Juniors Lead In Interclass Track Events To Date

With four events yet to be run off in the Willamette university interclass track meet, the juniors have a fairly safe lead, with 28 points to 26 for both sophomores and freshmen. Interest is high in the outcome of the contest for second place for points for the year's events are so close that this matter will decide it. If the sophomores take second, they are almost sure to win, as they are conceded first place in ten events. Otherwise the juniors will win out.

The events today are the two hurdle races, the 220 and the javelin throw, and the final outcome rests upon the contest of Irvine for the Sophs and Gansman for the Frosh in the hurdle races.

Competition was close in all the events, although the due to the short training period the records made were not particularly good. They were good enough to show that Willamette will have a fast track team this year.

The meet served in a large measure as a tryout for the varsity track team.

The most exciting event yesterday was the 440, in which Jackson overhauled Zeller in the last 20 yards and won by inches. Collins placed second in the mile, but was disqualified for being helped across the finish line after falling.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 the Willamette Bearcats will cross bats with the Chemawa Indians on the Chemawa field. Coach Mathews' men will lineup about as they did against O. A. C. with Irvine in the box. The Indians are a strong team and have always been a bitter rival of the Bearcats and a fast game will be the consequence. Friday the local college will play Pacific university on the home diamond.

Concert Program For Next Season Secured By Trio

The Ellison-White Lyceum circuit for the season 1920-1921 is assured to Salem as a result of a contract signed Monday with the concert research bureau, Floyd H. McIntyre, Leslie H. Springer, and Fredrick Aldrich are the new Salem representatives of the bureau. As far as can be ascertained, the contract involves the highest largest amount ever paid in a ten-year agreement for the purpose of bringing any allied program to this city.

Mr. Springer is connected with Hauser Bros., while Messrs. McIntyre and Aldrich are members of the Junior class at Willamette, all three young men being well known in this city.

The tentative program as completed at the present is as follows:
October, 1920, the Lawrence-Little Symphony; November, 1920, Albert Lindquist, tenor. Lindquist is the highest priced number on the schedule and since his premier appearance recently at Chicago has been recognized as one of the stellar voices of the century; December, 1920, Dr. Stolon, whose lecture, "The World of Today," has aroused much friendly and cordial criticism in America and throughout the British Isles. Dr. Stanton is a member of the British parliament and has secured special leave in undertaking this lecture tour.

In January, 1921, the De Mille Quartette, which the Ellison-White bureau claims is highest priced group of artists on any circuit, will come to Salem. The last number is listed, "Dr. Cope, lecturer and humorist."

"We believe in Salem and we believe that the higher quality of artistic representation by this series "will warrant Salem's best response," stated Mr. Springer in announcing the acquisition of the lyceum numbers.

Smith Praises Oregon's Part In Aviation Game

"Oregon has done more towards promoting aviation activities than any state in the union," declares Major Albert D. Smith of the army air service, in a letter to Governor O'Leary who has enjoyed a number of flights in company with the major during his sojourn in this state as a member of the air service forest patrol last summer.

Major Smith gained considerable notoriety in his record air flight from Tacoma, Wash., to San Diego, California. He is now in the Letterman hospital at San Francisco recuperating and awaiting the healing of a broken leg, but hopes to participate in the air circus to be staged at Eugene, Or., about May 10.

"I want to get back to Oregon so badly I can almost taste it and I have planned big on being connected with the patrols again this season but I am not so certain we are going to have squadrons enough to do the work," Smith writes.

"I know and everyone knows that you have gone to the bat every turn to get more planes, and, believe me governor, we appreciate it too," he declares relative to Governor O'Leary's activities on the Pacific coast.

"No need my repeating that I am strong for your people up there, so anything or time I can assist in any movement you shall find me ready and happy," he concludes.

Pierce Pictures Recent Sessions Burning Disgrace

"Our legislature has been a disgrace a burning disgrace. I have never witnessed a crazier night than the last one in our legislature when bills were shoved through without their even having been read, and senators sat there laughing and joking about it."

Thus Senator Walter M. Pierce, from eastern Oregon, characterized the dilemma of haste in the recent special session of legislature in a talk made last night in the Commercial club. Senator Pierce pointed to the aforementioned as one of the causes that breed unrest and treason in the country, and the main causes that force people to clamor for a more steady hand at the helm of the government. He made a strong plea for true Americanism as it was felt by the sturdy men who founded the nation; and vehemently flayed all practices and agitators that tend to undermine the serenity of the country.

Senator Pierce talked following Arthur C. Foster, a former farmer from North Dakota who told of the activities of the non-partisan league in that state and of the slow, insidious spread of the revolutionary doctrines of the organization through the west. Foster said that there are 2700 members of the organization, cloaked in the title, Triple Alliance, in Washington who are dedicated to the overthrow of the present system of economics in the country. He referred to the recently formed political party in this state as another movement of the non-partisan league here, and warned against its spread.

Prices Of Yellow Fir Logs Soar; Wages Cause Rise

Portland, Or., April 27.—Individual firms will increase the price of yellow fir logs produced in the Columbia river district, effective May 1, it became known here today. Several operators admitted that an increase would become effective on that date, but all said that it was not a concerted movement.

The new scale, it is said, will be $18, without change for No. 1 logs, and $25 and $26, compared with $24 and $36 for No. 2 and No. 3 logs. It was said that it was questionable whether the advance in the prices in logs would be reflected in a higher level of lumber prices. According to representative logging men here, there has been a differential of prices in this district compared with prices prevailing in the Grays Harbor and Puget Sound districts, and an equalization is said to be the purpose of the rise which became known today. Increases in wage scales, effective April 1, are said to have actuated the advance.
