

Lightwines And Beer Chosen for Senate Password

With a slogan that declares for "light wines and beer; whiskey for medicine and not medicine for whiskey," John C. Shillock of Portland, today filed with the secretary of state's office his petition for a place on the republican primary ballot as a candidate for state senator from Multnomah county.

"I will during my term of office start a propaganda declaring an open season on the dry's to the end that the national and state prohibition laws be amended, that light wines and beer for whiskey can be obtainable," Shillock declares in his platform. "That in a flu epidemic it will not be necessary to make nine-tenths of the population criminals," is Shillock's reason for his wet stand in his plea for support of his candidacy.

The nominating petition of Esther Lovejoy of Portland as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from the third district, was also filed this morning.

"Oregon's resources are the heritage of her people—safeguard and develop them," is Dr. Lovejoy's slogan.

Course In Home Nursing Covers Vital Subjects

A complete outline of the course in home nursing now being taught by Miss Marion Adams, to a representative number of Salem women, has been given out by the officials of Willamette chapter, American Red Cross, for the enlightenment of those who have no definite idea of what the course comprises. The following is a brief, but complete summary of the vital things taken up in the series of 15 lectures, based upon the text book and supplemented by practical work in the application of the lesson:

1. The causes and prevention of sickness; recognition of symptoms of common infection and communicable diseases; tuberculosis; measles; etc.
2. The essentials of good hygienic conditions for babies, for children, for grown people and for the aged.
3. The essentials of hygiene (health) of our environment (everything outside the body that affects it) and of our person. Includes ventilation, cleanliness, disposal of garbage, sewage, insects which carry disease.
4. The importance of proper clothing, food, of sleep and recreation (not merely exercise but enjoyable exercise).
5. How to make beds. Not only the ordinary bed, but with the patient in it; how to change the bed clothes with a patient in bed.
6. How to give a bath to a patient in bed; hot foot bath; care of mouth and teeth; how to wash the hair of a bed patient.
7. How to feed a sick person. Something about diet—liquid, semi solid, light, full—and methods of administering.
8. What to do until the doctor comes. For instance if one of your family comes in with a chill it may mean a bad cold or some more severe form of sickness. Symptoms to be observed and doctor sent for; but meanwhile there are things which can be done immediately, before the doctor can get there. Children's diseases in early stages appear like a bad cold, but in these early stages they are most contagious, therefore no time should

State General Fund Held to be In Safe Condition

With more than two million dollars due to the credit of the state's general fund between April 25 and May 3, from current tax payments there is no occasion for any alarm over the condition of the fund which, with only $11,688.88 to its credit, April 1, is now at the lowest point in the history of the office, according to Joseph Richardson, deputy state treasurer.

Richardson's statement is occasioned by newspaper stories to the effect that because of the condition of the fund "state employes might be reduced to penury" while awaiting payment of their salary warrants.

No salary warrants will be drawn against this fund until the latter part of April and in the meantime the various county treasurers will have begun their remittances of state taxes, Richardson explains, which should in all probabilities be sufficient to cover any warrants issued against the fund.

In the meantime the secretary of state will continue to issue warrants against the fund, regardless of the condition of the fund, until the appropriation itself is exhausted. Should there be no funds available for the payment of the warrants when presented to the state treasurer they will merely be stamped "not paid for want of funds" when the warrants will draw interest at the rate of six percent per annum until the money is available for their payment.

Salem Woman Is Winning Place Among Writers

Becoming more and more popular with magazine editors and the reading public, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, 1635 North Church street, is rapidly winning a place for herself in the literary world, that few persons are privileged to enjoy.

Both the Delinquent and the American magazines are publishing her short stories. With the former Mrs. Fargo has a contract for a series of tales for young girls, and with the latter "loyalty" she has had the scenes for each of them in her home state.

The latest composition of the author appears in the April issue of the American. It is entitled "Nobody Else's Home Seems Just Right" and is the story of two old people who have grown tired of living in the homes of their children. Those who have read the story are enthusiastic in their praise of it.

