

Thousands Pay Last Tributes To Late Bishop

Portland, Or., Apr. 12.—Methodism throughout the world bowed in loving remembrance of the life and work of Matt S. Hughes, a bishop resident of Portland since 1876 and who died in Cleveland, O., last Sunday, when services were held in the First church Saturday afternoon.

The great church to which he dedicated his brilliant talents and his more meager physical energy and in the active service of which he gave his life; the other denominations of Protestantism; the state of Oregon, the city of Portland, the various branches of Masonry, the civic organizations, of the community—all paid their tributes of love, affection and deep admiration for him, who through his remarkable career was declared to have been a great preacher, a masterful executive, a true pastor and a brilliant counselor.

Beautiful also were the references to the widow, to whom was given credit for inspiration to the departed leader through the long years of their wedded life, and to the mother, honored by the elevation of her two only sons to the episcopacy, who early in life dedicated them to the service of the church.

As the mortal remains of the bishop lay in a beautiful white casket beneath a canopy of Easter lilies and other lovely flowers of which he was most fond, tribute after tribute was paid. Two of his colleagues, one his predecessor in this area, were present to do him honor, representing the general superintendents of the church. Governor O'cott for the state and Mayor Baker for the city of Portland were there to attest the value of his life to the commonwealth and to his work as a citizen, and men from various civic organizations by their presence evidenced the high esteem in which he was held in the place he called his home.

District superintendents, many of them appointed by him; ministers of the effective infirmity; others, bowed with the weight of time, who have laid aside the active duties of the service; men and women of the laity of the Methodist Episcopal church and many others, from far and near, filled the building to overflowing.

Conspicuous among the throng were many men who had heard Bishop Hughes speak at different civic organizations in Portland and who remember him as a 100 per cent patriot during the great war and a natural leader of unusual ability.

Dr. J. H. Talbot of the Kimball school of theology, read the bishop's favorite poem, "Sometime." The closing hymn was "Forever Here My Rest Shall Be."

Services at the Portland crematorium were in charge of Bishop Mitchell and Dr. E. C. Hickman, pastor of Wilbur church, Portland. The body was placed in a casket and will be held pending final decision as to the place of burial.

"WONDERFUL" SAYS MRS. M. KIRKLAND

"I have not only gained twenty pounds by taking Tanlac but it has rid me of the nervous indigestion which made my life miserable for three years," said Mrs. Mattie Kirkland, of 2047 Benton boulevard, Kansas City, Mo.

"During those three years," she continued, "everything I ate disagreed with me and I suffered for hours after every meal with gas on my stomach. My head ached all the time and I would often get so nervous and dizzy that I would have to lie down. I lost weight until I got down to only one hundred and ten pounds and my housework was simply a burden to me. I was so run down and weak I could not walk at times and while I tried almost everything I heard of, nothing did me any good.

"I read so many testimonials for Tanlac from our own Kansas City people that I decided to try it and the very first bottle improved me wonderfully. I have now taken seven bottles and I eat anything I want without the least trouble afterwards. My appetite is splendid and my nerves are so calm I sleep like a child every night. In fact I feel as strong and well as I did before my troubles started three years ago. I am glad to make this statement for Tanlac, for if I hadn't seen similar statements from others I probably would still be a sick, miserable woman."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Tyler's drug store and leading druggists in other towns.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make a heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking

LYKO

Santiam Trout Hatchery Rushed

Although no hopes are entertained that the establishment will be completed in time to handle any salmon this year, the Santiam hatchery, which is now in the process of construction, is rapidly nearing completion.

The project, which was fathered by Representative S. A. Hughes, of Marion county, promises to be one of the most adequate of its kind, if all the present plans for its management are carried out. The main building will be 40 by 126 feet; it will contain 100 standard hatching troughs to be used jointly for salmon and trout.

If the proposed dam can be built across the river immediately above the hatchery, allowing a better water supply, veritable wonders may be expected from the project. It is said by those interested and the Santiam country will be the home of the greatest steel-head trout nursery in the northwest.

The Strike of the Switchmen TO THE PUBLIC:

Strikers who have not returned to work are being replaced by new men. This work will be swiftly and vigorously followed until normal service is restored.

The strike was without notice to the railroad. It is not authorized by any railroad brotherhood. It violates working agreements. Violates the rules of the Brotherhoods to which the men belong and violates the law of the United States (Sec. 301, Transportation Act of 1920). It is in defiance of the orders of the Railroad Brotherhoods' executives, and has neither the sympathy nor support of the overwhelming majority of railroad employees.

New men will be given seniority rights in order of employment, wages are 64 cents an hour for eight hours work a day, and 96 cents an hour for overtime. Good board and lodging are arranged for at the job. Protection assured.
