Parent-Teachers' Applaud School Aid At Liberty

Addresses on the proposed school millage measures which will be submitted to Oregon voters at the spring elections, were well received at the Liberty parent-teacher elects, Friday night, J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction, spoke in favor of the two mill tax for elementary schools, while state engineer, Percy A. Cupper, presented arguments supporting millage amendments for institutions of higher education.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, delivered a very interesting talk which might well have been entitled "Oriental manners and customs" using a sketch of her recent experiences in China. Other program features were enjoyed, especially a piano duet by the Misses Marion Parkhurst and Grace Hastings. The evening ended in a social time, there being suitable refreshments.

Murdered Woman Believed One of Huirt's 'Wives'

Spokane, Wash., Apr. 24.—What is regarded as additional proof that the body of a woman found in a shallow grave near Plum Station, Wash., last July was that of Miss Elizabeth Pryor, formerly of Helena, Mont., Wallace, Idaho, and Spokane, has been developed with the identification by a Wallace laundryman of a laundry mark found on the body as that used by Miss Pryor at Wallace, Idaho, it became known today.

Miss Pryor was married March 25, 1919, in Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, to a man giving his name as Milton Lewis, whose description is declared by her acquaintances here to tally with that of Richard Huirt, held at Los Angeles as a bigamy suspect.

Miss Pryor is declared to have been possessed of some $2000 worth of property, which it is stated she had accumulated out of her earnings as a waitress in the hope of buying a hotel.

War Mothers To Collect Clothes For Relief Work

Salem chapter of American War Mothers is making its own little campaign for funds to endow its ward in the new hospital. It has many projects in view that will not only add to their fund but will assist in solving the ever present problem of how to combat the J. C. L.

Chief among the plans of the organization is the making over of clothes for children, extra trousers for school boys, and articles of wearing apparel for the returned soldier, who is bravely trying to put himself through school on the $25 allotment, plus the little extra he is enabled to earn out of school hours and for whom the problem of clothes is a veritable nightmare.

The War Mothers have divided the city into districts and each week a new section will be canvassed. They will begin with the district lying between Mission street and the city limits on the south and from the Southern Pacific railroad to the river.

Anyone having any discarded clothes for which they have no use are asked to call 95 before Tuesday and they will be collected and taken to the Leslie Methodist church, where every Thursday the women will meet to sew and remodel there. The garments, when finished, will be sold for any price the purchaser is willing to pay, and the proceeds will go for the War Mothers ward of the hospital.

Articles particularly desired are women's light waists and dresses, boys and girls out grown suits and shoes, and men's discarded suits and shoes.

The company is also instituting an air-plane service between Astoria, Seaside, Seattle and Hood River about the same time.

Arrangements about the fares have not been made yet, Mr. Emery said. The Sea Gull plane has a capacity of about 50 miles an hour speed, but runs at an average of 75 miles an hour. It will take an average of 45 minutes to make the run from Portland, or from Salem to Portland. There is room for two passengers besides the pilot.

Forgery Charge Is Added To Complaint Against Local Lad

Jess Haisell, colored youth, who was arrested Friday on a charge of selling property which did not belong to him, found himself in real trouble Saturday morning when he was formally arrested by Sheriff Needham on a forgery charge of raising checks on a Penney chair-store at Bakersfield, California.

Haisell, according to his version as related to be made by him to the Marion county sheriff, was compelled by two men, "one black, one white" to raise a $5 check to $50, the two "bad men" each holding a gun on him and following him to the store where he was forced to cash the spurious paper. Then, according to his further narration, Haisell was compelled to write out another $50 voucher and to repeat the performance.

The two "desperadoes" then took the money thus obtained and forced Haisell to leave town. This all happened early in April and after many adventures he arrived in Seattle from San Francisco, having traveled by boat. Haisell states that he had planned on continuing his journey to Seattle, but met with another misadventure when another "bad man" hit him on the head and he came back to Salem.

Local authorities give very little credence to Haisell's narration and as soon as the first charge is cleared up, it is expected that extradition proceedings will be instituted in order to bring him under the jurisdiction of the Bakersfield authorities. Sheriff D. B. Newell of Kern county, California, telegraphed the information that brought the colored lad into additional trouble.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions plowing is proceeding near Cove in Union county. Many fruit areas are reported winter killed.

Joe Yee of Aurora has contracted to deliver his entire hop crop to a New York buyer at a stipulated price of 65 cents per pound.

Why Make A Will?

If you die without a Will your property will be distributed, not as you desire, but as the law specifies; as follows:

All of your real estate will go to your children—subject to your wife's right to the use of half of it during her life-time.

If your real estate is in the name of yourself and wife, all of it will go to your wife and none to the children.

Your money, notes, bonds, and all personal property will go one-half to your wife, and one-half to your children, to the exclusion of all other relatives, friends, and charities.

Is it not better business—and will you not be better satisfied to make a will and direct the distribution of your property to such relatives, friends, or charities as you may desire?

If you make no will, you will have no voice in designating who will settle your estate. The one designated by the law may be without business training and experience.

Our advice is to make a will and designate the Capital National Bank as your executor. You may then feel certain that every provision will be carried out in a business-like and impartial manner, by men who have the experience necessary to properly perform such a service.

If you have already made your will, and wish to name this Bank as your executor, or join this Bank with another as co-executor, it is a very simple matter to make the change.

Our fees are prescribed by law and are no larger than those for individual executors. Do not put off this important matter. See your attorney and attend to it—you will feel more content for having done so.

We keep wills in our safe without charge.

We also act as administrator, Guardian, Receiver and Trustee.