Mrs. Fargo writes under the name of "Ruth Fargo." Although she spends a great deal of her time at her favorite occupation, that of writing, she is active in social and church affairs and is a prominent member of the North Salem Women's club.

Martin Returns From Interesting Business Trip

Ivan G. Martin, Salem attorney, returned yesterday from a business trip to Portland and Seattle. At the meeting of the executive board of directors for the United Artisans, of which board Mr. Martin is a member, arrangements were made last Saturday to immediately place the Beck building of Portland in first class repair, painting and making certain alterations in the structure and changing the name to the Artisan's building.

This is the six story business block which was recently purchased by the board for the Artisan home office. The consideration was $350,000.

Lynch Declares 'Frisco May Yet Lose Convention'

Chicago, Apr. 8.—Fred Lynch, national committeeman from Minnesota, said here today that dissatisfaction of democratic party leaders with the convention accommodations at San Francisco will be aired at the national committee meeting here April 26, when a proposal to move the convention across the bay to Oakland will be presented.

San Francisco, Apr. 8.—The statement of Fred Lynch, democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, in Chicago today that a proposal is to be made in the coming meeting of the committee that the national convention be removed from San Francisco to Oakland, was called an "inaccuracy" by Postmaster Charles W. Fry, who was one of those most prominent in bringing the convention here.

"The delegation headed by Lynch already has secured its quarters in this city," he said. "Furthermore, as I understand it, the committee is to meet for the purpose of putting its stamp of approval on the arrangements made for the convention in San Francisco. I have heard of no dissatisfaction with the arrangements here and most certainly I am in a position to hear all complaints. Arrangements for the convention virtually have been completed and I cannot conceive of the committee overturning them now."

Hotel Proprietor Confesses Burning Hilyard Property

H. A. Endrup, proprietor of the hotel at Hilyard, Union county, which was destroyed by fire on March 22, has confessed to setting the blaze himself with intent to defraud the insurance company, according to information received here by A. C. Barber, state insurance commissioner, from H. H. Pomeroy, deputy fire marshal who has been investigating the fire. The loss is estimated to have been $2200.

In discussing the situation with Mr. Martin, he said "We can not expect prices to be reduced suddenly; the reduction must be gradual and all prices should be kept in proportion to each other. With increased production, decreased foreign demand and carefulness and prudence of our people there is no reason to fear hard times or depression."

Prince Of Wales Spends Quiet Day Aboard Ship Today

San Diego, Cal., Apr. 8.—Quiet and solitude appealed to Edward, Prince of Wales today as a contrast from the proceedings of yesterday in which he turned himself over to the direction of a local committee before lunch, and wound up the day by dancing with a score or more of San Diego maidens at a ball which continued far beyond midnight. At the prince's personal request, therefore, today was left virtually open.

There will be a reception aboard the Renown, his cruiser, at 2 o'clock, but no other function is planned. It was believed that Prince Edward might either take an automobile ride over some of the California roads concerning which he made inquiry yesterday, or might visit the Coronado golf links and take some land exercise after his three weeks aboard ship.

Ultimately the Ostfriesland will be turned over to the United States.

The battleship Ostfriesland was placed in commission in September, 1918. Her normal displacement is 22,500 tons, her length 546 feet and her beam 92 feet. The compliment is about 1,000 men.

New York, April 8.—The transport Nansmond, first American transport ship from Europe, arrived here early today with the bodies of 57 soldiers who died in base hospitals in England during the war. Relatives and friends of the dead assembled at the dock to receive the flag draped coffins.

Poland China Hog Sells For $40,000

Villaca, Iowa, April 8.—A thoroughbred Poland China hog which the Williams Brothers, breeders of this place, bought about fifteen months ago, from L. R. McClarnon of Bradville, Iowa, for $245 has been sold by them at private sale to W. H. Ellsworth of Goldfield, Iowa for the record price of $40,000, declared to be the highest price ever paid for a hog in the United States, if not in the world.

Hun Battleships Are Interned At Firth Of Forth

London, April 8.—The German battleships Nassau and Ostfriesland arrived at the Firth of Forth yesterday, this constituting the commencement of the surrender of the remainder of the German warships under the terms of the treaty of Versailles.
