According to word received by local post office officials, there are three pieces of counterfeit currency in circulation, and people are warned to be on the lookout for them. One is a $10 note on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It has a picture of President Jackson on its face. The $20 note has a picture of Cleveland, and the $50 one, a portrait of General Grant. All three have the forged signatures of Carter Glass and John Burke, and have pen and ink marks instead of silk thread.

The Woman's Relief Corps Aid Society met last week at the home of Mrs. N. C. Kafoury, 940 Union street. The regular social meeting was held at the close of which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Nellie Schramm, Miss Ada Smith, Mrs. Mary Estress and Miss Mary Shans.

The fender on an auto owned by E. E. Lavaleur, a local second hand dealer, was damaged when the machine was struck this morning by a truck owned by the Oregon State Hospital. The accident occurred at the intersection of State and 23d streets. Report of the accident was made to police by Mr. Lavaleur.

George Hartness, official photographer for the Oregon, Washington, Idaho Airplane company was a Salem visitor, Sunday Mr. Hartness made a tour of the blossom fields by plane, making several exposures of the flowery fields.

"She is my youngest passenger," said Captain Walter E. Lees, Sunday in referring to Orma Empey, three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Empey, 687 north Front street. With her parents, the wee miss sailed on the good ship "Sea Gull" and while she protested strenuously upon embarking on the hydroplane, the tears had vanished upon the return of the plane to terra firma. "A nice boat-wide" Orma stated.

According to word received in Salem David K. Spurgeon, formerly of this city, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hattie Montgomery, in Kansas City, Kansas, April 1. Mr. Spurgeon was for a number of years a resident of Oregon, making his home on his fruit farm a few miles west of Salem. He was well known in the city and held in high esteem by his neighbors and business acquaintances.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank all our kind neighbors and friends for their kindness and help during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Martha Walby.—A. Walby and family. 109

Martin Doerfler, of Silverton, was a business visitor in Salem Monday.
 Word has been received in Salem that John M. Walker, for many years an employe of the Wells Fargo company here, and later associated with the local offices of the Standard Oil company, is seriously ill in a sanitarium in Portland. Mr. Walker has recently been in charge of the Standard Oil station in Independence.

The first general recital of the public speaking department of Willamette University will be given as the third number of the Willamette lyceum course Tuesday night at 8 p. m. Short numbers will be given by various members of the department. The variety thus gained should make the program one of the most enjoyable of the series. Musical numbers will also be featured. The students taking part in this number as in the others have been coached by Professor Grville Crowder-Miller.

After serving for four years in the United States navy, Oliver Michaels son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Michaels, 1445 Saginaw street, has returned to his home in Salem. He is accompanied by his wife, a New York girl whom he met while on duty in that state. Mr. Michaels made four trans-Atlantic trips on the U. S. S. Huntington and was for nine months on the U. S. S. Quimbeaugh laying mines from Scapa Flow to Norway.

The funeral for Rev. J. D. Coon, who died in Woodburn Friday, will be held at the Free Methodist church, Winter and Market streets, at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Leg Mission cemetery, under the direction of Webb & Clough.

Report of a machine making its way east on Center street last night with a spike clamp on one of the wheels, was made to police by persons who believed the auto was stolen. A report of a stolen auto was made, so the police could not learn whether the machine was stolen.

An unknown man entered her place Saturday afternoon, stole a purse containing $7 and fled into the thicket east of her home, according to a statement made to police by Mrs. A. Zimmerman, residing on the Pacific Highway near Hayesville. Mrs. Zimmerman said that neighbors saw the fellow run after he left the house, but they could not get an accurate description of him.

Declaring that he overheard three boys plotting to steal an auto, Walter Buckner called police Saturday night, and an effort was made to frustrate the "job." Traffic Officer Moffitt answered the call but was unable to find any trace of the conspirators.

Theft of a pair of gloves and a crevice book from his auto as it stood parked on Court street, between 13th and 14th, was made to police Saturday night by L. Aldrich.

Boys stealing stray baseballs from Oxford park will be dealt with severely, Chief of Police Welsh said today in discussing the theft Sunday of several balls that came over the fence during the game. Chief Welsh went to the park and caught boys who had three of the balls in their possession.

Sunday School Meeting Is Set For This Evening

Those interested in the religious education of children are asked to meet with representatives of the Salem Sunday schools this evening, Monday, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the public library.
 Rev. John W. Hoyt who is the state superintendent of the International Association of Daily Vacation Bible Schools will demonstrate handwork drills, stories and generally outline the model school. The purpose of the school as expressed by its literature is to "use idle churches and idle students, and idle vacations to fit idle children for useful lives."

Foster To Talk On Non-Partisan League Tonight

Arthur C. Foster, resident of Clyde, North Dakota, center of non-partisan league activity in that state, will deliver a public lecture this evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Commercial club. Senator Walter Pierce of eastern Oregon will also talk.
 Mr. Foster, perhaps better acquainted with the political and economical time of the non-partisan league, will bare the plans of the organization and tell of the proximity of the wave of disruption that he league represents to this country. Mr. Foster will also bare his talk on the pending peril that confronts Oregon.

Harriet Talmadge Called By Death

Mrs. Harriet M. Talmadge, 51, wife of D. H. Talmadge, 1787 State street, died at the family residence at 10:30 p. m. Sunday. The funeral will be held at the chapel of the Riden & Son company at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, with burial following in City View cemetery.
 Besides her husband, Mrs. Talmadge is survived by one son, David, and one daughter, Mary, both of this city.

Grain Prices Soar And Speculation Goes To Normal

Chicago, April 26.—Extraordinary soaring of prices in the grain markets today was accompanied by a renewal of speculative purchasing on a large scale. Rye led the way with a steep rise of 10 cents a bushel. Corn followed with an ascent of 5 cents or more for all deliveries.
 Big export business of late in breadstuffs formed the basis of much of the buying and so too did continued unseasoned weather making farm work so difficult as to be an evident menace to production.

Waterless Fountain Riles Thirsty Ones In business Section

".....!-!-!-!-!-!-!" Yes year reader the foregoing is intended to represent euphoric remarks and fervent ejaculations (perhaps not audibly expressed.) The cause of the furor is found at the corner of Liberty and State street and is the fountain (?) originally placed there by the owners of the McGilchrist building.
 City Attorney Bert Macy has been receiving complaint and counter-complaint concerning the dearth of water at this city institution. While the fountain was installed by owners of the property, it was dedicated to the city in an agreement whereby it was to be maintained by the municipality. Mr. Macy is at a loss as to just what department of the city's government is responsible for the present neglected condition of the thirst quencher.
 Many times each day thirsty individuals pause at the fountain and make vain efforts to "pump" water from the drinking bubbles. The "bubbles" simply refuse to bubble, and that is all there is to it.

 Attorney Macy has asked the Journal to make this public appeal in order to awake the city fathers (or whoever is to blame) to the fact that the fountainless fountain is a bad advertisement for Salem and that it should either be removed or put into good order at once.
 Merchants and business men in the downtown district have also registered several complaints concerning the garbage containers at the intersection of State and Commercial streets and especially the "lamp post" can near Smith's cigar store. According to complaints received, paper and waste thrown into this container is very rarely cleared out, except by property owners themselves.
