

Willamette University Glee Club, Which Appears Here In Its Annual Home Concert Wednesday Night

Salem lovers of music will receive one of the treats which are looked forward to from one year to the next when the annual Salem concert of the Willamette glee club will be given in the Grand theater, Wednesday evening at 8 p. m.

This concert is held late in the season because the club realizes that the Salem audience is the most critical which they face during the year, as well as the one which they are most anxious to please. For this reason the club perfects its program during the year in its numerous week-end trips and the two weeks tour which is taken each winter.

The personnel of the club is considered to be stronger this year than it has been, including the best men from recent years as well as a number who have returned from military service. The present members of the club are: First tenors—Herald Emmel, John Francis Cramer, John Medler, Gustav Anderson; second tenors—Ivan Corner, Floyd McIntire, Noble Moodhe, Benjamin Rickli; baritone—Loren Basler, Lawrence Davies, John Lucher, Ross Miles, Edwin Socolofsky; basses—Everett Craven, Paul Day, Waldo Kelso, Fred McGrew, Vernon Sackett, accompanist—Miss Evelyn DeLong.

Salem Loses Out In Second Game With Moosjaw

Meager practice opportunities and contact with a well-trained club of players formed a basis for the 6 to zero defeat administered to the Salem Senators, Sunday, by the Moosjaw club. That the local boys held the visitors down to a half dozen runs demonstrates that they were "bucking the line" in dead earnest. Brown, local pitcher, showed well and while his support at times was disorganized, rallied through by striking out four of the Canadians.

Mike Miller made the best showing for the Senators, on plate work, being up five times, hitting for bases three, walked once, the fifth base coming to him on an error. This "perfect day" record was equaled by Blair of Moosjaw, who made three hits in this triple act with the willow, driving out a neat second bagger in the third inning.

One of the most noticeable errors was staged in the fifth inning when Proctor and Miller stood aside for a moment while Catcher Hayes hovered under a short foul popped by Danny Williams. Before the right hand division of the infield held returns to attention, Griffiths, who had been rooting in second, made a steal to third and soon after completed the run.

The game was well attended and the Senators received good support from the first throw. While the Moosjaw team won out by sheer playing ability, local fans are not backward in prophesying that two or three more games will see the local boys in good trim and able to even up the score.

Nick Williams and Manager Bishop are making plans for the continuation of the series, although Monday's showers have put Oxford park out of condition for the day.

In the Saturday game, the visitors secured first blood by the score of 12 to 3. Both games have disclosed good playing talent and local fans are anxious to see at least two more games of the series.

A View From the Journal Window

Strange as it may seem, the art of living is a matter not frequently cultivated by the average business man in a city like Salem. Competition and the all absorbing lust for gold too often create a demand for liver pills in this busy world, and the average merchant is forced to retire while young in years and before he has reached the achievements planned in the beginning of his business career.

It's the small country town merchant who has solved the problem after all. Calling at a country store not far from Salem a few days ago I found the door locked and a note pinned to a conspicuous panel on the barriade, "Come to dinner, back at 3 o'clock." It seems strange to one who has devoted his whole life to business matters, neglecting home, his comfort and happiness; but after all, the man who locks the door of his store or shop from thirty to two o'clock, so not to be disturbed by customers while he is having dinner with his family and a good time with the children, has solved the great problem of life in the art of living far better than the busy city merchant who leaves word with his clerks, "Go to lunch, back in five minutes."

O. A. C. Pigskin Artists Start Spring Practice

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Apr. 19.—A large group of men is turning out for football practice at the college daily. Coach Brewer Billie is putting the men through some light practice, as punting and charging. Most of the men are from this year's varsity and rook teams. Coach Billie is well pleased with the turnout, but thinks there are several men who are not in the football togs who should be. Many of the football men are going out for track and baseball and are not able to report for spring training.

Methodists Consider Union Of Divisions At May Conference

Des Moines, Iowa.—Proposals for a reunion of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South will be considered at the quadrennial conference of the former body to be held here beginning May 1. Hundreds of delegates from all parts of the United States and many from foreign countries, will attend this gathering of the supreme law-making body of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which includes not only the legislative but judicial and administrative branches of the church government.

Commissions from the conferences of this organization as well as the Methodist Episcopal Church South have approved plans for the reunion of these two great Methodist organizations and discussion of this project expected to be one of the chief questions to be decided.

It is expected that, as usual, some of the delegates will ask the church body to liberalize its attitude toward dancing and other amusements. Pronouncements will be made on education, temperance, capital and labor, morals, marriage and divorce, child labor, evangelism, immigration, evangelization and Christianization of the foreign element, world wide missionary operations and kindred subjects.

Lowly Mule Is Given Praise In Report on Army

Washington, April 19.—The patient, long suffering, hard working, and for enduring, sacrificing and dying come to his end in an appreciation from the quartermaster general.

The "Low down" on the army mule came today in an official publication. There were more than 45,000 of him engaged with the army overseas, and more than 100,000 with the troops in the United States and the army mule lived up to his established reputation for enduring, sacrificing and dying like a soldier.

They were not all American mules. Seven thousand came from England and 9000 came from France and another eleven thousand from Spain.

amount of grain and a few handfuls of hay. Under this strain the mule went forward, giving his all uncomplainingly.

The mule had always been given the credit of having his full quota of brains, but at times it seemed he had more than his share. He may run when hitched to a wagon, but invariably does no harm to himself or the wagon. When tired he makes his condition known by quitting. However this quality did not come to the fore during the days of St. Mihiel and in the Argonne.

Chemists Attack H. C. L. Problems At Eastern Meet

St. Louis, Mo.—Chemists have arrived from all over the United States for the spring meeting of the American Chemical society which opened here Monday and will continue six days for discussion of the new developments in chemistry and their effect upon virtually every important industry in the country.

How to increase production, save byproducts and lower the cost of living, however are the chief purposes of the sessions which are expected to be attended by 1500 or more chemical experts as well as technical advisers of large agricultural and manufacturing interests.

Among the subjects familiar to the laymen which are to be analyzed by these scientific explorers will be a report of experiments showing the nutritive value of the peanut; the use of lactic acid from sour milk in non-toxicating beverages as an appetizer and digestive substitute for alcoholic drinks; quicker and cheaper methods of manufacturing sugar and the establishments of standards of sweetness by the use of a new device known as a "saccharimeter"; utilization of corn-cobs for obtaining new dyes equal to those from coal tar; improved formulae and methods of handling rubber for automobile tires. It is stated that the call from manufacturers for the services of chemists in industry has so greatly increased since the beginning of the war that although the membership of the chemical society has grown to 15,000, there are still not enough chemists to meet the demand.

Gasoline Users At The Dalles Put On Ration System

The Dalles, Or., Apr. 19.—Local garages today were compelled to ration their gasoline by the gallon, and then only to their regular customers, due to the situation created by the switchmen's strike.

Several local garages have motor trucks of the precious fluid on their way from Portland, but these will be merely enough for necessary work around the garages as for out-of-town people, as then it will result in the excessive cost of from 40 to 45 cents a gallon, it is said.
