impatience with the slow and staid of courts of law, vigorous expression, Mr. Bishop when he exclaimed, after his experiences with the courts of various kingdoms at the time of King Edward, at which he had visited the United States: "I felt that another king I should bite my tongue and be satisfied by the anxiety displayed by the ruler of the kingdom about his prerogative of the precedence to which he was entitled, Roosevelt as another ruler, drawing upon his bird love simile: 'He is nothing but a king wagtail.'"

When again to King Edward of England, for whom he professed a regard, he said in 1908: "I feel strongly that the real interests of the English-speaking peoples are one, and that the Atlantic and the Pacific; that, while scrupulously careful to insult nor to injure others, I could yet make it evident that I was ready and able to hold our own."

Colonel Roosevelt has been appealed to by Mrs. Eva Smieschowski of Detroit, for aid in locating her husband Smieschowski who disappeared from his home last October and has not been heard from since. Smieschowski is described as 24 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, brown eyes, brown hair, and a ruddy complexion.

Motorman Hurt When Cars Bump Together in Rain

Ralph Mason, motorman on a State street car, sustained severe bruises necessitating his confinement in a hospital, and considerable damage resulted to the streetcar he was driving and a Southern Pacific depot car, when the S. P. depot car rammed into the rear of the State street car last night at the corner of State and Church streets. The cause of the accident has not been determined yet, Superintendent Billingsley of the railroad said this morning.

The Southern Pacific car was driven by G. R. York, and some were of the opinion that in the rain and drizzle last night he did not see the standing State street car ahead of him. Superintendent Billingsley said that faulty brakes had nothing to do with the collision. The cars were bound eastward. Motorman Mason was injured when the compact they hit against a guard rail. Passengers were thrown from their seats, and both cars were deluged with flying glass, but no one was injured. The rear of the State street car was telescoped, but was able to go to the barns under its own power.

Do You Know That Mazola Can Be Used For More Different Purposes And At Less Cost Than Any Other Food In Your Kitchen?

Of interest to every wide-awake housewife are these important facts about the general use, the quality and the unusual economy of Mazola.

First, know that Mazola contains no moisture. Butter and Lard contain moisture. Mazola is an absolutely 100% pure vegetable fat. It never becomes rancid.

Deep Frying

NO fat excels Mazola for deep frying. It is far better and a great deal more economical than lard or compounds. The same lot of Mazola can be used over and over again—even after frying fish and onions. Merely straining makes it perfectly fresh for use as a shortening. It carries no odors or flavors from the foods cooked in it and does not smoke up your kitchen.

Shortening

THE purity and richness of Mazola best demonstrates itself in the fact that 1/4 to 1/3 less Mazola is required than that of butter or lard. This means that your cakes and pie crust will not only be light, rich and easily digested but will cost you less to prepare. Being an oil, the tiresome "creaming-in process" is eliminated. Mazola is always ready for instant use.
