Woodburn Plans To Pave Street To Main Highway

Woodburn, Or., Apr. 29.—A petition is being circulated, it is said, with a view of paving Lincoln and some other prominent streets in the city. Lincoln street is more than a mile long and ends with the connection at the Pacific Highway. Some of the property owners on the street, however, declare that they will offer a remembrance if the improvement is undertaken and it is not certain just how far the street improvement question will be carried. If this and the other streets in the city mentioned are paved Woodburn will have more hard surface streets than any town in the county outside of Salem.

Former Preacher Made Police Head Starts Clean-Up

Woodburn, Or., Apr. 29.—Fred W. Snyder, former member of the Oregon Methodist conference and pastor at Molalla, has been appointed chief of police in this city. He was supposed to take hold of the peace-making program in Woodburn May 1st, but as the city was in need of an officer immediately he commenced work as soon as his appointment was made. Mr. Snyder was formerly a member of the state police force, and he became an efficient in enforcing the traffic law on the paved portion of the Pacific highway during his term of office that it seemed quite natural to act in the same capacity in Woodburn. His first duty, it is said, was to see that the city laws are complied with in the matter of parking cars. His orders in this matter, however, did not seem to appeal to the business men, according to reports and a committee of merchants called upon the mayor and asked for relief in the traffic reform movement. Fred intends to clean up the old town if he continues to hold office.

Vanderlich Farm Near Gervais Sold

Gervais, Or., Apr. 29.—Joseph R. Vanderlich's farm located near here, which is a portion of the Miller estate, was sold yesterday to George Andres, who will take possession at once. This is one of the best farms in this locality and the purchaser considers himself fortunate in securing the valuable property.

Sam H. Brown, the fruit king, was in Portland on business yesterday. Frank Adelman, who lives just south of the city limits, is remodeling his house.

Work in the several berry yards here has commenced and the industry is starting out very encouragingly. The few days of sunshine seemed to put new life in the vines and hope in the growers.

Annual May Day Fete At Normal Not To Be Held

Monmouth, April 25.—The normal students sometime ago voted to give up their traditional May day festivities this year, owing chiefly to the proximity of the day to both Junior and Senior class days. Therefore the only attraction at the chapel on May day will be a picture show at 8:15. The picture, however, is an attractive one, entitled "Heart of the Hills."
