A reward of $50 is offered for the capture of the stolen car, the factory number of which is 272427, motor No. 264088. No description of the fleeing pair is given except that Edwards is likely to be found in the company of drug peddlers or boot-leggers.

Pythian Workers "Back In Harness"

After a period of inactivity, the Pythian auxiliary of the Red Cross has re-organized and will engage in relief and welfare work. At a meeting called last Tuesday, by the chairman, Mrs. C. L. Parmenter, the first since the close of the war, it was decided to take up the charitable work and a long season of activity is planned.

A special meeting of the auxiliary will be held Tuesday in McCormick hall at 2 p. m. at which a final program will be mapped out. The organization which was extremely active during the late war expects to keep up its former record. Mrs. A. B. Gardner is secretary of the auxiliary. All Pythian sisters are urged to attend the gathering Tuesday.

Mrs. Ernest Lister has been appointed honorary vice chairman of the democratic-state committee.

Hundreds Parade New York Streets In Overalls Garb

New York, Apr. 24.—Thousands of New Yorkers protested against the high cost of clothing today by watching an overalls parade of hundreds.

The parade turned out to be in part a demonstration against prohibition. While clowns in blue denim and chorus girls in automobiles were also in the parade, hot pot lot in patched up trousers and plain overalls were in the majority.

Girls in gingham dresses were almost outnumbered by girls in overalls.

Members of the Cheese club, who introduced New York to the overalls mode, were a bit disappointed. Leading the parade behind mounted police they expected thousands of "clo" devotees to swing in behind them. When the movement failed to materialize at the start, they hoped that the parade would gather greater momentum when it reached the heart of Broadway.

Thousands went to Columbus Circle in old clothes for the start of the parade but preferred to be spectators.

Dodson To Talk At Monday Luncheon

"Oregon's Prosperity" shall be the topic of discussion by W. D. B. Dodson, executive secretary of the Portland chamber of commerce, when he talks before the business men's luncheon in the Commercial club Monday noon.

Mr. Dodson recently returned to Portland from the east where he made an extensive survey of business conditions there, and in his talk he is expected to compare conditions in this state with those east of the Mississippi river.

The luncheon will begin at noon sharp, and all business men are urged to attend. Following the talk by Mr. Dodson other subjects will be brought up for the general discussion of the business men.

Standard Oil Co. Makes Appeal To State Commission

The Standard Oil company has appealed from the decision of the city council here in refusing a franchise to construct a railroad spur across Turner road and along Leslie street to the public service commission. Notification of the hearing on the appeal next Thursday at 10 o'clock was received by City Recorder Race this morning from the public service commission.

The Standard Oil company explained to the council that it wished to have the spur constructed to enable trains to run to the company's plant. The council rejected the application on the grounds that by granting a franchise to the company it would block any improvement that might want to be made in that vicinity in the future.

Stockholders of the United States Dehydrating company have decided to operate the Walla Walla plant this year.
