

Peace Resolution Holds Attention Of House Today

Washington, Apr. 2.—The house locked horns with the peace resolution today, prepared to complete action on it, and the proposal to the senate before the session ended. Debate will end at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Representative Flood of Virginia, leader of the forces opposing the resolution, was expected to have ready when the debate ended, the motion to reconsider provided in the rule. Possibly an attempt to modify the terms of the resolution will be made through inclusion of a substitute for it in proposed instructions to the foreign affairs committee to be embodied in the recommitment motion.

It was generally admitted, however, that there was no hope of getting favorable action on such a plan.

Combating the view of opponents of the resolution that it proposed an invasion of the constitutional powers of the president, Representative Madden, republican, Illinois, said it did not "assume to take away any of the president's treaty making rights."

"If the treaty of Versailles had been ratified as presented by the president," he said, it is "obvious" that an American army "of any where from 25,000 to 200,000 would have been in Armenia today and the nation obligated for an expenditure of not less than $757,000,000 to maintain a mandate under the league of nations over that country."

Representative Flood announced that the motion to reconsider would propose straight out repeal of all war legislation.

The motion will direct the foreign affairs committee, he said, to report out a resolution repealing the war time acts.

Representative Clark of Missouri, democratic leader, declared that the title given the resolution was "palpable misnomer," that the measure would bring "confusion twice confounded" and that it would lead to "all sorts of international quagmires."

"Congress has neither mandate nor authority to do the thing now attempted," he declared. "It is a futile performance, a work of supererogation full of sound and fury, signifying nothing except a desperate effort and, as I believe, an unavailable effort not to make peace but to set as a locomotive."

"It may well be doubted whether the proponents of this resolution believe it will ever reach the statute books. In this debate they have intimated that the president will veto it. He can do nothing else consistent with his oath to support and defend the constitution and with an honest and patriotic regard for the duties of the high office which he holds."

Busy Political Year In Store For California

San Francisco, Apr. 2.—California year. There will be three elections, all voters face an unusually busy political year which are regarded by party leaders as being of more than ordinary importance. These elections, and their dates, are:

Presidential primary, May 4.
State primary, August 24.
General Election, November 2.

At the presidential primary the voters will be given an opportunity of selecting for candidates as delegates to the national convention on one of three tickets—republican, democratic and prohibition. On the two latter tickets the delegates, of which there are 28, will be unopposed.

The republican ticket will present a contest between rival delegations pledged to support respectively the candidates at the national convention of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of San Francisco and Horbert C. Hoover of Palo Alto, Cal., former United States food administrator.

The ballots will plainly indicate how each delegation stands on the matter of a preferred candidate. Thus, the republican ballot will contain two parallel lines, and at the head of each will be printed a line indicating which candidate the delegation favors for the nomination.

Senator Johnson's candidacy for the republican nomination is an avowed one. Mr. Hoover has not yet definitely made known his political intentions so far as the republican primary is concerned. He declined, however, to permit the use of his name in the democratic primaries. His friends in California and elsewhere, of various political faiths, have begun an independent campaign in his behalf and, in this state Hoover organizations are actively at work.

No candidate for the presidential nomination is excluded by reason of a non-residence in California from entering the state and seeking to elect a list of delegates favorable to his own candidacy in the national convention. The primary election machinery is available to all comers, and getting the names of pledged candidates on the party ballots is largely a mechanical process.

After the election of delegates to the conventions comes the minor matter of selecting alternate delegates, who will accompany the regulars and participate in the voting at the conventions only when the regulars are incapacitated through illness or other causes. The primary law provides that the delegates shall meet and select their own alternates, four at large and one from each of the state's eleven congressional districts.

Ten Candidates File Names With State Secretary

Ten candidates filed their nomination petitions at the office of the secretary of state Thursday. They are:

Will R. King, Ontario, democrat, candidate for delegate to the democratic national convention from the second congressional district.

Bartlett Cole, Portland, republican, candidate for state representative from Multnomah county.

K. K. Kubli, Portland, republican, candidate for state representative from Multnomah county.

Walter L. Robb, Portland, republican, candidate for presidential elector.

Denton G. Burdick, Redmond, republican, for state representative from twenty first representative district.

Elton Watkins, Portland, democrat, for district attorney for Clatsop county.

J. O. Erickson, Astoria, republican, for district attorney for Clatsop county.

Wm. M. Stone, Oregon City, republican, for state representative from Clackamas county.

Seward D. Allen, Eugene, republican, for state representative from Lane county.

J. N. Johnson, Grants Pass, republican, for state representative from Lane county.

ALBERT B. STEINER, of St. Paul, Minn., who declares he is now able to do twice the work he could before taking Tanlac and that his sister has gained sixteen pounds.

"Talking about things that help people, I have just received a letter from my sister in Waterloo, Iowa, telling me she has gained sixteen pounds in weight by taking Tanlac," said A. B. Steiner, 460 East Page street, St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"My sister was on a visit to me a short while ago, and as she was suffering from stomach trouble some one advised her to try Tanlac, which she did, and as I saw the great benefit she was getting from it I decided to try it myself, for I had been troubled with my stomach for the past two years. I had a very poor appetite, and the little I did manage to eat seemed to lodge right in the pit of my stomach and sour, I would bloat terribly after eating and have the worst sort of cramping pains in my stomach, and at times I had such bad attacks of heartburn I would nearly go wild. My back gave me a lot of trouble, and I had such intense pains in the small of my back I could hardly bend over. To add to my other troubles, about two months ago I began to suffer with rheumatism in my shoulder blades and arms, when go, so bad I could hardly do my work and could not even put on my coat without assistance. I was so nervous I could get but little sleep and would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long, and would get up in the morning all tired out. I was so badly run down and had lost so much weight I was so weak I could hardly get about at all.

"Well, while I have only taken five bottles of Tanlac in all my improvement is simply remarkable. I have such a good appetite I am hungry all the time, and my stomach is in such a splendid condition I can eat anything I want without suffering the least bit from it afterward. The pains have all gone out of my back and I never have the least sign of the rheumatism. In fact, I never have an ache or pain of any kind. I sleep as sound as a log every night and have gained in weight until I can do twice as much work as I could before. I began taking Tanlac. Yes, sir, I can recommend Tanlac after what it has done for me, and I know it will do the same for others if they will only give it a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Tyler's drug store and leading druggists in other towns. (Adv.)

Tacoma Men Held For Violations Of Prohibition Law

Tacoma, Wn., April 2.—The federal grand jury, continuing its consideration of evidence of alleged prohibition law violations, today indicted eight more men charged with operating stills and selling liquor. The jury completed its work with the submission of the additional indictments and was complimented by Judge E. E. Cushman for its endeavors to enforce prohibition in southwest Washington. During its three day sessions 35 indictments, mostly on liquor charges, were returned. Today three of the indicted prohibition violators pleaded guilty before Judge Cushman and were sentenced to pay fines of several hundred dollars and to serve a number of months in jail.

The factory hands in the Trinidad sugar mills get very low wages compared to what they would get in the sugar industries of Louisiana or Cuba. The wages paid varying from 40 cents to $1 per day, depending upon the kind of labor; the highest paid skilled labor of the sugar beetles, however, is about $100 per month.

Kinmath Falls.—Walter Benjamin Underwood, bus factory employe, as the result of a six hour endurance test staged in a local restaurant, claims to be the champion assimilator of hamburger sandwiches and challenges the wide world to equal his record. To win a $100 wager Underwood ate 18 cakes of raw hamburger steak, each sandwiched between the halves of a regulation size caterer's bun.

Baker.—Sheriff Anderson has received a telegram from the Ox mining district notifying him of the mysterious disappearance of Lars J. Jensen, watchman and deputy sheriff at the Ox Bow tunnel in the northwest vicinity, since March 29, the day when he was last seen at his cabin at the tunnel.

The Dalles.—Cut worms and snow fall have so injured the grain in the Wapinitia district near this city that some of the acreage will have to be reseeded.
